--=Introduction=--

Welcome to the world of Angels and Demons, a realm where the forces of Heaven and Hell wage an eternal war for the fate of humanity. In this setting, you will take on the role of a supernatural being, tasked with fulfilling a divine or demonic purpose and carving out your own destiny in the cosmos.

The Celestial Hierarchy, a powerful and enigmatic organization of angels and archangels, holds sway over the heavenly realm and the celestial order. With their vast knowledge and immense power, they oversee the workings of the universe and maintain the balance between good and evil. However, their methods and motives are often shrouded in mystery, and many beings both divine and infernal have clashed with them over the course of history.

On the other side of the cosmic divide, the demonic hordes of Hell seek to corrupt and destroy all that is good and pure in the world. Led by the fearsome Princes of Hell and the mighty Archdemons, they spread chaos and misery wherever they go, seeking to expand their domains and gain more power. They are aided in their endeavors by dark magic, forbidden knowledge, and the temptation of mortal souls.

In this world of celestial politics and infernal scheming, you must navigate the complex webs of alliances and rivalries that shape the cosmos. Will you side with the forces of good and fight for the salvation of humanity, or will you embrace the darkness and seek to dominate all who oppose you? The choice is yours, and the consequences of your actions will reverberate throughout the heavens and the hells for all eternity.

But fear not, for you are not alone in this struggle. You have been granted immense power and knowledge, and with it, the ability to shape the fate of the universe itself. You have been given a final 1000 CP to spend on abilities or items that will help you in this world, allowing you to further enhance your supernatural abilities or acquire powerful artifacts and weapons. Whether you choose to use that power for good or for evil, the world of Angels and Demons is yours to conquer.

Infernal Conflagration (600 CP): You have the ability to summon and control intense flames of demonic origin known as Infernal Conflagration. This hellish fire is several times hotter and more destructive than ordinary fire, capable of melting through even the strongest metals and leaving behind naught but ash. You can create and manipulate the flames at will, shaping them into any form you desire, from simple blasts to massive walls of fire. Additionally, anyone or anything that comes into contact with the flames will be inflicted with a burning sensation that can quickly spread and cause severe damage, even to those who are typically immune to regular fire. You are immune to the heat and flames of the Infernal Conflagration and can use it to heal any wounds you have sustained. However, the use of this power is draining, and overuse can cause you to become weakened or even unconscious.

Abyssal Corruption (600 CP): As a Cambion, your very existence is an affront to the natural order, and your touch can cause corruption and decay to those around you. Your presence alone is enough to weaken the wills of those who oppose you, making them more susceptible to your demonic influence.

With this perk, you gain the ability to corrupt the souls of those around you, causing them to slowly decay and wither away. Your touch can cause sickness and decay in mortal creatures, leaving them weak and vulnerable to your will. This power can also be used to weaken the defenses of your enemies, making them easier to control and manipulate.

However, this power comes at a cost. The more you use it, the more your own soul is corrupted, making it harder for you to resist the temptations of the demonic realm. Overuse of this power can lead to a complete loss of control, turning you into a mindless thrall of the demonic hordes. Use this power wisely, lest you fall to the corruption you wield.

Nephilim Perks:

Angel's Grace (100 CP): As a Nephilim, you possess the grace of an angel, allowing you to move and react faster than any ordinary human. You have heightened reflexes and agility, making you more difficult to hit in combat and better able to dodge incoming attacks.

This aura gives you a +50% boost in defending against all forms of darkness, evil and demonic attacks, both physical and magical. Additionally, any demons or other creatures of darkness in your vicinity are weakened and will have their powers reduced by 25%. This perk also enhances your healing abilities, allowing you to heal wounds and injuries faster than a regular human. Your presence can also inspire others, making them feel calmer and more focused in your presence.

Heavenly Protection (400 CP): You possess a natural resistance to demonic powers and weapons, making it difficult for demons to harm you. You are immune to most forms of possession, mind control, and corruption by demonic powers, and your body is highly resistant to physical and magical attacks from demons. Even the most powerful of demons will find it challenging to harm you, and their attacks will be significantly weakened in your presence. This resistance also extends to the powers of the Abyss and other chaotic forces, making you a potent force against any who would seek to bring chaos and destruction to the world. However, this resistance is not absolute, and powerful demons or chaotic entities can still harm you if they concentrate their efforts.

Angelic Intervention (400 CP): Once per day, you can call upon the power of your angelic heritage to intervene in a dire situation. This could manifest as a sudden burst of divine light that illuminates your surroundings, or as a powerful blast of energy that drives back your enemies. The exact nature of this intervention is up to you, but it can only be used in the most extreme circumstances.

Celestial Binding (600 CP): You have the ability to bind angels and demons to your will, forcing them to obey your commands. This ability requires significant concentration and effort on your part, and stronger angels and demons may be able to resist your commands, but it can be a valuable tool for gaining powerful allies or extracting information from unwilling captives.

You can conjure darkfire from thin air, summoning it in any shape or form you desire, such as balls, streams, or even large infernos. You can also control the intensity and temperature of the darkfire, making it burn hotter or cooler depending on your needs. In addition to its destructive power, darkfire also possesses corrupting properties, able to twist and taint anything it touches. With this perk, you can imbue your darkfire with even more corrupting energy, allowing it to leave behind a trail of dark energy that saps the life force of anything it touches. This effect is particularly potent against angels and other holy beings, making it a deadly weapon in your arsenal.

Infernal Resistance (400 CP): As a Cambion, your demonic heritage grants you a natural resistance to infernal energies and powers. You gain the ability to resist and even nullify magical attacks and abilities that originate from demons or other infernal entities. This resistance also extends to mundane hazards such as heat and fire, making you highly resistant to burns and flames. Additionally, you can use this resistance to suppress the powers of other demons, weakening their abilities or even negating them entirely for a short period of time.

Hellspawn Form (600 CP): (You can assume a form that channels your demonic heritage, granting you incredible strength, speed, and durability at the cost of a loss of control.

Soul Corruption (600 CP): As a Cambion, your very existence is an affront to the natural order, and your touch can cause corruption and decay to those around you. Your presence alone is enough to weaken the wills of those who oppose you, making them more susceptible to your demonic influence.

With this perk, you gain the ability to corrupt the souls of those around you, causing them to slowly decay and wither away. Your touch can cause sickness and decay in mortal creatures, leaving them weak and vulnerable to your will. This power can also be used to weaken the defenses of your enemies, making them easier to control and manipulate.

However, this power comes at a cost. The more you use it, the more your own soul is corrupted, making it harder for you to resist the temptations of the demonic realm. Overuse of this power can lead to a complete loss of control, turning you into a mindless thrall of the demonic hordes. Use this power wisely, lest you fall to the corruption you wield.

Nephalem Perks:

Celestial and Infernal Wings (200 CP): You possess a pair of magnificent wings that grant you the ability to fly. Your wings are imbued with both holy and unholy energies, making them resistant to most forms of damage.

Balance Incarnate (400 CP): You are the epitome of balance, and as such, you have a deep understanding of the forces of good and evil, order and chaos, and all the different ways that they can interact. You have a natural talent for understanding complex systems and can see the connections between things that others might miss. This allows you to maintain equilibrium in situations that would otherwise spiral out of control.

With this perk, you gain the ability to sense imbalances in the world around you. You can feel when one side of a conflict is gaining the upper hand, or when a system is tipping too far towards one extreme or the other. You can then use your powers to help restore balance to the situation. This might involve taking action to strengthen the weaker side of a conflict, or bringing down the more powerful side to level the playing field. You might also work to mediate between opposing forces and find a compromise that benefits everyone.

In addition to your innate understanding of balance, you gain a number of other powers that allow you to manipulate the forces of good and evil, order and chaos. You can create shields of light and darkness that protect you from harm, summon powerful storms that shift the balance of power in a given area, and even warp reality itself to ensure that the scales are always in balance.

However, using these powers too often can cause you to become unbalanced yourself, tipping too far towards one side or the other. You must be careful to maintain your own equilibrium, lest you become a pawn of the very forces you seek to control.

Nephalem Form (400 CP): Through your unique heritage as a Nephilim or Cambion, you have the potential to fuse your Angelic and Demonic powers into a single, hybrid form. In this state, you possess all the strengths of both races and few of their weaknesses. Your physical attributes, such as strength, speed, and durability, are greatly enhanced, as are your senses and your capacity to channel both holy and unholy energies.

Furthermore, your hybrid form grants you a degree of resistance to both holy and unholy attacks, making you a formidable opponent to both Angels and Demons alike. Your attacks are imbued with both holy and unholy energies, allowing you to bypass the defenses of many opponents.

This form is incredibly taxing on your body and mind, however, and should not be sustained for extended periods of time. You may also find that certain powers or abilities may be inaccessible while in your hybrid form, as they may be incompatible with your unique nature.

Angel-Demon Fusion (600 CP): You have learned to perfectly fuse your holy and unholy energies into one, creating an entirely new form of energy that is both holy and unholy at the same time. This energy can be used to create devastating attacks that can obliterate even the toughest of opponents.

Nephalem Unity (600 CP): As a Nephalem, your holy and unholy energies can now seamlessly blend together into a new form of energy that is both pure and corrupted. Your mere presence can cause fluctuations in the balance between good and evil, causing both Angels and Demons to feel uneasy in your presence. With this perk, you gain the ability to manipulate this new form of energy to devastating effect. You can project blasts of holy corruption that can purify or destroy, manipulate the flow of energy around you to create shields of mixed light and darkness, and even enhance your physical abilities with this newfound power. The more you use this energy, the more you will become attuned to its nature, eventually being able to harness it to achieve even greater feats. This energy is also effective against both Angels and Demons, making it a potent weapon in any battle. However, the use of this energy comes at a cost, as the delicate balance between good and evil can be disrupted, potentially causing disastrous consequences. Use this power with caution, for the consequences of misusing it could be catastrophic.

Human Perks:

Resourceful Mind (100 CP): You have a natural talent for problem-solving and quick thinking. You are able to come up with creative solutions in difficult situations and adapt to changing circumstances with ease.

This world of Angels and Demons has long been intertwined with that of mortals. For eons, the divine beings have influenced the fate of humankind, often leading them to the brink of destruction or salvation. However, in recent years, a rift has formed between the two sides. The Angels and Demons have grown increasingly distant, leaving the fate of the mortal realm uncertain. Now, the time has come for mortals to rise up and stake their claim in this war-torn world.

You find yourself in a world on the brink of chaos. The Angels and the Demons are engaged in a brutal conflict, with the fate of the mortal realm hanging in the balance. However, unlike other jumpers who may choose to aid one side or the other, your goal is to carve out a new path for humankind. You must rally the mortal forces and lead them to conquer this world, asserting humanity's dominance over the divine beings.

The task ahead will be difficult, as the Angels and Demons are powerful foes. You will need to gather allies, forge alliances, and amass an army to challenge the divine powers. As you progress through this scenario, you will encounter various factions of mortals who have aligned themselves with one side or the other. Some may be friendly to your cause, while others may need to be convinced or defeated.

The path you choose will ultimately determine your fate. Will you lead the mortals to victory, overthrowing the divine powers and claiming the world as your own? Or will you fall to the overwhelming might of the Angels and Demons, consigned to the annals of history as a failed conqueror?

Scenario Goals:

1. Unite the mortal factions: The first step towards conquering the world is to gather the scattered mortal forces and unite them under your banner. You will need to negotiate with various factions, win their trust, and persuade them to join your cause.

The Prophecy

In this world of Angels and Demons, there exists a powerful prophecy that has been foretold since the beginning of time. It is said that a being will arise who is neither Angel nor Demon, but something entirely new. This being will possess immense power and have the ability to bring about a new era of balance and harmony between the two opposing forces.

The prophecy has caused great tension and fear among both the Angelic and Demonic communities. Each side believes that this being will upset the delicate balance of power and potentially lead to the destruction of their own kind.

You, as the Jumper, have been called upon by both sides to find this being and either protect or eliminate them, depending on which side you choose to align yourself with. The search will take you through various realms and dimensions, and you will encounter many challenges along the way.

If you choose to align yourself with the Angels and successfully protect the prophesized being, you will be rewarded with the "Elysian Blade". This is a powerful weapon that is imbued with holy energy and can slice through even the toughest of demonic armor.

If you choose to align yourself with the Demons and successfully eliminate the prophesized being, you will be rewarded with the "Infernal Staff". This staff is infused with dark energy and can summon powerful demonic creatures to do your bidding.

However, if you choose to bring about a new era of balance and harmony between Angels and Demons by convincing both sides to accept the prophesized being, you will be rewarded with the "Balance Bringer". This is a powerful artifact that has the ability to manipulate and control both holy and unholy energies, and can create a field of balance that nullifies the powers of both Angels and Demons in the area.

The fate of the world rests in your hands. Will you choose to protect, eliminate, or bring balance?

The End of All Things

You find yourself in a world on the brink of destruction. The apocalypse has come, and the forces of Heaven and Hell have gone to war. The human race is caught in the middle, struggling to survive against the onslaught of supernatural beings.

As you navigate this dangerous landscape, you discover that a powerful artifact exists that can bring about the end of all things. It is said that this artifact has the power to destroy the universe itself, and whoever possesses it will have the ability to reshape reality as they see fit.

The artifact, known as the "Artifact of Apocalypse", is hidden somewhere in the world, and both Heaven and Hell are desperate to find it. They are willing to offer great rewards to anyone who can retrieve it, but they will stop at nothing to prevent their enemies from getting their hands on it.

You must choose a side in this conflict, and use all of your skills and abilities to find the artifact before your enemies do. But be warned, the power that comes with it is dangerous and corrupting. Will you be able to resist its lure and use it for the greater good, or will you succumb to its power and bring about the end of all things?

Reward: If you manage to retrieve the artifact and use it to bring about a new world, you will gain godlike powers and the ability to shape reality as you see fit. However, be warned that this power is corrupting, and you may lose yourself in the process.

Alternatively, you may keep the artifact for yourself, allowing you to gain a lot of influence over both factions as you'll have the literal key to the end of all things in your hands. You chose to not use it in this world, you can use the artifact in another future universe you visit, but, in this case, the original universe won't be actually destroyed, with just a new world controlled by you being born.

---Drawbacks---

There is no drawback limit, take as many as you think you can handle. Remember the rule: Drawbacks always override perks.

Chosen One (+100 CP): You have been prophesied to play a pivotal role in the conflict between Angels and Demons. While this may give you some extra abilities and resources, it also puts a target on your back. You may find yourself constantly targeted by both sides, who see you as either a valuable asset or a dangerous threat.

Mundane Life (+100 CP): Despite your time in the world of Angels and Demons, you can't shake off the feeling of longing for the mundane life you once had. You miss the simplicity and predictability of human existence, and find yourself easily bored with the grandiosity of the divine realm. You will experience mild depression and feelings of homesickness, making it harder for you to focus on your missions.

Outsider (+100 CP): You don't quite fit in with the society of Angels or Demons, despite being a part of it. Your human background makes it difficult for you to fully understand and connect with your supernatural brethren, and their customs and ways of thinking can be hard for you to follow. You may find it harder to form alliances or friendships with other Angels or Demons, and they may view you with suspicion or disdain.

Note: This drawback can only be taken by characters of the Human origin.

Marked (+200 CP): You bear a physical mark that identifies you as a follower of one side or the other. This mark may be a symbol, a tattoo, or some other noticeable trait. While it gives you some recognition and benefits from your chosen side, it also makes it difficult to remain neutral or switch allegiances. Additionally, you may find yourself targeted by the other side, who view you as a traitor or a threat.

Divine Sensitivity (+200 CP): Your exposure to the energies of the divine realm has made you hypersensitive to them. You are more susceptible to the effects of holy or demonic power, and will be weakened or incapacitated if exposed to them for too long. Even being in close proximity to powerful divine beings can make you feel unwell or disoriented. The more powerful the entity, the worse your reaction will be.

Haunted Past (+200 CP): Your past is plagued by haunting memories and unresolved traumas that continue to affect you in the present. You may experience flashbacks, nightmares, panic attacks, or other symptoms that make it difficult for you to function properly. These memories may also attract the attention of malevolent supernatural entities who seek to exploit your vulnerability. Your ability to concentrate and make rational decisions may be impaired by these experiences, and you may need to seek therapy or other forms of support to cope with them.

Corrupted Essence (+300 CP): The energy of the divine realm has left its mark on your soul, but not in a good way. You carry a taint of corruption and impurity that makes you uncomfortable in the presence of holy or demonic beings. They can sense the taint on you and may treat you with suspicion or outright hostility. In addition, your tainted soul makes you more susceptible to the influence of demons or other corruptive forces, making it easier for them to corrupt or control you.

Pariah (+300 CP): For some reason, you are despised and rejected by both Angels and Demons. Perhaps you are seen as a blasphemer, a freak of nature, or an agent of a third party. Regardless of the reason, you will find it difficult to gain any assistance or cooperation from either side. You may also find yourself targeted by both sides, who see you as an easy target or a useful scapegoat.

Marked For Death (+300 CP): Your presence in this world has caught the attention of a powerful enemy. They will stop at nothing to hunt you down and kill you, and they have the resources and abilities to make your life a living hell. You must always be on the lookout for danger and take precautions to ensure your survival.

The Mark of the Betrayer (+500 CP): You bear the mark of a betrayer, a symbol of your past transgressions against either the Angels or Demons. This mark is known throughout the universe and makes it nearly impossible for you to gain the trust of anyone from either side. Even if you manage to prove your loyalty, you will always be viewed with suspicion and may face persecution from those who still hold a grudge against you.

Angelic Pride (+400 CP, exclusive to Angels): Your angelic heritage has left you with an unshakable sense of pride in your divine nature. You see yourself as superior to all other beings, including your fellow angels, and find it difficult to take orders from anyone, even your superiors. You may struggle to work as part of a team and may be more likely to act on your own, potentially putting yourself and others at risk.

Demonic Temptation (+400 CP, exclusive to Demons): The power of your demonic bloodline can be overwhelming at times, and you find yourself easily tempted by the darker aspects of your nature. You may find it difficult to resist impulses towards destruction and chaos, even if it goes against your own interests or those of your allies. This can lead to conflicts with your fellow demons or cause you to act in ways that put your own survival at risk.

Hybrid Instability (+400 CP, exclusive to Hybrids): The combination of your angelic and demonic heritage has left you with an unstable and unpredictable nature. You may struggle with conflicting desires and impulses, making it difficult to know what you truly want or believe. You may find it hard to control your emotions and may be prone to outbursts or irrational behavior, which can make it difficult to work with others and can put you and your allies in danger. Additionally, the opposing energies within you may make it more difficult for you to harness your full potential.

The Forsaken (+500 CP): In the course of your journey, you have turned your back on both Angels and Demons, refusing to choose a side in the Great War. However, your neutrality has made you an outcast among both factions, and you will find it difficult to gain allies or support from either side. You will also be a target for both Angels and Demons, who see your neutrality as a threat to their goals and may seek to eliminate you.

The Tainted Soul (+500 CP): Your soul has been tainted by the corruption of the Great War, leaving you with a darkness that will forever haunt you. This darkness will make it difficult for you to resist the temptation of demonic powers, and you will be more susceptible to demonic influence than other Angels or humans. At the same time, your ties to the Angelic realm will be weakened, and you will find it difficult to access their powers and abilities.

The Ultimate Betrayal (+1000 CP): You are suddenly and inexplicably struck by a powerful urge to betray your own side in the war. You may not even understand why you feel this way, but you know that you must act on it. You will be compelled to sabotage your side's plans and help the opposing side whenever possible. This betrayal will not go unnoticed and your former allies will stop at nothing to bring you to justice. Not only will they see you as a traitor, but they will also believe that you have been corrupted by the other side and are now a dangerous enemy to both sides. You will have to fight for your survival, as both sides will be hunting you down. Additionally, this drawback cannot be removed or mitigated in any way. You will have to deal with the consequences of your actions for the rest of your time in this world.

"You were once a loyal warrior, fighting for the cause you believed in. But now, a mysterious force has driven you to betray everything you once stood for. Will you succumb to this urge and turn against your former allies? Or will you find a way to resist and redeem yourself?"

==Notes==

1. This jump is an experiment to see the result of trying to generate a jump using an AI like Chat GPT, so I won't take the credits of making it because I'm not its author;
2. I, Aleph_Aeon, only created the concept of a setting focused on Angels and Demons, formatted the jump and copied the content generated using Chat GPT and the images generated by Midjourney, so everything that isn't in italic or with this font wasn't written by me (with the exceptions of the notes, of course);
3. Additionally, I also choose the options generated by the AI that better fitted the jump, changed a few details (like the origins' prices, as the Angel/Demon origins would cost 2000 CP for example) and the origins, as well as also inducing it to follow specific directions, like creating an OP perk for Angels or a 400 CP drawback exclusive for Hybrids;
4. It's noticeable that while some options have just three lines, while others have three paragraphs or more. This is because some of the generated options were too simple in my opinion, so I asked the AI to rewrite them more detailedly, while the rest I let as they were originated written;
5. According to Chat GPT:

In this world, Angels and Demons are incredibly powerful beings with varying levels of strength depending on their rank and individual power. However, it's difficult to give a precise measurement of their strength as it can vary greatly depending on the context and the specific Angel or Demon in question.

Generally speaking, Angels are considered to be extremely powerful beings with incredible strength, speed, and durability. They possess a wide array of powerful abilities such as divine magic, healing, and the ability to create powerful barriers and shields. They are also incredibly skilled fighters, with many years of combat training and experience under their belts.

Demons, on the other hand, are also very powerful beings with incredible strength and speed. They possess a wide array of dark and twisted powers such as corruptive magic, manipulation, and the ability to create powerful illusions. They are also skilled fighters and have a deep understanding of the human psyche, which they often use to manipulate and control those around them.

In terms of raw power, it's difficult to say which side is stronger as both Angels and Demons have their own unique strengths and weaknesses. However, it's clear that both sides are incredibly dangerous and should be approached with caution.

6. Again, when I asked how strong would be the average Angel and the average Demon:

In this world of Angels and Demons, the average Angel and Demon are both significantly stronger than the average human. However, the exact level of strength can vary depending on various factors such as the individual's rank, experience, and training.

On average, Angels possess immense physical strength and endurance, as well as extraordinary powers such as healing, telekinesis, and energy manipulation. They are also highly skilled in combat and possess advanced knowledge and wisdom. However, their abilities and power levels can vary depending on their rank within the hierarchy of Heaven.

On the other hand, Demons are also physically powerful and possess a range of unique abilities such as shape-shifting, elemental manipulation, and possession. They are also skilled in combat and possess vast knowledge of the supernatural and occult. Like Angels, their power levels can vary depending on their rank within the hierarchy of Hell.

Overall, both Angels and Demons in this world possess abilities and strengths beyond what is typically seen in humans, making them formidable opponents in any conflict.

7. Even in this jump, Drawbacks are removed after the end of your stay here.
