Errata

Gold and gems can be applied to the warehouse itself or anything you own in whatever design or combination you like.

Sigil spam provided cosmetic holographic displays that are applied to yourself, or any items or powers you use in whatever ridiculously overblown manner you enjoy most.

You may freely determine the appearance and shape of items you purchase. The swords can be spears, knuckles, axes, anything meant for melee.

You may import items to gain the qualities of items you purchase.

You may import a pet or follower into a critter you purchase to give them an alt-form

The World-Healing Wave will not restore anything or anyone unwanted. It will restore a world to its ideal state. It can restore the slain/destroyed/corrupted to their natural state. You only get one. It cannot be duplicated.

Dungeon Shops will be found in improbable locations in future jumps, offering a wide assortment of current-jump-related goods, many of which will be generally useful or tailored to your current troubles. Infinite money perks or conjured wealth won't be taken here. Union rules.

I regret nothing.
