The Story Thus Far

It probably feels like something of a rip off. A sham. You signed on for an adventure, so why oh why do you keep ending up back on Earth? And why is it always Japan? At first glance, this place seems just like so many other worlds, bland and unordinary. But, maybe as you walk down the road one day you'll see something... odd. A man passed out on a bench, and a woman feeling herself up next to him. Or maybe in the back of the classroom, a normally quiet girl will suddenly freak out, a half choked scream going unnoticed even as she panics. If you look closely, you'll see her recover - and if you know her well, you might realize she's acting totally different. Like someone else entirely.

I hesitate to say that you will have found the plot, but this thing that often hides just out of sight, just under the surface, is what makes this world special. If I were to put it pithily, this place is haunted. Spirits who refused to pass on, seemingly random people whose souls were ripped from their body, perhaps the odd alien or unusual lifeform who can only survive inside a host. In short, the thing that makes this world special is possession. The act of taking over another's body.

And now you’re in on this secret. If you search for it, you might find a shady website selling unusual things. Or perhaps you’ll be ‘nearly’ run down by a truck, only to see your own body laying on the ground. Now you’re part of this world, this grand scam where ordinary folk are preyed upon by thrill seekers and perverts searching for things they’d never dare to do… if they were still themselves. Fortunately, this is someone else's life they’re in danger of ruining, so who cares? You? Oh right, you. You’ll be spending a nice and neat decade in this world. Go ahead and take these, you’ll need them for your time here.

Perks

100 cp - Good Girl With A Good Life
The world isn't entirely a fair place. In theory, as long as you put in the appropriate effort you'll be rewarded, but sometimes you also need to know a guy in order to get the job you've been looking for. So let me give you a leg up on things by making it so that you were pretty close to being a straight A student in high school. Maybe you brought home a couple of B's, but mostly A's. This naturally comes with a certain level of work ethic, raw intelligence, and let's call it a hobby of your choice. Schools these days really like it when you're in a club after all. Flower arranging? Tea ceremony? Perhaps sewing and embroidery? You could use that to make your own cosplay! While this is free choice, I do recommend that - it'll be weirdly important later.

100 cp - A Man With Lackluster Vibes
On the flip side of the coin, we have those that AREN'T poised to get ahead in life. The coasters, the unambitious, the weirdos, I could go on and on. The people who played games or watched porn when they should have been studying. Strictly speaking this is a bad thing, but at the same time, it's not like you learned nothing. Just the wrong things. You can sing a bunch of anime songs, can probably speak two languages from learning said songs, and are a skilled gamer. You can also put out a sort of aura that makes people overlook you more or less at will, as through deflecting being voluntold for any boring tasks through sheer force of will. It's also surprisingly good for perving out in public, because the hot chicks you're staring at rarely bother to look at you.

100 cp - She's Just Kouhaicoded
Hey, so, remember when I mentioned cosplay? That's gonna keep happening, and from more people than just me. Why? Because you're nearly a dead ringer for a specific character from gaming or anime of your choice. Perhaps, like a certain brainwashed minion, you just have a vague resemblance to everyone's favorite eggplant and put out the same vibes. This resemblance of yours would make cosplaying as that character an absolute cinch! It can be tough at times though, as it will also make people who are into that character and think she's their waifu be into you as well. Have fun with that!

100 cp - Nothing To See Here Citizen
Imagine this, if you would. You're walking down the street, and a woman suddenly yelps and all but keels over, breathing jerkily and possibly even breaking out into tears. Do you stop to help her? If you do, you're the only one. Isn't Japanese politeness - ie ignoring the problem and hoping no one thinks it's your fault, such a great thing? Anyways, whenever it's convenient for you, you'll find more and more people acting like this. If you were to, say, get your hands on some kind of power to possess people and tried to grab a woman in broad daylight, you'd probably get away with it because everyone would just assume she ate something bad for lunch or the like.

100 cp - Those Aren't My Nerves You're Getting On
If you don't mind me continuing to talk about purely theoretical things that could happen if you had the power to possess people, don't you think that having a new set of nerves would be a bit strange? Just imagine someone with a deadened sense of touch or smell going into a new body. They'd be overwhelmed by sensation! Hopefully that won't happen to you. Or maybe, hopefully it will. That extra sensation will make masturbating very fun after all. Which is why you always seem to get more and better sensation from others bodies than your own. Something in the vicinity of two or three times more pleasure? It's very fun, trust me.

200 cp - That Girl's Got Bounce And Boing
Grades are good, but honestly there's just something to be said for being beautiful. Take good care of yourself, wear something that shows just a bit of skin, and you could beat out a competitor who was more qualified for the position you want solely because they want your massive tits hanging around the office. Which, by the way, if you're a woman then you've got massive tits now, because you're beautiful, hot, handsome, cute, stunning, whatever turn of phrase you think is appropriate. You're good looking and you've got plenty to flaunt, so don't be afraid to strut your stuff.

200 cp - Hot Damn That's Damn Hot
Tell me, if a man possesses a woman and then has sex with another woman, is that straight, because they're a man - or gay, because they're a woman? The answer is who cares, because from an outside perspective it looks like two women making out and that's always hot. The end result of this is that you'll find that dubious questions of morality and sexuality tend to get sidestepped quite a bit when you're involved. Possession is somewhat inherently a confusion mess once you go into those details after all. On a similar note, you'll also find the issue of 'wait, possession exists' to be somewhat sidelined as well - people might not take you at face value without at least some kind of demonstration, but once they acknowledge that it's real they'll start planning what to do with it, not having some kind of breakdown.

200 cp - Hello Yes I Am Real Woman
Cosplay this, cosplay that. The outfit is only half of the battle. The other half? Acting. The best cosplayers don't just look like their characters. They can behave like them too. You are exceptionally talented at taking on the role of someone different. Getting into character is quick and easy, a smooth transition that can honestly be disconcerting to see from the outside. Of course, the benefits of this go beyond showing off to nerdy fans. Being a good actor can go great lengths in avoiding suspicion, if you were to say, hypothetically, have possessed a stranger and not yet had the chance to read their memories. Presenting yourself as seemingly trustworthy to those around you, and particularly your targets, has all but become second nature to you by now.

200 cp - Eye Spy With Your Eyes
It's a wide, wide world out there, and there are all sorts of people living their lives. With so much choice in front of you, the trick is to find those handful of people that you desire. Now some might call this 'stalking'. You prefer to think of it as… 'checking out future investments'. To cut a long story short, you have something of a knack for finding people that would interest you specifically, and a talent for finding out details about their life such as what their name is, where they live, who their family is, who they hang out with… you know. Normal things like that.

200 cp - Secret Keeper
Some secrets are not to be shared. Some are so outlandish that even sharing them means nothing. Do you think the police are really going to take you seriously if you report a person who is giving 'vibes like they're possessed by a ghost'? How exactly do you think possessors have remained unknown all this time? Yours are secrets that remain secret. Even if someone were to manage to find out some dark fact that you are hiding from the world, they are unlikely to attempt to spread it, whether that be for fear of retribution or thinking no-one would believe them. Those that do try to spread this secret would find it gaining little ground, most people dismissing it as fantasy or lies. It is certainly not something that would make it to any reputable newspapers.

400 cp - Manifestation Of Desire
What started as a simple interest has long since developed into a true blue love for the concept of possession. This great yearning for that which cannot be obtained has had a profound effect on you. More specifically your soul. You have taken half a step towards becoming a natural possessor. You haven't quite made that transition, but even this transitory state has blessed you with an interesting ability. You have manifested one of two possible abilities; the ability to mess with people’s memories, altering or consuming them for your own, or the ability to physically interact with someone else's soul, whether that be a spectral spirit or outright ripping the soul from a living body. In either case, you have also gained something of a sixth sense for other possessors and those who would have the potential for it.

400 cp - Hold On Bro, She's Resisting
The soul is a complex thing. It is not something one should so casually mess around with. Your own soul is unusually strong. In day to day this would mean very little to you. You might have a more firm will, or be a bit more brave, but otherwise there is no functional difference. The real value of this only reveals itself in the event of someone else trying to subsume your consciousness. A hunter that usually preys on rabbits has suddenly found itself locked in a room with a bear. People trying to possess you will find it an exceptionally difficult affair to take control of your body. The usual outcome is a merger where your personality comes out on top, and that's if the possession even succeeds in the first place.

400 cp - Leading Idol
Cosplayers are great and all, but you know who is a step above them? Idols. A cosplayer just needs a good body and a good costume. An idol? They need that and more. Singing, dancing, performing, interpersonal skills, all are needed for a successful idol. And a successful idol you are. Very successful in fact. Maybe not world famous, but famous enough that your face is on billboards in major cities and on busy intersections. You've accrued quite the sizable following, all eager to hear your great singing voice and watch you dance on stage. Just keep an eye out. Idols don't tend to remain 'themselves' very long these days. Especially the more famous ones.

400 cp - Like Riding A Bike
They say that the more languages you learn, the easier it is to pick up new ones. As it turns out, the human body is similar. The more of them you know, the easier it is for you to learn about new ones. If you are a possessor, you are likely going to end up in a whole lot of different bodies. Each is slightly different, with different sensations and different sensitive spots. After experiencing enough of them, you've developed something of a skill when it comes to quickly finding out exactly how to stimulate all the right places on a new body to maximize its pleasure. You're good enough that you don't even need to be in the body to know exactly how to make it putty in your hands. Needless to say that any woman you lay with is going to be in for the time of her life.

600 cp - I Died And All I Got Was This Shirt
You died. Rest in peace. But for whatever reason, your soul didn't pass on to the great beyond. Your spirit lingers on in the mortal world of the living. As you are quick to find out, there are some quite nice perks to being dead. Voyeurism aside, you have found out that as an ethereal ghost, you now have access to some quite neat ghostly powers. The most prominent one of these is your ability to enter the bodies of other people and possess them. But that is just the basics. As a ghost, you have access to abilities that the scientific method of possession cannot yet replicate. You are capable of splitting your soul and possessing multiple people at the same time. You can also remove someone's soul and absorb it to fully become them in body AND soul. Finally, you can leave fragments of your soul in people to taint them in your colour, which has the side benefit of letting you know if anyone else possesses them and prevents them from reading the memories of their newly stolen body. This flagrant disregard for the state of your own soul appears to have no negative consequences for you whatsoever.

600 cp - A Slimy Fate
You may think a ghost possessing people is supernatural enough as is, but there are things in this world even weirder than that. You are no disembodied spirit. You are a brightly coloured slime. As a slime, your abilities are similar yet different from that of a ghost. You are able to forcibly enter a person's body via any orifice in order to take control of them. Once inside, you are able to absorb, copy, and freely alter the body of your host. Your host isn't quite to your satisfaction? Naught but a few seconds to change. You have their template in your head now, so you can easily revert any changes you want at any time. No need to worry about ruining the goods. Get a few different templates and you can start to mix and match. If you choose to fully assimilate your host, even after leaving their body all that is left will be an autonomous puppet. There is no merciful release for your victims.

600 cp - This Is More Than Mere Cosplay
Possession is spread all throughout this world, hidden from sight. But who mandated that all possession had to be bad for their host? You have been possessed by a ghost. But not just any ghost. You have been possessed by the spirit of a heroic figure of ages past, and been granted a measure of the power they had in life. In the words of Chaldea, you are now a Demi-Servant. To a degree, the personality of whichever hero has inhabited you has affected your own one, but your own consciousness remains the dominant one. You can choose which specific heroic spirit has bonded with you, though keep in mind that your own body is likely to undergo some changes to match.

600 cp - Supernatural Science
Possession isn't just an art, it's a science. A very complex, very obscure science, but science nonetheless. The field has made enough progress that products can be made at commercially viable prices. It may be time for you to put on your lab coat and goggles, because you have managed to get scouted by a professor who originally worked on the project. To the outside world you did some weird degree in biology. In truth, you were studying the science behind the human body, its connection to the soul, and how they both relate to human consciousness. In other words, the science of possession. What wonders might you create with this new found knowledge?

Items

100 cp - Hovel Is Where The Horny Is
Let's start with the absolute basics. You need somewhere to live, right? Or maybe just somewhere to hide all the things you don't want your family to know about. Luckily for you this place is available for rent - and very cheaply too. Whether its all you can afford or just a place to store things, it's... well, it's a place to live if you have no other choice. Oh, and don't worry about the actual rent. I'll handle that. Just remember to keep it at least somewhat clean, or it will turn into a pigsty faster than you think.

100 cp - Closet Full of Armor
And by armor I mean cute outfits! A girl's self confidence is her armor against the world, so by having a lot of cute clothes you can protect your heart from meanies. Also included in here are various self care things, like high quality soaps and shampoos alongside a fairly large makeup kit. You'll never run out of those products either, so don't skimp on moisturizing! Similarly, while there's enough clothes here to wear a new outfit every day for an entire month, you'll still find new outfits randomly popping up every now and then.

100 cp - Amusing Time Wasters
Seeing girls in cute outfits is near and dear to many a perverts heart, but how do you decide which outfit you want to see them in? Well, you could always have them dress up as your anime waifus. To help with that, you have these. A small collection of videogames with plenty of cute girls. Blue Archive and Fate Grand Order, amongst others. This also comes with a small budget, either to buy new games or to spend on the gacha in order to roll the summer version of your waifu.

100 cp - Plenty of Spending Money
When you're first getting into a hobby, it can be a bit scary. Not only do you not know if you'll like it or not but you have to spend quite a bit of money to get fully set up. And if you do end up hating it, what then? Or what if you love it, but you're just genuinely terrible? Well, luckily for you, this isn't your money. Maybe it's from your parents or from some sort of trust fund but you now have a fairly large chunk of money burning a hole in your pocket each month. The exact amount is a bit variable - if you skimp and save, it'll get you through the month even if you don't have a job, or you can buy one bigger thing, like a new game system or a high quality cosplay outfit.

200 cp - Making Sexy Memories
Girls getting mind controlled into becoming cosplayers is a surprisingly common thing in this world. Obviously this is great for eye candy, but would you believe it was also surprisingly good for the economy? Anyways, that's my excuse for giving you a very high quality camera and accessories - as Comiket and other conventions get more and more popular, obviously they need more and more photographers as well. This camera has infinite storage space for pictures and videos, so you don't need to worry about running out of space. And, optionally, you can get the occasional call from someone who needs a professional photographer if you want to get paid for perving on girls.

200 cp - Featuring Cute Girls From Hit Series
You want to be a cosplayer, right? No? One sec, let me ‘convince’ you. ...And there we go. So you want to be a cosplayer, right? Right. That's why you went out and acquired these. You now have a small collection of cosplay outfits, based on what you think are the coolest, hottest, or just cutest girls from gaming and other media. These outfits are remarkably high quality, and can take some serious abuse - read as, you could cover them in cum and other fluids and they'll be fine afterwards or have them ripped off your body - and they'll be entirely fine afterwards. This included wigs or hair dyes and other supplies to get all the minor details just right. When you want more, just call this provided number and more will show up in a day or two.

200 cp - Rest Your Weary Head
Alright, let's get you somewhere to stay that isn't garbage. This midsized apartment is a far more comfortable place to live. It's not quite large enough to say that a family of four could live here, but it wouldn't be a bad place for one to start off in. For you, that just means it has an extra room that you can either share with a roommate or devote to a hobby, like a room entirely for gaming or for your cosplay. Once again, the bills are all paid for - and yes, this includes food magically appearing in the cupboards. That should leave you with plenty of time to focus on school, young lady! Or partying, definitely one of the two.

200 cp - The Sexy Memories You Made
Please forgive that pun, I just had to make it. Anyways, this is... Well, let's call it your self care package. A few oils and lotions, a handful of sex toys, perhaps a few extremely risque outfits that get your heart beating just from looking at, let alone wearing. Additionally, there's a thumb drive with a fairly large amount of porn on it - some of it is just from whatever is popular these days, but a much larger section is devoted to pictures of yourself - or rather, of all the girls that you possessed previously. In theory you could use this to blackmail them, but honestly, why would you? The last thing of value here is a handful of passwords - if for some reason you lack the ability to maintain your grip on a girl once you stop possessing her, you’ll find that you retain access to a number of her accounts, which can be used to find her again later if you want to go for round two.

400 cp - A Story About Me, Myself, And "I"
Hello, hello, hello. During your time as a possessor, you've had your fill of many girls. And you probably have a couple of favorites as well, the girls you used multiple times or tried to keep somehow. That's what this is. A small handful of girls, about eight of them, that you just adore the bodies of. Maybe they remind you of a certain character and they're perfect for roleplay as a result. Or maybe they just have fat fucking titties, like holy shit they're so sensitive. Either way, you used them so much that you stained their soul with part of yours. The end result is that they're fully aware you controlled them, and they think it's hot as fuck. Even when not connected, they consider your health, your likes, to be equal in priority to their own. In short, while they still probably want to get good grades and live a normal life, they'll also happily help you hunt down more girls.

400 cp - Spreading Legs, Spreading Influence
Oh ho, it would seem that you're no ordinary girl. No, you've transcended past ordinary cuteness and become something else. An idol! Or, something like it, at least. You now have connections to the marketing industry, and you probably also have a hundred thousand or so followers on social websites - which means that you could have a great career in advertising. A cute girl, using a new product? Must be a good one then. As a result of this, you'll receive a fairly steady supply of essentially random goods for you to put in the background of the videos of yourself you post, or to use and later praise on camera. A pretty enough face can launch a ship, you know? So it's fairly easy for you to ship a product, as long as you have a big enough lack of pride.

400 cp - Cameras Are The Telescope To The Soul
Smile for the camera! One, two, three, possession complete. While this may at first look like an ordinary camera, it actually has a very special piece of software downloaded into it, granting it an extra filter known as 'multi mode'. When its active and you take a picture, it sends small fragments of your soul out and into everyone in focus on the camera. It's closer to a mind control device, as the women often abruptly lose a great deal of their morals and are willing to take ever lewder photographs, but strictly speaking the animating force in their sudden agreeableness is you. This 'possession' lasts for 12 hours, and as a safety feature can only be used twice in a day, or on more than three people at a time. Any more than that and you may find yourself with not enough soul to animate your actual body.

400 cp - The Standards Of Good Breeding
They say enough money forgives all sins, so let's make it so that you never have to work a day in your life. You're from a rich family. You have a weekly allowance measured in multiple poorer families monthly income. You either have an entire decently sized house to your name, or more likely a fairly large apartment in a very convenient location. Probably with gated access and a pool, jacuzzi, and sauna. A place that has the entire works, you know? Hell, it might even have maid service. On top of that, any item below this one in price is now enhanced as well. You don't just have a lot of clothes, you have enough to fill an entire store. You don’t just have some videogames, you have the limited edition, signed by the developers version, with all side material. You don't have some sex toys, you have enough to throw an orgy with. You get the idea, right?

600 cp - Ethereal Body Medicine
Perhaps the most ‘pedestrian’ of the ways one can achieve possession, but one with a substantial market. This briefcase is chock full of dozens of inconspicuous vials of blue liquid. All you have to do is drink one of them and the connection between your soul and your body will loosen. Not enough that you’ll die or anything that major, but enough that with a bit of concentration you can willingly make your soul leave your body. From there, it is a simple matter of finding your desired target and entering their body. It isn’t an instant process, nor is it seamless, so expect them to gasp, shout, and collapse as they feel something entering their body. But once in control, you have full control while their own consciousness goes to sleep. This drug isn’t quite as potent as being a fully fledged spirit, so unfortunately you can’t mess with the memories or personality of your host. What you can do, however, is read their memories and manually amplify their sensitivity. What this option lacks in versatility, it makes up for in numbers. Because this briefcase means that you can invite your friends to have some fun too. The more the merrier, after all.

600 cp - Comi-cute Comiket
If only there was some place that thousands of people would gather. Some place where people dress up in sexy, shapely, and fictitious outfits. Where people act differently than they would in everyday life. Where people would not only not hide their body but go out of their way to show it off. Welcome to comiket! You have managed, by means unknown, to come into ownership and authority of a substantially sized comiket convention building. Naturally that means that not only can you decide when to run them, but also what kind of booths are placed within and the layout of the event. While a bit presumptuous, you might even be able to announce suggested ‘themes’ for those participating! Why look for targets when you can have them all come to you?

600 cp - A Shady Website
Supernatural entities aside, the possession drugs and slime medicines don’t just spring up out of nowhere. They have a source. A supplier. This obscure little website is exactly that source. Who runs the website is entirely a mystery, as is how they have managed to remain completely under the radar for so long. But it cannot be denied that the goods they supply are genuine, and genuinely affordable. This online shop sells one thing and one thing only: possession paraphernalia. Ghost medicine, personality rewriting camera’s, slimy drugs, all are on offer. The more exotic options cost a pretty penny, but the most mundane of drugs are cheap enough that the average worker can buy it for a laugh. Purchasing multiple different types of drug doesn’t particularly give you any advantage other than just giving you a bit more variety in the method of possession.

600 cp - Private Prestigious University For Girls
What better gathering place could there be for prospective possession targets than a large, famous, and very well regarded university where thousands of rich and successful women gather? Many women would jump at the chance to enter this university if given the choice. The facilities are high end, the teaching top tier, and the buildings immaculate. The only trade off? A few of the students may start behaving a bit ‘different’ after they start. Probably nothing, just a natural change of them being in a new environment. They’re just enjoying the next step in their life. Despite this university's darker real purpose, it truly does function as a perfectly good and legitimate place of learning. Why ruin the lives you are about to take-over, after all?

Companions

100 cp / 300 cp - Possession Party
A time honoured tradition for possessors. The possession party. An event where multiple possessors all find a target and meet up for a party in their new bodies. Why not join in the fun? If you want, you can choose to import some of your existing companions into this jump, where they gain 600 cp to spend as they wish on the document above. For 100 cp you can import one companion. For 200 cp you can import four. And finally for 300 cp you can import a full eight.

100 cp - Takeout For Me Too
Limited as the cast of these stories are, and short as it is we get to see them, there is no denying that the people we see in these tales are very attractive and potentially quite interesting. Why should some faceless ghoul get to have all the fun? If you want, and manage to ‘convince’ them, you can choose to take one of the existing characters with you as a companion. After the events of this story they might well leap at the chance to get away and gain some real control over their lives. That is, if you haven’t ‘persuaded’ them with other methods. Or maybe you want to take a more ‘changeable’ friend with you. One who is up for a good time and willing to share that with others.

100 cp - Super Girlfriend
Some people are just unfairly lucky. It's not enough that you have managed to snag a supermodel tier girlfriend with a body that could launch a thousand ships. No, not only is she one of the most attractive women you've had the fortune of meeting, but she also happens to have a quite strong possession kink which happens to play into a willingness to accommodate your own kinks. With long hair that falls past her shoulders, a preference for soft, puffy, but form-fitting clothes, and a particular fondness for hugs and being touchy in general, she is what many people would consider the perfect girlfriend. Just be careful, because all these traits also make her a prime target for possession. Just keep an eye out for the day her possession play seems a bit too real.

100 cp - Witness Protection
Not every possessor can keep an iron grip on their victims. This unfortunate woman has had the misfortune of being targeted by two separate possessors. The first was by a guy looking for a fun time. She woke up the next day with no memory of the lost time and a much emptier bank account. This happened on and off for a few more months until she began to develop a resistance to the process. This became very useful when she was then targeted by a relatively new slime possessor. Her resistance gave her the window to escape her predicament, but not before her body had already been altered by the slime to look like their fictional 'waifu'. Following these events she has made a vow to track down and destroy the organisation creating these possessors. It is unclear if it was of her own will that led to her buying a skintight black bodysuit to go with her guns

100 cp - Ultimate Wingman
It is the sacred duty of the wingman to help their bro get with a woman (or man). What better wingman could you ask for than someone who can quite literally possess the woman you want to chat up? This guy takes their duty as a wingman quite seriously, always looking for new people to hook you up with. Or maybe they've just become addicted to the pleasures of the female body. If you ever show interest in a woman, it won't take long for your friend to vanish and shortly after for that woman to come walking up to you with a familiar mischievous grin.

100 cp - Princess… Peach?
There are many girls who have been forced to love cosplaying in this world. This girl? She isn't one of them. But she does really love to cosplay. Her main quirk, however, is her quite strange fixation on that of Princess Peach. Just about every costume she has is some spin on Princess Peach's ensemble. That means OG Peach, racing kart Peach, Bowsette, Booette, Marioette. You name it, she has it. The less said about the state, and colour, of her bedroom, the better. Her love of it is sufficient that she's entirely willing to walk down the road wearing it, no prompting needed. You've had a check and it doesn't seem like this is some weird suggestion implanted by a possessor. This is 100% natural. Homegrown, one could say. At least she can pull it off quite well? She has the figure for it certainly, and her natural long blonde hair is the perfect shade and length to pull it off. She probably wouldn't even question it too much if she blacked out and found her closet packed with even more Peach cosplays.

100 cp - Lonely Veteran
Despite the sheer interpersonality of possession, it can be lonely at times. At least, that is what this particular possessor has found. She's been doing it for years now, and the novelty has slightly lost its shine. She realised what she really wants? A friend. Someone who she can share the fun with, someone she can properly bond with. She's set her sights on you. You, she has decided, are the one who will become her bond. She introduced herself in the most bizarre way possible, standing on a balcony with one hand squeezing her chest. She has proclaimed herself your mentor! It is her mission to teach you the ins and outs of possession. It's every intricacy. She will make sure you know how to harness possession to the very peak of its potential. And once she has done that? That is when the real fun can begin.

100 cp - Super Idol Star ~☆!
What is the best target aside from a sexy cosplayer? A sexy super model idol, obviously! There are always some new up and coming idols in the industry, and you've managed to become well acquainted with one of them. She's pretty, perky, full of youthful energy and charm, and has a surprising amount of talent for the singing side of things on top of it. Part of her charm lies in just how genuine and genuinely innocent she is. Her career is only just starting, but she definitely has the potential and drive to go far in the industry if given a chance to prove herself. She met you on her way to her very first audition and the support you gave her at that time has stuck with her. What started out as a chance meeting ended up growing into a strong friendship, and perhaps the possibility of more.

Drawbacks

+100 cp - Hollow Eyes
Possession is not always a perfect process. Inferior products and inexperienced possessors can lead to there being a couple of tell-tale signs that those with a keen eye and knowledge of the phenomenon can catch. The most noticeable of these is 'Hollow Eyes'. In these cases your eyes stay 'hollow' during possession, with a slight glow to the inner iris. Most people would miss it. But only most. For some reason, you can never seem to quite shake off those little quirks. It doesn't matter how you do it or how skilled you get. There is always some little sign that seems to give you away to those in the know.

+100 cp - Cockblocked By COVID
Pandemics suck. For many reasons. Even if you are lucky enough to avoid being infected by the virus, everyone ends up being forced to stay inside or covering their faces outside. Not only is this quite restrictive for your own freedom of movement, it makes finding good targets for possession exceedingly hard to find. You'd practically have to go house to house trying to find them. And good luck trying to do anything with those bodies once inside them. Annoyingly you have started this jump right at the start of the pandemic. That means several years of social distancing, face masks, and staying inside are ahead of you. Ugh. Boring.

+100 cp - Taste For Cosplay
At some point in the past, it would appear that you ended up being influenced by a random possessor while out and about. They didn't mess up your life too badly. But remember that talk earlier about how being mind controlled into liking cosplay is surprisingly common here? Yeah, that's happened to you too, I'm afraid. You've been hit with the cosplay beam. It's nothing particularly major, certainly not life-changing, but you are constantly filled with the inexplicable urge to go out in public while wearing cosplay clothing of some kind. Naturally this also tends to make you a more appealing target for other possessors.

+100 cp - Uggo's Go Die
Look, it's a sad truth but cute is justice. The world is unfair and cruel, and few know that better than those lacking the blessing of good looks. Your life just isn't going well. You didn't get great grades at school, you aren't attractive enough to score with the girl you liked, and you've failed over a dozen job interviews in the last week alone. Whatever the specifics are, your life is the opposite of ideal. In fact you would very much like to escape it entirely. The less time you spend as yourself, the better, as far as you are concerned. Being yourself just leaves you miserable.

+200 cp - Catch A Ride
You walk down the street. Blank. You wake up by the train, a young girl smirks as she waves at you from behind the door. You visit the grocery store. Blank. You blink as you find yourself at a book store in a different city entirely. The librarian thanks you as she leaves, rubbing her chest the entire time. For some weird reason, possessors seem to have designated you as some kind of taxi service. They'll hop into you for a while, a day or two at most, travel around a bit, spend your money, then hop back out. They never do anything much to you, but the frequent blackouts, disorientation, and waking up in random places gets more than a little annoying. Getting back from wherever you've woken up is a faff all of itself, and constantly finding your wallet notably emptier is never enjoyable.

+200 cp - Trapped?!
What has happened to you now? Sure you've taken over someone's body, but it was supposed to be voluntary! You aren't just possessing someone, you are actively locked in to it. Not even taking those shady possession drugs seems enough to get you back out of it. This body is your cage, quite literally. The question is how exactly did this happen? Perhaps some spectral figure shoved you into it for a laugh, then threw away the key. Now you can't join in the fun even if you wanted to. To make things worse, this new body of yours isn't exactly the kind of body that blends in with the crowd.

+200 cp - Greyscale World
One thing that many possessors will find out during their shenanigans is that certain bodies are simply more sensitive than others. The pleasure some people can feel from a simple caress, let alone anything more intimate, is worlds apart from others. You are at the opposite end of that spectrum. The world is… dull. Your senses, your pleasure responses, they are severely muted in this world. The only times you seem to be able to really feel the vibrancy of the world is when you are wearing the skin of someone else. Even then, the sensations you feel are lesser than they might otherwise have been. You'll have to really dial it up to eleven if you want that proper, mindblowing kick.

+200 cp - Change Is The Spice Of Life
The world is your oyster. Mundanity is boring and stagnation is dull. Unfortunately the novelty of a new body never seems to last that long for you. You can last a week, maybe two, before you grow bored of your current state and desire a change. Your erratic behaviour is less than ideal for whoever's body you've taken, and the longer you stay in it, the more their life falls apart, and the more pieces they'll inevitably need to pick up when you finally release them. Honestly it would be kinder if you made sure to hop frequently. The longer you wait, the worse it gets for your ride. You could also just choose to not hop anyone? Right? You can do that, can't you?

+300 cp - Expanding Web
'Will you walk into my parlour?' Said the Spider to the Fly. One of the worst things that could happen to you has occurred in this world. You have been targeted by a possessor. But not for possession. You are their prize, and a prize is to be kept and caged, not used or damaged. Slowly but steadily, you will find all the women in your life undergoing slight but noticeable personality changes. Day by day, week by week, this ghostly goon is taking over every woman that you know and painting them in their colours. Each body they take is a body that you can't possess anymore. They seem to particularly enjoy teasing you, showing you these killer bods but staying just out of reach. If you want them to return to normal? Well, you better listen to whatever the ghost wants you to do. Refuse too much? Well, there are a lot of ways to ruin someone's life when you can be anyone in the world. Your life is as a puppet in his hands.

+300 cp - This City Ain’t Big Enough For The Both Of Us

It’s amazing how small the world can seem once you know what is truly out there. There is one rule that newbie possessors will find out the hard way when they are first introduced to the wider world of possession: finders keepers, losers weepers. Call it irony, but possessors can be incredibly possessive over those that they perceive as theirs. In this vein, certain possessors will have ‘territories’. Places they will fight tooth and nail to keep other possessors out of. You’ve been caught in one such territory dispute. More specifically, you are finding that everywhere you try to settle already seems to have an established territory. If you want to set up shop anywhere, you’re going to need to fight for it. Don’t sit on your laurels if you win, either. There are always new upstarts looking for a challenge, not to mention veterans interested in the new guy on the block. Not every person walking down the street is out to get you… but any of them could be. All it can take is the blink of an eye.

+300 cp - Multiversal Mix-Up

By default this story would take place in a mostly mundane world, where the most dangerous thing you would face is another possessor in the wild. Now things aren’t quite so simple. For you see, some of these stories don’t take place in the mundane world. They take place in very different, albeit familiar ones. Specifically, you have found yourself in a world that mixes reality and fiction. Nearly half a dozen different worlds have been added to the pot, ranging from FGO and Blue Archive, to Idolmaster and Kancolle. It is a veritable soup of magic and science fiction. On the one hand, this exposes you to some real premium bodies for the taking. On the other hand, there are now quite a lot more people in this world who are very prepared to put down any upstart possessor trying to steal their body. Permanently. There is opportunity abound, but also far more danger to face. Pick the wrong person and you face the chance of some real consequences.

The End

The decade is up. Your time here is finished. If you so choose, that is. You now have a choice ahead of you. What exactly is it you want to do now?

Stay Here - Why move on when you've already managed to build your own personal kingdom? You choose to stay in this world. You have a long life ahead of you.

Go Home - This place is nice, but maybe it's time to head on home. Your true home. Your original home. You've started to miss it. Plus you now have plenty of goodies to do whatever you want when you get there.

Move On - This was ultimately one stop on a journey across worlds. You've gotten what you came for, and now it is time that you took that to other peoples and other worlds. Much to do. Many bodies out there in the multiverse in need of a better master.

Notes:

Demi-Servant Option - While you may be able to choose an extremely powerful Servant for use, you'll still need the mana necessary to upkeep the use of their abilities.
