

Prina the Dungeoneering Princess Jumpchain
By Cthulhu Fartagn

The Story Thus Far

Every day since her coming of age, the elven princess, Prina, has entered the secret dungeon underneath the royal castle. What could drive her to do such a thing? Why would she risk her life like that? It's quite simple. You see, Prinas' Mother, Pridis, the Queen of the elves, has gone missing inside the dungeon, and Prina is determined to find her.

Unfortunately, it's not that simple. While the section of the dungeon beneath the castle isn't a deathtrap, that's only because it's a deathtrap for your dignity instead. Especially if you're a prude. You see, it's swarming with succubus and other monsters, traps specifically designed to rape futanari, and even a demon goddess. As you might imagine, they are quite happy to see Prina, and quite sad to see her leave. Thankfully for them, time spent in the dungeon passes slower than time outside of it, at a rate of a day to a hour, giving them eight days to play with Prina before eventually letting her go.

The more 'tests' Prina passes, the deeper into the dungeon she goes and the closer to finding her mother she gets. At the same time however, the more her self control and morals are stripped away as the succubus trick her into debauched act after debauched act.

Prina herself doesn't know this, but eventually she will stumble upon her own twin sister - who is also their mothers' captor. Prelude feels... Unhappy, to put it mildly, that Prina was given the life of a princess, while she herself was left in the dungeon for her ugly looks and monstrous traits. Hence her plan to marry both her mother and sister, and take over the kingdom. Well, actually she's going to marry her aunt, the fallen angel Mezel, but this convoluted chain of marriages is somehow going to end up with her in charge.

Anyways, it's entirely possible that you will never step foot in the dungeon, or perhaps never step foot out of it. Whichever way it is, or even stepping between the two as Prina does, I give you these points to help you find your place in the world.

Origins

Elf

The elven race is an odd one to be sure. Unlike most other depictions, these ones are quite plain. Most of them have a certain androgynous feel to them. Perhaps it's a side effect of them being half male and half female, aka futanari? Well, it doesn't actually matter all that much. Your feminine figure will eventually come in... in a century or two.

Your age is 15+1d8, and your location is somewhere on the surface of what seems to be a fairly standard fantasy world, probably in the Prulina kingdom, a nation populated solely by futanari.

For a small charge of 100 cp, you can instead choose to set your age to somewhere in the hundreds. This grants you a bombshell figure and power as an adventurer to fight of a small army of weaker monsters.

Demon

The word demon is a catchall term for the denizens of the dungeon, a massive cavernous system that is also its own plane of existence. It has entrances everywhere, so you see all kinds of people exploring. You yourself are a succubus, tempting both men and women with your delicious curves and nice thick futa dick.

Your age is a funny thing, as you are visually somewhere in your 20's, but in actuality are likely far older. Your location is somewhere in the dungeon, specifically the part beneath Prulina.

For both origins, you may pay a small charge of 100 cp to instead have your time in this place NOT take place in the Prulina kingdom - or beneath it, in the case of a demon. This also allows you to choose between male and female, as you are no longer a native of the Prulina kingdom.

If you need an example of what kind of adventures you might have in the wider world, I suggest looking into Dragon Quest III - there is a side story that implies the worlds are connected.

Perks

Elf

100 cp - Love Feels Lovely

While the dungeon and its inhabitants are intent on training Prina into a proper slut, she herself is constantly bending to those whims due to their threats about her best friend. That said, oh so many of their tricks and traps fail to snag them properly due to one simple fact. They really do love each other. With that in mind, you'll find that sleeping with those you care for, and who care for you, is just inherently better than even a goddess of lust, beauty, and sex.

100 cp - Spick And Span

Speaking of Prina's best friend, it's actually her maid. It should come as no surprise then, that whenever Prina loses control of her raging erection above ground, it's Yunia - the maid - who has to clean up the rivers of fluid the two of them put out. Much like her, you can also manage to erase all traces of your lust in the span of minutes, even going so far as to make the room look better than before you messed it up. As a small bonus, if an awkward one, those rivers of fluid you're likely to be putting out? They make for excellent cleaning fluids.

100 cp - With Age Comes Cup Sizes

While Prina is decently endowed, Yuina and Prelude are both one step away from being flat as a board. Meanwhile, Pridis is a knockout bombshell. If you look at that closely, bust size roughly equates to age. Gotta love Elven puberty. Anyways, the size of your 'assets' now scales loosely to your age. By the time you reach what an elf would call middle aged, I have no doubt your breasts would be bigger than your head. Live even longer and it'll just be plain silly. Of course, this applies to all three - no need to leave your dick and ass out of the growth.

200 cp - Angel Blood

Somewhere in the royal bloodline, oh so many years ago, there was an angel. While it's weakened, the bloodline still holds traces of that divinity. This mostly comes in two major blessings. First, a simple holy spell, an anti-pregnancy ward. Guaranteed to eject the sperm of even the strongest monsters before it can get anywhere near your womb. Second? A certain level of natural cleanliness. ...and by that I mean that you have really strange - and somewhat shiny - poop, such as that your body is always clean and ready for anal. What kind of pervert god designed this blessing?

200 cp - Have You Seen These Boobs?

For all that the demons are intent on corrupting Prina into a wanton slut who lives for lust, they also provide her with valuable information about her mother. Sometimes. Regardless, you can now get a few words of dialog in before the raping starts. Something like bargaining a sexual act for some knowledge may seem odd given that they can just toy with you without your agreement, but they seem eager to humor you. Maybe they find you cute? Or maybe it's part of their plan. Either way, it's useful.

200 cp - Jocasta's Child

So, remember how I said that Prelude had an evil plan to take over Prulina via marrying both her mother and sister? The 'family bonding' themes get much heavier when her aunt Mezel joins in. Much like Prina, it seems you have a special something about you that makes you extremely attractive to your own family members. Parents, siblings, children, even cousins, aunts, and uncles. Not quite to the same extent as Pridis's 'I have always wanted you to fuck me', but hot damn if it isn't close.

400 cp - Let's Go Home Together

I touched on this earlier, but let's go back over it. Prina and Yuina? Head over heels in love with each other. Which means that all the tricks, traps, and trials that they get put through generally fail to make them less interested in the other. Much like their ridiculous love for each other, you can be snapped out of states of extreme lust and back into your right mind by even a handful of words from your loved ones. Or anger, or other mental alterations, as the case may be. But love isn't one sided, so you can return the favor and snap them out of it just as easily.

400 cp - Princess Heroine

Despite the constant rape, Prina actually is a competent adventurer. And a competent ruler. Look, as long as it doesn't involve sex, Prina is on top of it. Much like her, you could single handedly run a nation without getting bogged down in paperwork or politics, and at the same time being a semi-decent fighter and magician. You're also charismatic enough that even the people who don't want you to be in charge, be it company or nation, would be forced to admit that you're all but perfect for the job.

400 cp - Eye of the Goddess

Having the patronage of a powerful wizard and being descended from angels makes for a very politically powerful royal family. So much so that the queen of Prulina is allowed to take on a functionally limitless number of consorts and concubines. In fact, Prina herself received dozens of requests from the nobility of other kingdoms to have their daughters bear her child. Not even become a consort, just them desperate to get some of that holy bloodline in their family. With that in mind, you attract beautiful women and handsome men like flies, none of whom have any issue sharing you with each other - or your actual wife. A good number of them would even be honored to be a one night stand.

600 cp - Good Genes Bad Genes

While Pridis' experiment with the Goddess Vase went horribly wrong, you appear to have learned from her mistake and done something even better. You can now declare anyone to have - and to have always had - a twin sibling that is their perfect equal and opposite. Now, any power they might have is split in half, but the distribution isn't nearly as unbalanced as Prina and Prelude. As a result, they're both beautiful and actually get along. On top of that, while their individual power is cut in half, it soars to three times the original value when fully working together.

600 cp - The Magicians Apprentice

The elven nation of Prulina once held the favor of a powerful wizard. So powerful in fact, that he forced the dungeon that spans the world to create a subsection just for him, centered underneath what would soon become the royal castle. Perhaps you were his student, or maybe you just found some of his notes before the demons moved in. Either way, you now know the magic spells to create your own micro dungeon. Bigger on the inside, yet also smaller. Enough to fit a mansion underneath a shack, but also to take a brisk walk and travel dozens of miles. But more importantly, with time you will learn to manipulate just that - time. It will take quite a bit of study, and I recommend you DON'T populate it with monsters, but you can eventually make your own dungeon.

600 cp - Founding of Prulina

It has already been said, but Prulina is a nation of futanari. No child born inside its borders since its founding has been male or female. Only futanari. With that in mind, you can now exert a level of control over birth and inheritance across any land you hold sway over. A policeman might hold a neighborhood or two, a doctor their hospital, a politician a city, and a queen over her nation. Within that boundary, you can influence the details of birth. No child born this year shall have blue eyes. Every child shall be futanari. A certain magical trait will always be passed down. There are limits, of course. If genetics decree that blue eyes is the only possible outcome, or if there is no magical trait to pass down, then clearly your decreed outcome will not come to pass. Still, call it probability. With your royal decree, even a 1% chance of a certain trait being passed down becomes 100%.

Demon

100 cp - Thorned Dick

Succubus are a strange and kinky lot. They like to... Experiment. It should come as no surprise that they don't always have 'normal' body parts. Some of them even have thorned dicks. However, thanks to a small amount of magic, that dick is actually quite safe to thrust up into some poor innocent elf maiden. In fact, unless you're going out of your way to intentionally hurt or injure your partner, any pain they would normally feel is instead translated into even more pleasure. Don't worry about the thorns or lube, just ram it in at full speed.

100 cp - Object of Lust

If you need telling that succubus are beautiful, then you don't know very much about them. But yes, since you are a succubus, you are now extremely pretty. Cute, smokin, tomboy, classically beautiful, whatever archetype you wish to fill, you now are. On top of that, any inhuman features you have just make you more so, instead of making you ugly. Those cute little horns, that utterly erotic forked tongue, and the impressive size of your dick... those are your charm points, not signs of you being a monster.

100 cp - By The Way, I Lied

Who trusts a demon? The poor maiden you found wandering around and are thinking about raping, apparently. Well, a succubus is supposed to be a temptress. It comes as no surprise that you can lead most people around by the nose.

I can't into fluff for this one, oddly.

200 cp - Devious Devices

The section of the dungeon underneath the royal castle was once a wizard's tower. But today it's filled to the brim with traps designed specifically to torture futanari. It's also taken over by demons. Coincidence? I think not. You are now a craftsman of sort, an amateur in almost all fields from blacksmithing to alchemy to carpentry and even enchanting. However, your talents are extremely limited. You can only create devices of a sexual nature. Fitting, is it not? Traps are quite standard, but something like artificial testicles to drastically increase sperm production of a futanari is possible with some imagination.

200 cp - Orgy Master

A succubus alone is a danger. A dozen succubus all bearing down on the same dick? They don't stand a chance. You are now a master at teamwork - specifically, teamwork while having sex. You and your partners never fumble over each other or overreach or miss our mark. The improbable position you imagine as the twelve of you all tiffuck the same dick at the same time? You can pull that off with ease. In the opposite direction, if you're the one outnumbered then your skill and stamina scales to how badly you are outnumbered. Regardless, you'll be coming out on top.

200 cp - Lustful Resonance

A wonderful power that the demons have cultivated for themselves. When their partner is on the verge of orgasm, they synchronize their pleasure with yours for a split second and force you to orgasm twice at once. As you might imagine, many many adventurers have fallen to lust once exposed to this. However, it seems you've been practicing, because you can chain these orgasms together. The first orgasm is two at once. The second is three at once. The third is a mind blowing four orgasms at once. How high can you count, and how long can the two of you last?

400 cp - Succubus Speciality

By this point if you need telling that a succubus's speciality is sex, you probably shouldn't be one. With that in mind, you've learned a plethora of magic to help with your bedroom activities. Well, calling it that implies you only do it there, something that is blatantly untrue. Making skin transparent in an imitation of x-ray vision, control over the folds of your vagina, transferring sensations, a spell to make nine months of pregnancy into nine minutes, one to temporarily return the body to a virgin state - and dozens to make it lewder than ever. The magics of a succubus are quite strange, but also extremely enjoyable.

400 cp - Mother Of Monsters

Fun fact, if you overdose a normal person with enough demonic energy, you can turn them into a demon themselves. A trio of milf heroines discovered this after accidentally attacking a demon goddess. As a result, they became extremely - and I do mean extremely - interested in Prina and Yuina's youthful looks. What kind of mother doesn't want to be impregnated by and to impregnate their own daughter? Well, they weren't actually related, but lust cares not for such things. A warning though, created demons can be purified and turned back into normal people.

400 cp - Sibling Rivalry

Prina and Prelude really don't have the greatest relationship. Neither do Mezel and Pridis. I mean, Prelude captured and raped her own mother for years on end with Mezels help, all thanks to some mysterious prophecy that Pridis just can't manage to spit out before she gets her mouth plugged by yet another cock. So, with the Prulina royal family's issues in mind, you have a truly ridiculous amount of plot armor when it comes to your own family. So much so that any time you were to act against them it would go almost perfectly, and any time they try to act against you it fails utterly. Capturing and raping your own mother - who is stronger enough to crush rocks, and you - for an entire decade is as easy as if she were a normal human.

600 cp - Object of Worship

One of the demons lurking in the dungeon beneath Prulina is none other than the Abyssal Lord Pai Lee Chel, the golden goddess, mistress of succubus, etc all. A Lamia-esque succubus with two dicks, and Prina's technical father. Even farther down lies the fallen angel Mezel, queen of the black orcs and the dark elves, and Prina's half-aunt. Whether you're an extremely powerful - yet normal - monster like Pai, or a fallen divinity like Mezel, you yourself are now their peer. In addition to simply being extremely powerful, your beauty, sexual skill, and all aspects of seduction now scale in power. Seducing someone makes you more beautiful, growing in power makes you better in bed, and so forth.

600 cp - The Benefits of Power

I once called the god who designed the angels blessing a pervert. I shall now do so again. You see, while it makes sense that the succubus and demons beneath Prulina would be all but built for sex, it makes no sense at all for the angels to be as well. Though I suppose that could be attributed to Mezel being a fallen angel and not a normal one. Regardless, Mezel continuously 'revealed' aspects of her lustful body in an attempt to force Prina to fall to lust and agree to marry her. In a similar vein, once per day you can pull similar tricks, techniques, and unusual body parts out of thin air. A magic spell that doubles your pleasure, growing a second prostate or a seventh cervixes, and many other instances of porn logic.

600 cp - Lustful Combatant

One should always play to their own strengths. If one possesses the power, crush all opposition. If you don't, subvert their power until it collapses beneath their feet. If you can't beat your half sister in combat, steal her kid and raise said child to hate her mother and want to rape her senseless. Aka what Mezel did. Regardless, you can now forcibly invoke lust, lewdness, and perversity into a situation. Simply act with sensual and sexual grace, and seriousness will fall away. But of course, the more you invoke this, the less place raw combat power has in the moment. Only one's skill in the bed matters. If you don't have that, you lose. It's that simple. If that's not clear enough, allow me to be frank. You can bypass plot armor and raw powerlevels via rape.

Items

Elf

100 cp - Crown and Cloth

For some odd reason, Prina's crown and Yuina's maid outfit always seem to survive their night time activities, no matter how rough their forceful partners get. Much like them, you now have a signature outfit of sorts that - while not sturdy or defensive whatsoever - always seems to retain enough of itself to be recognizable, even when torn to shreds. On the off chance it does give up the ghost, the universe will conspire to get you a new copy or something similar within a day or two - a maid themed bikini is technically a maid outfit, right?

100 cp - Well Drawn Painting

You, uh. Why do you have this? How is this even useful? Well, whatever. You now have a small collection of small paintings, each one depicting a family member of yours. A small note is that you don't actually have to have met the family member in person to have a painting of them, though you do need to know they exist. Cough Prelude cough. Additionally, you can have the painting redrawn once per month if you decide you don't like the current one for whatever reason.

200 cp - Goddess Vase

A poison jar is a pot filled to the brim with poisonous animals - the last one standing is the most toxic, clearly. This jar is somewhat similar. It absorbs cum in a seemingly endless amount, and slowly condenses it down into a single pool of cum containing all the best traits of the various donors and none of their weaknesses. Well, it's supposed to have none of the weaknesses. Those may or may not leak out in the form of a twin sibling to your perfect child.

200 cp - Royal Armory

Finally, we get something useful to exploring the dungeon. Why is this not the freebie? Anyways, you now have access to enough arms and armor to field no less than 100 men and women at the same time, and with dozens of different styles of armor and kinds of weapons. Standardization? What's that? This is unique fighter rules. Sadly the weapons aren't made from any OP fantasy metal or enchanted to hell and back. That said, they are extremely high quality - as befitting royalty - and will clean and repair themselves given some time.

400 cp - The Three Milfs

Maybe you stumbled across them in the dungeon, or maybe you just hired them from some sort of adventurers guild. Either way, you've managed to acquire the services of three adventurers. A bunny-folk sage, and elven cleric, and a human warrior. Quite noticeably, the three of them are high quality MILFS. Due to a run in with Pai Lee Chel, they've also acquired a massive fetish for being 'motherly' in the bedroom. Also of note, they are probably the only people in all of Prulina that aren't futanari. Lastly, they actually are quite powerful - the three of them together are strong enough to hold their ground against Pai and Mezel.

400 cp - 'Save' Portal

In a secret room hidden in princess Prina's quarters lies a magical portal that leads down to the dungeon beneath Prulina. This is not that portal, but it is quite similar. You see, the portal can take you anywhere that you have been before, or to a small number of preset/'important' locations. Major cities, the tallest mountain, that sort of thing. Better yet, you can call the magical end of the portal to you at any time, thus returning to wherever you have based the portal itself. Prina uses it to save her depth in the dungeon so that she doesn't have to start all over each night. I'm sure you can think of at least one or two other uses for yourself.

600 cp - Royal Castle of Prulina

Prulina is a nation composed solely of futanari. Even the dungeon beneath it is inhabited by only futanari. And you have now acquired the throne, castle, and country in its entirety. Mind you, Prulina isn't terribly big by itself. Only a few thousand square miles, and most of that is forest or farmland. But of course, this also comes with the royal castle. Or, if you prefer this can NOT be Prulina because fuck that horribly family dynamic, and instead be a paper thin expy. It's still a nation of futanari elves whose royal family has angel blood, it's just not Prulina. Maybe they're your neighbors?

Demon

100 cp - Cursed Ring

This ring is fairly standard as far as cursed objects go. Succubus use it to make their meal last a little longer before finally cumming their life out of their dick. A simple curse that prevents the wearer from ejaculating, and another that prevents them from removing it under their own power is all it really has. Technically speaking, you have two. An actual ring, for boring people, and a cock ring, as the original was.

100 cp - Succubus Oil

Now I know what you're thinking. Made for succubus, or from succubus? Little bit of both, honestly. The oil is made from succubus cum twisted through a few alchemical processes. It seems normal at first, a high grade aphrodisiac and pleasure enhancer, but it has an extra function that's quite useful. See, it drastically ups the fertility of anyone it's used on. As in, a pregnancy is guaranteed to be twins, maybe even triplets. Or multiple pregnancies at once, even if you're supposed to be too old to get pregnant. Also makes for excellent massage oil.

200 cp - Infernal Oracles Writ

Prulinian royalty has some amazingly complicated rules, up to and including the fact that the queens wedding is actually an orgy. The winner is declared the wife, and everyone else is consorts and concubines. There's even a precedent for one's child or parent being allowed to participate - but only if an oracle gives permission. Sadly, they never said what kind. With that in mind, this writ of approval allows you to bypass pesky regulations and rules. Filing paperwork in triplicate? Going on a quest to earn the right to marry the princess? Actual effort? Sorry, but the gods themselves have declared you allowed to skip those sorts of things. Sadly, it's only usable once per year.

200 cp - Slave Warrior Armor

A particular kind of slime monster was crossbred with a handful of plant monsters, and the result is this mockery of a suit of armor. Its metal shell hides an innumerable number of tentacles, as well as a handful of larger ones. As you might imagine, wearing this is almost painfully pleasurable. The armor is magically linked to you, so you can control both it and your captive. In addition, this also comes with a handful of weapons that have been enchanted to deal massive amounts of pleasure instead of actual wounds. The weapons are designed to be used as sex toys, such as a morning star flail anchored to a cock, or a spear anchored inside a breast. Three suits of armor and nine weapons are included in this set.

400 cp - Garden of Lilith

Perhaps you found and domesticated this place, or maybe Pai Lee Chel gave it to you after she left. Either way, you now have a lovely scenic woodlands mansion with large gardens and spacious grounds. However, it's worth noting that this place is inside the dungeon, so every flower and plant in and around its lawn is a sexual trap of some kind. Moreover, the mansion and grounds can rearrange themselves to suit your needs and confuse 'visitors'. Of course, if you prefer something more final, the plants can suddenly switch from perverse to poisonous.

400 cp - Black Orc Tribe

Once upon a time, the Black Orcs and the Dark Elves were Mezels army, one she brought to bear against Prulina in an attempt to steal it from her sister. She failed and was driven away, her forces decimated. These few dozen Orcs are a group of remnants. They're physically powerful in the extreme, and just as durable. They also have massive futanari dicks - almost as big as Yuina and Prina. However, the Black Orcs have since mastered a technique not too dissimilar to the one Pai Lee Chel used on the Milf Trio. In effect, via rigorous gangbangs, they can turn a person into a monster like themselves. If you prefer, you can have a group of Dark Elves instead, trading power and durability for speed and stealth.

600 cp - Forsaken Tower

The wizard who helped found the Prulina kingdom was so powerful that he either created the dungeon in its entirety, or rewrote massive portions of it to suit his needs. It was later invaded by demons, succubus, and other monsters, turning its defenses against Prulina. You have now inherited the lands he laid claim to in its entirety. Thousands of miles of sprawling tunnels, cathedrals of both light and dark, lakes of pure water and ones of poison and rot, and of course hundreds upon thousands of futanari monsters. A country beneath the earth. Better yet, any servant, follower, or other assorted minions of yours who die inside the confines of the Dungeon or fairly close by will be returned to life - and your service - within three days.

Companions

50 cp / 300 cp - I Shall Assist You

It took a while to have their heart to heart and finally screw, but not even Prina explores the dungeon alone. She takes her maid and lover, Yuina, with her. This is... Probably a mistake. Regardless, I offer you the chance to bring some allies of your own into this world. 50 cp a companion, or 300 cp for the maximum of eight. Each one receives a stipend of 500 cp to spend on perks and items. If you so desire, they can buy the 'Loving' Family companion option, but no others.

50 cp / 100 cp - The One I Really Wanted To Marry Was...

Crazy ass plans involving marriage aside, if you do not wish to bring someone with you into the world, perhaps you wish to take someone with you when you leave? For a simple fee of 100 cp, I shall allow you to take any person to whom you find yourself married. If you wish, they can even share a companion slot. Or, for 50 cp a shot, you can companion anyone you can convince to come with you, if you don't feel like getting married for some crazy reason.

200 cp - 'Loving' Family

It seems that you have a similar family structure to Prina - hopefully you don't have her problems with said family. But I digress. You now have a wonderful sister, a loving mother, another loving mother who is actually your father, and a delectably lewd cake of an aunt. They get 700 cp to split between the lot of them, and share a companion slot until you choose to break them up. Optionally, they all have a massive incest fetish aimed squarely at you.

Drawbacks

+100 cp - Critical Weak Point

Maybe it's your mother, maybe it's your lover. Either way, you have a massive psychological weak point in the form of someone close to you that you care for dearly. If someone were to threaten them, you would most likely fold instantly. You might be able to get revenge later, but a daring rescue? Your darling might get hurt! Best to just do as their captors' demand.

+100 cp - Punished by the Goddess

During the free for all orgy that is a Prulinian royal wedding, if a competitor becomes so jealous and desperate as to attempt to injure another participant, they will be struck down by the goddess. Mostly in the form of some fairly intense pain. You seem to have been afflicted with that judgement, and it's not coming off. Any negative emotion that you actively direct at someone will cause you pain. Anger, jealousy, murderous rage? Those are just a world of pain waiting to happen.

+100 cp - Serenaded by Demons

When Prelude had Pridis and Prina captured, she had them serenaded by demons singing songs of incest, made them watch a mother/daughter pair of Black Orcs fuck, and several other similar things. With that in mind, pick a fetish. One you don't like, obviously. The universe shall now take every available opportunity to shove it in your face how amazingly awesome that fetish is. Happenstance and blind luck are likely to be your most common irritants, but I wouldn't put it past a demon who knew you hated it to literally serenade you.

+200 cp - Devil Trigger

While under Preludes care, Pridis was exposed to a truly staggering amount of dark magic, demon energy, and forced so far into lust it's amazing she actually recognized Prina once they finally reunited. So far in fact that Mezel was able to make her half-sisters angel blood become fallen angel blood, if only temporarily. You now possess a trigger similar to the one given to Pridis. When you go too far into lust, you'll randomly turn into a demon. Your personality also flips - if you would have resisted, you'll instead dive in head first. In a competition to choose the first wife, you would instead beg them to choose your rival. If you hate someone's guts, your demon self would probably beg them to fuck you. So on and so forth. On the other hand, if you were already a demon then you will instead undergo random purification, suffering from the same issues but in a prudishly backwards manner.

+200 cp - Distracted by the Sexy

Pridis defeated her sister in open combat, and made short work of the army she'd brought along. But when Mezel aimed Prelude at her, she couldn't raise a hand to her own defense. Nor was she ever able to break out, not after years of rape and abuse. However powerful you are, if you can break continents, if you can make armies bow to your silver tongue, if you can dance amongst the stars themselves. Know this - in the face of something sexy, that power might as well not exist. The sexier and more sensual something is, the less effective your power is. Against someone actively molesting you, you are as weak as a newborn babe.

+200 cp - Family Issues

...Oh dear. It seems you do have issues similar to Prina's own troubles. You have a wonderful family, powerful, beautiful, and loving. Except towards each other. They hate each other. Mostly. They might team up and form factions, but they definitely hate the others. Regardless, they consider you the turning point of their rivalry, or maybe the prize. Possibly for some trivial piece of knowledge, or maybe for the exact same reason as Prina. Expect blackmail, kidnapping, bribery, even mind control, in their attempts to woo you over to their side. Unfortunately, surrender is not an option. Attempting to defuse this minefield only calls new relatives you've probably never met and creates a new issue for them to fight over.

+300 cp - Evil Twin

...Screw similar, you have Prina's issues. Specifically, you have a twin sibling with all your powers from both this jump and others. The only thing they haven't copied perfectly is your beauty, as that is somewhat lacking. If it needs saying, they hate your guts. The only peace you'll find with them is as their sex slave. Or in a grave. Regardless, they are your equal and opposite in every way. That said, if you do somehow end up subordinate to them, you lose. You can be sent home if you wish, but you aren't moving on. On the other hand, if you make peace with them somehow, you can have a loving and loyal sibling who is just as powerful as you as a companion.

Notes

With Succubus Speciality and Mother of Monsters, you can make devil triggers.
