

JACKIE CHAN

ADVENTURES

Ai-yaah!

Ah. Now things are getting interesting.

Now sit. Have cup of tea while you adjust.

Jackie! Why you not prepare tea?

This world full of treasure but also evil demons and malevolent spirits. Many years have passed and many disrespect magic as superstition. But never forget magic must defeat magic! Strength you have means nothing when enemies use dark chi!

One more thing...

World not important, chain is. You do what Uncle says, chain continues. It is time someone around here learn to make decent tea! And stay alive! You die, game over. Finally someone to watch the shop when Jackie is gone...

One more thing...

Sorry about that. No need to listen to Uncle. Except for that bit about dying. You will be spending the next ten years here though, facing dark chi, demon sorcerers, and mung-bean sandwiches. Be ready, though the world looks the same as yours on the surface, beneath the bright colours there is plenty of danger and magic is lurking just out of sight. Don't be too concerned by that; even should you die, you can keep everything you've gained to that point. Most importantly don't be boring, have some fun out there.

ONE MORE THING

You'll be granted a budget to give yourself an edge in the world. Points can be used to customize yourself, purchase powers, or just fun new toys! You keep all of your stuff from any previous journeys you've taken, of course!

COMPLICATIONS

饮鸩止渴

Drawbacks you choose will last for the full 10 years of your stay, after which their effects will stop (unless you really want to keep them). The complications are not without some benefit though; with each one taken you recieve CP equal to the number indicated. Drawback effects that conflict with perks always overrule the perks.

You can take as many drawbacks as you like, but the most bonus Chi Points you can gain is 600.

SORRY I'LL BRING IT BACK LATER THANK YOU

You frequently have items borrowed from you against your will, often while you are using them. You will be stunned during the 'theft' and unable to try and retrieve your property until the 'thief' is out of sight. Usually they will be returned by the end of the day. If not, the guy who took it probably has good reason to have forgotten.

+100CP

HORSE SCREAMER

For whatever reason, animals are completely terrified of you. They can sense you coming like a natural disaster, and will instinctively flee from you even before they can detect you. You have no ability to communicate with animals.

+100CP

ONE MORE THING

There's a little voice in your head that always berates you for you mistakes. It will continue prattling on about how you could do things better, and will frequently pause - giving you a brief moment of relief that it is finally done - before setting in again with additional ways you are a fool. When it's finally over, the hallucination will give you a swift swat to the head.

+100CP

YU MO GUI GWUI FAI DI ZAO

All of your supernatural abilities require a long chant before they can have any discernible effect. This includes the use of items that rely on any supernatural forces.

+200CP

HIS NAME IS BRUCE

A stern, intimidating, man begins working against your interests for his own reasons, which he you are unable to determine. He is an unparalleled martial artist and well aware of all of your skills and the best way to counter them. Luck is most certainly in his favour, it seems as though the universe wants him to succeed. Won't Stay Dead applies to him, even if not taken.

+200CP

WON'T STAY DEAD

Your foes cannot be permanently killed. They will always survive to fight another day. If imprisoned or sealed away or otherwise permanently incapacitated, they will always return to their full strength in a year's time.

+200CP

MÁSCARA DE QUIEN SALTA

You gain a cool Luchador mask! You always feel the uncontrollable need to wear it, and doing so leaves you feeling supremely overconfident. Should it be removed against your will, it will break your fighting spirit and everything seems hopeless. All you want to do is sulk.

+300CP

RISE OF THE DEMON SORCERERS

One of the demon lords has gotten hold of a little thing called the Book of Ages, which allows them to alter time and space to their liking. They prefer a world in which all humans are slaves to them and their brethren. The book doesn't work for you, and anything you compel others to write in it similarly fails.

+300CP

BAD DAY BAD DAY BAD DAY BAD DAY!

You are hounded by the worst possible luck. Villainous schemes hatch around you constantly and though you may not get dragged into the scheme directly you have to deal with the shootouts, collapsing buildings, rampaging monsters and other 'inconveniences' that they cause.

+300CP

Ai-yaah! Ten years already? Seem like just yesterday you visit Uncle and not get tea from lazy nephew.

The time to leave has come. When you leave there will be a void for a new power to fill, for good or evil. The portal is ready. Uncle has no control over your destination. It is a process of trial and error.

Mostly Error

One more thing... Really this time.

NO, NO MORE THINGS

Enough adventures. enough running around having to save worlds and protect billions of people who don't know well enough to see danger coming.

You return, waking up in the comfort of you home back on Earth. The real one, that is. You still can use all your gained skills and abilities, and all your possessions and allies will quickly find their way back to you.

STAY

This might not have been your first home, but you're more than happy to make it your final one. This place always has adventure, another challenge to face!

You remain in this world. Back home, it will seem as though you just went missing one day. Loved ones never get closure. However all the talismans are now safely in your possession, if they weren't already,

YES, ONE MORE THING

Just one more thing? Try thousands. There are still many universes left for you to explore, and you don't plan on quitting halfway.

You leave behind this world, like those that came before it. All of your powers, skills, items, and companions are still available to you should you ever need them. For whatever awaits, hopefully that will be enough.

欲穷千里目，更上一层楼
