Welcome! This is a kind of world you should probably be quite familiar with, or perhaps this is your first time? Whatever the case, welcome to a slice-of-life comedy world, although this time around, there is a definite sense of darkness in the air. Whatever the case, high schooler Shiina Shinya thinks that all girls are pretty much good-for-nothing, mostly because he doesn't understand them at all. Take 1000CP, you'll need them later.

Gender can be kept from your last world, although there is a free change to female. If you seek to become male, it shall cost you 50CP. As for your age, you are anywhere between 16-18 years old. Now then, what kind of person are you, anyway?

Bystander: I see. Well, I suppose these sorts of people exist everywhere. You wake up, do your business, and then, you just go right on back to sleep. There really isn't that much to say about you. Why, I bet even if you hadn't existed in this world before now, nobody would really take that much notice. (This can be taken as a drop-in) Slasher: You seem like a normal person on the outside, all smiles and cheer, but unknown to most of society, whilst that cheer isn't fake, by any means, it hides a dark secret. You, my friend, are one of the darker individuals in this world, a predator who stalks the night, looking for prey to pounce on. You, my friend, are a serial killer.

Stalker: Ah, love is such a wonderful thing! The fluttering of the heart, the flushing of the cheeks, the incredible desire to know everything about the one you love. Truly, can there be any feeling more pure? That's why it surely must be okay for you to put hidden cameras into your special one's house. So what if it's a crime? That's what love is all about, baby!

Perks

100CP Crimson Red Eyes: Your eyes are red and, for some reason, you can see in the dark.

200CP The Smell Of One Who Eats Humans: Much like a certain possible-vampire, you have a rather sensitive nose, allowing you to easily pick up subtle scents, such as the stench of blood on your teacher's coat, a clear warning that he is someone who regularly slices into raw flesh.

Bystander

100CP Don't Call Me To The Scene Of The Crime: You have a strange knack for staying calm in even the most unexpected of scenarios. Even in the most strange of scenarios, like finding out your childhood friend is a murderer, you will always keep a cool head.

200CP No Feelings Are Reflected In Those Deep Eyes: You have an interesting gift, although from a certain point of view, it could be seen as being more of a curse; interesting girls seem to be almost drawn towards you, and they develop feelings for you much easier.

400CP Honestly Speaking, That Was Just A Coincidence: When you make a plan, for some odd reason, it seems that chance itself seems to take it upon itself to assist you. Tiny little details seem to pile up, each one granting you a perfect chance to further your machinations 600CP You Dare Call Yourself My Pretentious Knight: You might feel you don't truly understand women, but it certainly seems you understand enough to get them to do what you want. You can easily play on people's desires in order to coerce them to do things for you, giving less than you'd expect in return, if even that.

Slasher

100CP I Found A Corpse: People like you have interesting states of mind. They can live their lives, slashing down anyone they feel like, and not feel a shred of guilt. The impact of what you've done just won't reach. To be clear, you can kill, through any means at all, and not be negatively affected in a psychological way.

200CP Maybe I'll Get Scouted Or Something: Psychotic though you may be, there is certainly something comforting about your presence. When you're around, people seem to feel happier about life, and their problems seem easier to deal with.

400CP There's A New Anime I Want To Watch: Huh? Shouldn't it be more shocking to find out someone you knew was a murderer? Well, I suppose this helps you out in the long run, so it's not like it's all that reasonable to complain. Those you've developed friendships with seem to be incredibly willing to overlook bad things about you, including things as serious as the fact that you happen to be a serial killer.

600CP The Phantom Serial Killer: My word! You have that high a body count, yet the police still can't find any evidence? You truly are amazing at what you do. You can easily make sure not to leave any fingerprints, footprints or even security camera footage. Indeed, you are a truly mysterious figure, a seemingly ghost-like killer.

Stalker

100CP: Number One Most Troublesome Person: You have a sense for when those you care about are nearby, as well as easily being able to find your way back to them if you happen to end up separated.

200CP Haunting Ghost: Following the one you love in secret, subtly maneuvering in order to get some much-needed alone time with them; these sorts of things are much easier for you now. You can easily stalk people for extended periods of time without ever getting caught.

400CP A Sheep Numb With Love: If you have an intense understanding of another person, you will start to find that it's easier to predict the sort of things they'll say.

600CP I Asked Around Like Crazy: When it comes to gathering information, you are truly the best. For example, in about a day of gathering info on a stranger, you could, potentially, find out that almost everyday at work, he would trail certain girls wherever they went, and narrow down a list of people who could possibly have met a grisly fate by his hands.

Items

Bystander

100CP Wieners In Jelly: This is an infinite supply of tiny sausages, suspended inside various gelatins.

200CP Living Wallet: This isn't exactly an item, per say, but rather, more of a recurring figure. In every jump, you will know someone who has a lot of money, and will gladly grant you money if you ask for it, no strings attached. She won't even ask for it back later, gladly allowing you to take whatever you wish from her. If you wish to pay her back regardless, well, she's rather masochistic, hence why she's so willing to be exploited by you. Hence, doing things to her should be enough to bring her to a state of happiness.

400CP Sword Of The Crossroads Killings: This katana was the possession of someone within your family, in your past. Rumor has it, that the original owner was a vigilante, a person who, to fight those who lurk in shadows, shrouded themselves in darkness too. All who embraced evil's allure were struck down without retribution. Of course, such actions are criminal in nature, and so the vigilante was driven out of society. Regardless of whether or not it's true, this blade certainly does seem sharper and more durable than you would normally expect.

Slasher

100CP Filter Paper: You have a moderate supply of a special sort of paper, one which can easily remove contaminants from any kind of liquid. Simply pour the liquid onto the paper, and it will pass through, leaving the contaminants on the other side of the paper.

200CP Collection Of Blades: It simply wouldn't do to leave a consistent weapon, you know. That's why you have this, a collection of knives to use when you are searching for your next victim. Using this, you could probably lead the police investigations in the direction of believing your killings to be the work of a group, not simply one person acting all on their own.

400CP Beef Bowl Restaurant: This is a restaurant which serves beef bowls. They are quite good at what they do, and can easily whip up an amazing meal for you and any other customers. Furthermore, you receive a 20% off discount on any meal you buy here, whether for yourself or your friends.

Stalker

100CP Borrowed Jersey: This is a jersey previously worn by the object of your attention. When you wear it, it feels comfortably warm, even in situations where you would normally be cold.

200CP Evidence Folder: This folder has a rather interesting property. As long as you place at least three photos relating to a crime you suspect someone of, it will automatically create a similar photo of something different. Even if the one you suspect is a criminal, this generated photo will not relate to their actions. However, you will understand what it is a photo of, so if it's of a person, you shall know their name. This can have uses, if you play your cards right.

400CP Voyeurism And Wire-Tapping Equipment: An assortment of hidden bugs and cameras, all perfectly set up for the purpose of capturing the sight and sound of your special one, preserved for all eternity! You can summon, place and remove them with just a simple thought, as long as you are touching the surface that you wish to place it on.

Companions

50-800CP Import: You may import up to eight of your companions, granting them 600CP to spend on whatever they wish, as well as an origin of their own. You can also use this to create an OC.

100CP Canon Companion: As long as you can convince them to come along with you, you may take any canon character as a companion.

Drawbacks

You can take drawbacks to gain the amount of CP listed.

100CP Kisaragi Ruthless Killer: You have a tendency to be given unofficial titles for your actions, which wouldn't be a bad thing, except they keep being slightly strange, and you can't help but find the oddities unusual. For instance, if you were dubbed a serial phantom killer, you would find yourself dwelling on how it should obviously be phantom serial killer, since you aren't actually a ghostbuster.

100CP Utter Pervert: Whilst it isn't something disruptive to your life, you are quite masochistic. It's a little embarrassing, and you should probably take care that people don't exploit this for their own gain.

200CP The Beings Called Women Never Bring Any Good: You are surrounded, in your daily school life, by women. That wouldn't be so bad, but you simply don't understand their thought processes. The strange things that these ladies do will inevitably end up bringing you turmoil, and you will never get a single moment to yourself.

200CP This Noisy Imouto: Your younger sister has an unhealthy obsession with you. She wants you to focus your attention on only her, and will not allow you to have friends of the opposite gender, deleting the contact details of anyone she decides she doesn't want hanging around you.

300CP Vampire: No, I'm not kidding. That's the only way to describe your state. Your pale skin is as cold as death, and is severely weak to sunlight. Without a parasol and sunscreen, you are unable to survive outdoors. And, most of all, you must drink blood. Without biting others and sucking out their blood, you will starve to death and die.

300CP Sleeping Beauty: You were born with a strange condition. No matter how much you try, you tend to spend most of your days asleep. There are very few things that you are able to do in this state. I suppose the only thing you could really do with your time is to keep up on current events. Everything else? There simply isn't enough time.
