
Lewd Vtuber Jump v1.0
By Orz

In certain other places, the trend of Virtual Youtubers, or “Vtubers” are on the rise, where people entertain others over the internet through virtual avatars. This one is a bit more complicated than that. Someone figured out how to open a connection to other worlds full of fantasy creatures, sci-fi cities and strange monsters and the inhabitants promptly started streaming for their new friends’ viewing entertainment. Naturally, that quickly grew from a mere trend of watching an elf do cute things on stream to watching that same elf do sexy things on stream and the rest was history. Now just about everyone’s competing to have the most people fapping to their escapades~!.

You have 1000 CP to pay for your debut. Good luck~!

Instead of choosing a specific Origin, you may choose two perks and a single item from each price tier to gain a discount on, with 100 HP perks/items becoming free as per usual.
You may choose your age, gender and species freely.

Perks

How Do You Do Fellow Humans? (100 CP): The exact world you're from doesn't matter as for the most part they're all quite stable if not peaceful and very varied. You might be an elf, a rabbit girl, or some kind of strange moth monster but someone out there will still find you sexy and any panic or other nastiness caused by your appearance alone will be greatly reduced.

Boing Boing (100 CP): Or maybe Husbando. In any case, you are incredibly physically attractive. Be that having a thicc and voluptuous appearance, the exact opposite, a rugged manliness or looking like a very sexy version of a xenomorph. The specifics are entirely up to you but whatever the case may be you have a face fit for body pillows.

ASMR (100 CP): Your appearance may or may not be able to turn people on with just a glance but if it can't your voice will certainly be able to finish the job. Even just hearing you talking normally is enough to send pleasant tingles down people's spines, much less when you're actively trying to sound as sexy as you can. You might be able to make someone orgasm from just whispering in their ear and encouraging them to cum for you.

I'm Legal (200 CP): Whether you're a 9000 year old fox girl or just a very petite rain shaman, having a youthful appearance can really put a damper on your dildo rating stream. Thankfully, people just don't seem to bat an eye at your tight little form, at least in that sense. The few that raise a fuss can be brushed off with a simple 'No, I'm Legal'. Be sure to inspire maybe uohs.

Jumper's Back (200 CP): It may not be your actual back, but you'll find that hiding a certain body part from the public will slowly enhance that part's sexiness for when you finally make the reveal. That boost only lasts so long before you have to start the process over again so make sure you only show off how sexy your ankles are during special occasions~.

Collaboration (200 CP): You're great at both making friends and turning those friends into sexual relationships. Not only does this help spice up your life quite a bit but it is very useful for your job as well. After all, all these new friends are people that you can get involved with your streams, be that in person or through the same avenues as the rest of chat.

Screw The Rule, I Have Titties (400 CP): Throughout your travels, you might come across some real sticks in the mud who just don't seem to want to have fun. The kinds of people that say 'No Jumper, you can't just chug an entire bottle of vodka and pole dance naked on that street lamp'. Thankfully, you have a knack for taking their minds off of such things and letting you do as you please. After all, it's fine as long as you aren't causing actual harm, right?

Beacon of Perversion (400 CP): Like attracts like, so it only makes sense that a massive pervert like yourself would attract people of similar interests. Whatever that particular interest happens to be, from vampire dilfs to elven milfs, you'll find that people who hunger for that very thing will gradually find themselves drawn into your orbit. It's nice to have friends, right?

Cow-Fauna! (400 CP): They said not to make cow noises if you didn't want people to draw you getting milked in a sexy cow bikini but little did they know that was exactly what you wanted. You have a talent for manipulating the actions of the masses in such a way, being able to plot out exactly what action you need to take in order to get them to act the way you want. In similar fashion, you also happen to be very good for riding herd on rowdy chat members and trolls.

Relationship Goals (600 CP): If you want something then work towards it. In your case, you have the strange ability to decide the nature of your relationship with somebody and reality itself will arrange events to make that label a reality, increasing with interactions with the person and having similar feelings to the label and reducing with distance and dissonant feelings. It might not actually change history to make them your actual brother but they're still your Onii-chan~.

Loli God (600 CP): Or some other kind of body type if you wish. Maybe milfs? In any case, it seems that you are at least in part actual divinity, whether that be the traditional kind or some kind of eldritch monstrosity. In any case, you gain actual energy from your viewers and fans, read 'worshippers', and are able to channel that power into sexual blessings for yourself and others, such as an increase in breast size or granting hentai-tier lewd luck.

Projekt (600 CP): You may or may not be an android or artificial intelligence but in any case you seem to have the ability to manipulate technology, especially pieces of technology related to the creation and spread of sexual content, like sex toys, recording equipment and even the software you use to connect to other worlds. Not only does this let you cut down maintenance costs by a huge amount but this opens up all sorts of other fun possibilities as well~.

Items

Streamer's Toybox (100 CP): This chest is absolutely full of sex toys of all shapes and sizes, from dildos and vibrators, to onaholes and chastity belts. Along with all of them being of exceedingly high quality, each and every one of these toys has the ability to connect to the software you use for your streams, allowing chat to manipulate them for a small fee, letting them play with your body to their heart's content. When you turn that feature on, of course.

Cosplay Closet (100 CP): This closet is fully stocked with each and every outfit you can think of, from ones that mimic famous characters from games and anime to more generic maid outfits and swimsuits. Again, they're all of exceedingly high quality and you don't exactly have to look far to find versions of these outfits that would make more sense in a brothel then the stage, full of skimpy fabrics and lewd redesigns that would make any fan simultaneously blush and gape.

Fanclub (200 CP): Maybe you were famous before you started streaming or maybe you were just lucky but whatever the case it seems that you already have a small group of devoted fans even without doing a single stream. They're surprisingly organized and all very loyal and supportive to their oshi, making them perfect for if you want to start recruiting moderators or other security for your streams or just don't want to deal with vetting your orgy invitees.

Waifumarket Contract (200 CP): Merchandising, Merchandising, where the real money from the Vtuber is made. You've managed to get your hands on a lucrative merchandising deal with a very prolific producer. They'll make and sell t-shirts, mugs, body pillows, sex toys and anything else you can think of with your branding slapped liberally across them. Feel free to talk to them about specific designs or any other ideas for your merch that you might have.

Meet And Greet (400 CP): Along with the ability to send data and even objects between worlds came another piece of technology that revolutionized streaming. The ability to stream yourself to a particular location for conventions, concerts or other occasions. Sure you're not actually physically there but you can see, hear, feel, smell and taste through the projection so it's close enough for you to have some real fun with all of your adoring fans~.

Community Raffle (400 CP): The reverse of the same technology was also created, a set of software that allows someone (or even a specific body part) to be projected to your own world, allowing you to run raffles or other contests where the lucky few will get to visit you and get their minds and backs blown out by yours truly as you take them on a whirlwind date full of romance and adventure.. Or maybe you'll just use it to start a blowbang, I'm not your boss.

Jumper Agency (600 CP): Vtuber companies can provide a wide host of benefits to their talent and thankfully not only did you manage to find one that won't take advantage of you (unless you want them to~) but is actually willing to provide those benefits. Your corporate sugar daddy will help with funding, scheduling, negotiating deals and sponsors and generally just help you out.

Vtuber Network (600 CP): It can be a tough life as an independent Vtuber. Thankfully, you have access to a special little site where a whole bunch of people are going through the same things. This site is full of Vtubers just like you and lets you network, arrange collabs, make friends or just vent about your day. Don't worry, they'll all be sympathetic to your plight. They're doing the same thing after all.

Companions

Import (50 HP each / 300 for 8): Have one or more of your companions join you here. They gain 600 CP to spend on Perks and Items. Companions cannot buy companions or take drawbacks.

Mascot (Free): A little creature that represents your fans. They might be a little shark floating in a bubble or a robotic drone but they're sure to attract positive attention as they act very endearing, if a bit bratlike at times. Chat can even pay to have their messages come from them.

Minions (100): Many vtubers have the power to manifest a group of creatures of some kind, be that an army of skeletons, a flock of chickens or tiny living bombs. Now you can do it too! They count as Followers and are individually weak but their numbers are tied to your level of fame.

Your Oshi (100): Considering how popular Vtubers are, it only makes sense that you have your eye on at least one and would want to bring them with you on your adventure. Each purchase of this grants you one slot that you can use to make an existing Vtuber a Companion. All you have to do is convince them to come with you.

Collab Parter (100): This particular Vtuber just seems to click with you in the best of ways. They're personality perfectly plays off your own, they're attractive as all get out to both you and both of your fans' eyes and they seem to think of you the same way. It gets to the point where jokes about you two getting married are quite common and sexual encounters between you are even more so, sometimes with up to several other people to help spice things up.

Ara Ara (100): There's been a growing trend lately to have a relative of the streamer and show up on air and interact with the viewers, oftentimes with a model of their own. This person is one of your own relatives, be they your mother, big sister or even your dad. It's clear you came by your sexy body honestly because they're if anything even more attractive than you and the same can be said for their lusts and perversions. They're sure to drive your fans utterly wild.

Drawbacks

Ahoy! (+100 CP): Your fans might think you're sexy as all hell but for some reason you can never get them to admit it, either out loud or via text. Sure, you can get them to show off their affection physically but you'll likely find yourself pouting when they 'ignore' your boobs for a sixty-seventh time that week. Or maybe the pout is why they keep doing it.

Pettan Pain (+100 CP): You're not flat! You totally have massive boobs. Of course, in reality you really don't and that fact really gets on your nerves even when it isn't actively brought out by your silly trolling fans. That said, it doesn't actually have to be breasts, it could be the size of your ass or even your dick but whatever the case you really wish you were bigger.

Horny Brat (+100 CP): It's certainly a good thing you got into this career because your libido is such that you would probably have a very bad time holding a non-sexual job. You'll find your thoughts and even your hands drifting somewhere sexual on a regular basis and freudian slips will be practically an everyday occurrence. It can be a real problem being this horny.

Power Lock Out (+200): Uh oh! Looks like there's something stopping you from using your out of jump perks or items! You'll be stuck with your BodyMod and anything you purchased in this document during your time here.

Holy Pocket (+200): In the sense that it might as well be full of actual holes. You don't actually have any problems making money but actually keeping hold of it for long lengths of time seems to be something you're basically incapable of. Usually because of impulse purchases.

Ugly Bastard (+200): You have a form that only a mother would love, enough to startle people, make children cry and cause dogs to start barking in panic. Of course, there's actually a market for people who look like you but it's still something you'll have to deal with during your time here.

Unicorn Infestation (+300): These horned horses are obsessed with purity so it only makes sense that they'd have it out for you. Every day you'll have to deal with at least one showing up and trying to impale you in a very unfun way, though if you somehow manage to subdue and sexually satisfy the enraged equine that usually gives you a much longer period of peace.

Heart Stained Black (+300): You really should have paid attention to that contract because now you've fallen under the control of a Black Company. Basically the exact opposite of the agency mentioned in the items section, this company will take a huge percentage of all your income, will refuse to help you with much of anything and will even force you into 'special events' to please their backers and stockholders.

Parasocial (+300): For whatever reason, you seem to attract the most unhinged of viewers on a regular basis. The kind that are fully convinced they're actually married to you and will try to act on this delusion despite evidence or complaints from their fellow viewers, the police or even yourself. Make sure your address doesn't get leaked or else things might get messy.
