In The Beginning

Mankind has accomplished great things on the planet Earth. From humble and animalistic beginnings, humanity spread to create tribes, towns, cultures, civilizations. Huts turn to castles and rocks into bows. Modern technology has allowed worldwide communication, all humanity's information at their fingertips. Man has even walked among the stars and set foot on the moon. Where once they feared and worshiped that white ball in the night sky, they now claim dominion over it and thrust into it with the very symbol of the nation that achieved this astounding feat.

Yet, from the very first humans cowering in caves to the transcendent modern man, there is something they've always feared. That which lies beyond man's puny perception and miniscule lifespans, that which is as old as the planet itself. There is a being, an entity incomprehensible to humanity whose mere existence proves how powerless and tiny mankind is in the cold, uncaring universe. It is always watching humanity and it is really, really hot.

In other news, a young man has recently been kicked out of his mom's house at the tender young age of 25 due to his unwillingness to find a job or do anything with his life. What a heartless witch! He's had to actually get a job which conveniently comes with free lodging in an eerie apartment. On this creepy moonlit night, this lonely young man will encounter the entity which has been watching humanity since it began and invite it into his home. She's a terrifying Eldritch being beyond mortal comprehension - just his type. Um, you're here too, I guess.

Origins

Perks are 50% off for their matching origin. 100 point perks are free for matching origin.

Young Adult

You're just a fresh faced youth finally putting yourself out there (because your mom evicted you). You didn't really do much before, but luckily you've found yourself a super sweet deal working at the local grocery store in this village. They gave you an apartment and everything. Of course, tons of people have been going missing around here, but that's nothing to be worried about, right?

1000 - Entity

You were born when the first life arose on Earth. You are a being shaped entirely by the desires of organisms - aspiration, hunger, thirst, impulse and lust. You're beyond the planes of existence humans understand so you have to send down manifestations into the world to interact with it. These manifestations naturally take on shapes befitting human desires, such as a lovecraftian Eldritch horror dommy mommy, but you can manually change your appearance to whatever you want. There are other beings like you out there, those being your parents and siblings. Your true capabilities are vague, but you can do some scary stuff. Your very presence can warp a village into a pitch black nightmarescape and you can do unspeakable things like make a person into an immortal flesh cube or brain trapped inside their own skull. If you liked them you could also just make them immortal and bring them to your realm of existence to be yours forever~. You just wanna find that special someone - is that so much to ask?

Perks

Young Adult

100 - Help Wanted

The job market sure is tough these days. You seem to be doing pretty well for yourself, though. Whenever you need a job you can find it immediately. Like, literally instantly upon needing one. It's not gonna be a particularly good job, but it'll keep you alive and you're guaranteed to get hired. If you're lucky, it could even come with a free house!

200 - Honey

I guess you didn't do LITERALLY nothing the past 25 years. Clearly you've learned to cook! You know how to make lots of delicious food like pizza and honey toast. You're good at arranging and presenting the food to make it look even more tasty. You have a strange sort of luck with your cooking in that you accidentally end up making the food fit the preferences of whoever you're making it for even more than it normally would. That's called a happy little accident.

400 - Rizzstincts

You know how to treat a lady - even if that lady is 7 feet tall and has eyes all over her body. Be it through luck or pure intuition, you always seem to make the exact right decisions romantically. Everything you say, every choice you make out of the theoretically infinite options always winds up being the very best choice you could've made. A girl could fall completely head over heels for you after just one date.

600 - Love Craft

A woman this special doesn't come around often - that's why you're gonna make her fall for you right now! It seems you are utterly fascinating and delightful to the sort of incomprehensible entity that Mrs. is. Whether it's a higher dimensional mommy, a creature which dreams up all existence or some sort of eldritch trickster toying with humanity, these beings just love you. You're able to keep your cool around them and treat them just like any other person, which only fascinates them more and draws them deeper into their desire for you. Wooing one would practically be child's play and wooing multiple sounds like a very fun (extremely dangerous) time.

Entity

100 - Disarming

Being a terrifying monster from humanity's collective nightmares doesn't exactly make it easy to make new friends. With you, though, you're just so charming that it's possible. Your demeanor is so pleasant that people find it easy to relax around you even if they know you're a horrific abomination that threatened to eat them a minute ago. You're very pleasant company in general.

200 - Tricksy

Although you're more powerful than any mortal could ever imagine, it's still fun to play little pranks on them from time to time. You're quite good at deception. You could pretend to be unable to read and an entire secret government organization dedicated to cataloguing and studying beings like you would never figure out otherwise. Pranks are fun.

400 - Many Eyes

You don't live billions of years without learning a thing or two. You're extremely sharp and perceptive - you can read almost anyone like a book and discern their thoughts half the time just from their face. It's not a very good idea to lie to you. Only very special individuals could be unique enough to slip your incredible powers of perception.

600 - The One

After countless eons of wandering it may seem like true love just doesn't exist, but you'll soon find that you're dead wrong. You've gained the luck to encounter your "soul mate", that special someone who can fulfill all your needs and desires. This person will be so special they'll drive you crazy thinking about them. You'll wonder how you could've ever lived without them and your love will be pure and eternal, as they'd never dream of betraying or leaving you. No matter what lies beyond in other worlds, your soul mate will always be your one and only perfect love, with no one else ever being able to measure up. Very, very soon you'll be the happiest girl in the cosmos!

Items

Free - Knife

A regular kitchen knife. Good for cutting up vegetables. Wait a minute, please don't tell me you're actually going to try to use this as a weapon against Mrs. and her kind? Oh, please do it. I'm sure it'll be very fun to watch.

100 - TV and Movies

Some people may say TV is outdated, but it can be pretty useful. This one shows an emergency broadcast giving vaguely useful instructions whenever some kind of monster is in the general area where you live. Besides that, you've got a VHS player with lots of movies that are great to watch on dates.

100 - Cute Doll

Aw, how adorable! This little doll looks a cross between an alien and a shark and it's just the cutest thing you've ever seen! Anybody you're on a date with will agree too, as giving them the doll as a gift will make them like you even more than they already did. Especially effective on monsters somehow.

100 - Honey Toast

Sweet, delicious honey toast. This breakfast/snack looks as good as it tastes, which is to say amazing. If you want more honey toast, simply wish for it and it will appear on a table or counter nearby, or just suddenly in your lap if you're one of those slobs who eats anywhere. No judgement, of course.

200 - Odd Apartment

A seemingly peaceful and serviceable lodging. Surprisingly big for just you. It's actually a trap, as it draws in big breasted monster women of all kinds. Horrors from beyond the stars, undead abominations, wicked nurses with no face formed from your very psyche! And they're all looking for romance! What sick bastard came up with this?! ...What do you mean you're into that?

300 - Dating Notes

Bumped into some kind of awful monster! Never fear, because the government is here to help! Whenever you encounter a monster of any variety, you'll quickly see lots of notes nearby from a secret government organization with highly detailed information about the entity and how to survive the encounter. There's a surprising amount of info also catered to wooing the entities. Very rarely, a piece of info will be bad but it should be pretty obvious when that's the case if you're paying attention.

Companions

100/200 - Eldritch Imports

Do we really need to get more people involved? Things are so intimate right now~. Oh, alright. You can create/import 2 companions for every 100 points spent here, granting them their own origin (though the only one they can afford is Young Adult) and 600 points to spend. Alternatively for 200 points, you can have one companion be of the Entity origin and get 600 points.

Free (Young Adult only) - Mrs.

Just what you've always wanted - a huge eldritch dommy mommy gf! Mrs., as she likes to be called since her true name is incomprehensible to humans, is a being that existed since the first life appeared on Earth, shaped by lifeform's desires. She appears as a very tall and curvaceous mature woman, though a more monstrous form slips out when she gets excited. She loves studying humans and learning what makes them tick. Her interests include horror movies, sweet food like honey toast, cute toys and devouring people who annoy her. She enjoys the company of people who are honest and composed around her, being respectful and catering to her preferences. She dislikes things she perceives as childish and hates insects. She's extremely perceptive and likes to tease others, ironically being just a tad childish herself. Despite the odd name, there's no Mr. as she's single. Mrs. seems to think you're the cutest, most special human she's ever met and wants to be with you forever and ever. Congrats! (Lucky bastard...)

Free (Entity only) - Cute Guy

Meet the self insert loser. His hobbies include playing online video games, fantasizing about monster women dominating him and pretty much nothing else. Despite how boring he sounds, he's cute and a great conversationalist. His behavior is unpredictable, which makes him extremely fun to be around. He always seems to know what you want and he's great at fulfilling those desires. Makes a mean honey toast. If you'd like, he can instead be a girl.

Drawbacks

+0 - Date Night

Let's be real - there's not a lot going on here besides a date. You can choose to just have that first date night with either Mrs. or the MC depending on your origin and then be on your way to the next jump immediately after. Nice and quick.

+100 - Till the Soil

Once man was in an ideal state, but then a sin was committed. God cast out His children from the garden for their own good and laid a curse upon them. Like Adam and Eve, you are doomed to till the soil and tend the beasts to survive this cruel, harsh world you're cast into. In other words, you can't be a freeloader and have to work to have a roof over your head and bread on the table. Why, God?

+100 - Roaches

Gross. It seems your living spaces are infested with roaches. Try as you might, you just can't get rid of the things and they get into all your stuff. The roaches have weirdly humanoid faces and keep jumpscaring you. That can't be good.

+200 - Lazybones

It's really hard to get out of bed in the morning and do anything productive knowing you could just stay inside and game all day. Your horrible laziness and gaming addiction are seriously impeding any progress in your life and are sure to irritate those around you. It's possible to overcome this condition through determination and your mom kicking you out of her basement.

+200 - Scary

You're very, very scary. It doesn't help that you keep showing off your true monster form and threatening to eat people when you interact with them. This is majorly hindering your social life, especially dating. That's okay, though. You just need to find someone who's into that.

+300 - Foundation

Some sort of super secret government organization is studying and hunting you. Their ultimate goal is to contain you in some facility and despite whatever immense powers you may have there's a surprisingly good chance that they could succeed. You'll need to constantly be on guard and dodge them at every opportunity or else wind up trapped in their clutches, failing your chain.

+300 - I Must Scream

Great news - you've got a hot date! Bad news - if you displease your date, you'll be consigned to a torturous fate on par with hell itself, like being trapped as an immortal flesh cube or stuck forever as just your brain trapped in your own severed skull. Your date has very particular tastes, so let's hope it goes well! Good luck tonight!

Honeymoon (End)

Did you have a nice date? Make some fun memories? Make some love? I sure hope so. Now it's time for the final choice.

Notes

- I don't know exactly what the eldritch mommy can do, as her powers are vague. She at least has all the powers described in the Entity origin and she was also able to unlock the MC's front door from the outside.
- Thanks for using my jump! God bless you!
