Almost Unique -??? CP

Something Rare Booster: Something Unique

In order to get the Perk Something Unique, you need to take both the Almost Unique Perk that it follows and the Something Rare Perk that is commented before the boosted Perk.

Special Perk:

Multi-Class – 100 CP

Hey, some JRPGs allow you to have more than one class. So with this, you can pick one more origin, thus granting you that origin's discounts. You can only purchase this once.

General Perks:

Class Kit – Free

This one is simple. You have the barebones basic abilities of your chosen class. Fighters be tougher and stronger. Rogues are more stealthy. Mages will be smarter and more skilled with magic. Cleric will be wiser and skilled with miracles (Holy Magic) and sacred rites.

Potential Growth– Free

Well, this is an JRPG-based document. So just like any other you can “Level up”. This happens when you have gained enough Experience points. You’ll have this mental gage that fills up when defeat enemies, complete quests, discover new areas, and beat the “Bosses” that are found in that jump like major villains that are not the big bad. As you Level Up you get stronger. There is a limit though. You can only level up to level 100

Fantasy Origin – Free (Cannot be taken with “Native”)

This is an Out of Context Origin Perk. At the start of a Jump, you can use this Narrative Perk to set your entry into the Jump Setting as by waking up in a house.

Dynamic Entry – Free (Requires 3 “Out of Context Origin Perks” from other Supplements)

Using this narrative perk you can dynamically craft your method of Dropping into a Jump.

Alchemist and Blacksmith – 100 CP

You could just keep buying health potions and all your weapons and armor. Or search for new weapons and armor in dungeons. But how about we remove the middleman? With this perk, you are skilled at Alchemy and blacksmithing.

Weapon Skills – 100 CP

In some games, a weapon is more than just a beat stick with stats you can also learn skills from them. Skills that you can only use wielding that specific type of weapon. For example, if you learn a slash attack while wielding an axe, you can only use that attack for axes. So really experiment with weapons and discover new skills.

Heart of an Explorer – 200 CP

You know what sucks getting lost. It would be a good idea to avoid getting lost so that way you can get to the nearest inn or town. But that may not always happen so this perk works in three ways. First, you are an expert camper. You know the ins and outs of camping. Second you have a natural sense of direction if you know where a location is you won't get lost making your way to that location. Finally, if you are feeling adventurous you can go out and explore but as you explore you may find some interesting sights. You may even find some hidden treasure and artifacts to loot.

Limit Breaker – 200 CP

Well this is a supplement about JRPGs and Limit Breaks are a common occurrence in the genre. You have your own Limit Breaker and the ability to obtain more Limit Breaks. You start with 3 of them. One that fits your personality and two based on your class. Fighters will be given Omni Slash (A series of slash attacks) and Bulwark (A Party wide buff that increases your defenses to the point you are invincible). Rogues are given Shadow Dance (An attack that hits every enemy on the battlefield) and Legion (Shadow Clone Jutsu). Wizards are given Meteor (A powerful spell that summons a barrage of Meteors to strike the enemies) and Arcane Burst (A beam of Mana). Clerics are given Rejuvenation (A powerful healing spell that heals everyone back to half health) and Cathedral (A party-wide buff spell that increases strength and defense and gives immunity to all status ailments for 2 hours or until the current battle is over).

Unlimited Discovery – 400 CP

Well, it would suck that you would be restricted to the classes that are on this document. Well, this perk prevents that. Now you can unlock and discover new classes to use during your journeys. This can be the result of completing quests, killing a certain amount of enemies of a particular species, equipping a specific weapon type, etc. So get out and explore the many avenues of life to unlock more classes for you to use on your journeys.

Bahamut's Blessing – 600 CP

Okay, this one is a bit odd to explain. Some adventurers rise to a level of power that can be considered divine. You are stronger, faster, and tougher. Strong enough to throw a mountain, fast enough to cross an entire ocean in a matter of minutes. Tough enough to tank a blow from an elder dragon. And this blessing has been granted to you. In addition, this perk is a capstone booster. Boosting all Capstone perks on this document

Unlimited Discovery Booster: Hero (Requires the purchase of 4 capstone perks)

As a rule of thumb, the Hero Job is the most broken job. In this case, this is because you can wield any weapon with no problems, can learn any spell and cast them for 25% less MP than necessary, your stats are higher than the average person, and you have HP Regen allowing you to recover 10% of your maximum HP every 10 seconds. Go forth, great hero!

No Cap – 600 CP

Normally each class can only tier up once. Not anymore with this, you can constantly as long as you continue to improve your skills in that class. This means you can start out as a fighter then tier up to Knight, then tier up to Dark Knight, then tier up to Crusader, then tier up to Paladin, and so on. The possibilities are never-ending.

Unlimited Discovery Booster: Endless Possibilities

Normally when you tier up you can only tier up from one job to the next. Once you make a choice you can't undo it. When you tier up you are given a choice between different classes and can only pick one. This wouldn't be a problem if you were able to go back and pick whatever option you didn't choose but you can't do that. That is unless you have this. With this you can go back and select whatever classes that you didn't pick to tier up into. Opening up more avenues of power and skills.

Bahamut's Blessing Booster: Dragon's Might

Okay this one is just insane. Okay first of all this will grant you access to the "Dragon" Class. A class that revolves around the power of a dragon. It includes the power to transform into a humanoid dragon form that is very powerful. As you master this class its abilities will begin to merge with other classes granting you access to more powerful variants of those classes. Second of all you are immune to one element of your choice (Water, Fire, Earth, Air, Ice, Lightning, Light, or Dark) and have access to a variety of skills that are based off of that element and a breath weapon for that element. Finally Monsters have a chance to drop heart shaped crystal known as a “Monster Heart”, you can absorb these crystals to gain access to a class that is based off of that monster. Get out there and discover new avenues of power

Taunt – 100 CP (Free for Fighter)

Unlimited Discovery Booster: Black Belt

Weapons are good, but you will not always have access to your weapons. So, why not learn how to fight unarmed? Well, luckily you took your skills with ki and mastered it. Becoming a monk. Masters of unarmed combat. Through harsh training, your unarmed strikes are as strong as most martial weapons. In addition, somehow you, your unarmed strike can harm spirits and get through foes' resistance towards nonmagical weapons.

RAGE! – 400 CP (Discounted for Fighter)

Your anger can be used as a weapon. The angrier you get the stronger you become.

These types of warriors are known as Barbarians or Berserkers or Vikings. When you get angry you enter this berserk state that makes you several times stronger, allowing you to perform some powerful attacks that will leave your foes staggered.

Master of War – 600 CP (Discounted for Fighter)

Clerics are not the only ones that can use holy spells and miracles. You too have access to such spells but not as many as a cleric would. In addition, you have access to several other abilities at your disposal that Clerics don't have. First is the Divine Sense: The presence of strong evil registers on your senses like a noxious odor, and powerful good things like heavenly music in your ears. the ability to use a "Smite".

Bahamut's Blessing Booster: Knight

Bahamut's blessing your skills in combat have improved to super natural level as a result you have been granted the class Knight. Your skills in combat are on the same level as grand masters. But also you have access to some minor healing and buffing spells. But more importantly you have access to the unique skill smite. Which is an attack that deal more damage by channeling some mana into your weapon and striking with it. You also, have the ability to take the damage that was meant for an ally called "Self-Sacrifice".

I'll Just Increase My Defense So I Don't Get Hurt Booster: Spartan

The best offense is the best defense. None knew this better than the Spartans. So yeah its not surprise that a class is based on these ancient Greek warrior. So how does class work? The Spartan class has a focus on defense obviously but more importantly this class turns your shield into a weapon. Because it features several attacks that require a shield to use. In addition, they have a few attacks that deal damage based on your defense stats.

Combat Techniques Booster: Dragoon

Well, here it is the Dragon Knights of JRPGs. Dragoons are experts at the spear with attacks that cause them to leap high into the air and come crashing down on their target. They also have an attack called Lancet which strikes the enemy and heals yourself. You also gain proficiency in riding creatures like Horses or dragons. All that is impressive right? Now add breath weapons. You heard me. This class grants a variety of breath weapons that you can unleash on your foes.

Live by the Sword – 600 CP (Discounted for Fighter)

You must die by the sword that the code of the samurai. Well here this means something else. When you are wielding a sword you move faster than normal. Like twice as fast. Next thing here is that you have an interesting resistance. Basically, any attack that isn't a sword-based attack won't deal the full amount of damage. What would normally be an insta kill move will only leave you at death's door. This includes Spells too. Also you gain access to a sword beam attack. But where can you go from here?

Bahamut's Blessing Booster: True Blade

Omae Mou Shindeiru. Well, not really. Anyways what separates True Blades from Knights is that while Knights are Mighty Glaciers, True Blades are more like Fragile Speedsters. But they are much stronger than any Rogue. True Blades have a set of skills that focus on striking the enemy quick and hard. Some attacks will allow you to deliver a weak quick attack that opens your foes for a follow-up attack. basically you attack and then you immediately get another turn. You also have access to an iajutsu attack that has a chance to insta-kill or miss completely

I'll Just Increase My Defense So I Don't Get Hurt Booster: Samurai

Yeah remember when I mentioned the code of the Samurai? Yeah, you are one now. However unlike real world Samurai you aren't chained to some lord or leader. No, instead you are an armored sword master that has a selection of sword techniques called Bushido, Each of these attacks aims to attack every enemy on the field at lightning-fast speeds. Along with some 'Break' abilities which are special attacks that lowers enemy's stats.

Combat Techniques Booster: Kensei

I AM THE STORM THAT IS APPROACHING! PROVOKING BLACK CLOUDS AND ISOLATION! Okay this one is a bit tricky to get a handle of but once you do whoo boy it's a rush. First of all this class can only use swords and Katanas that's it. However, in exchange, you have access to skills that can be best described as magic but with a sword. These are called Sword Arts. Each one allows to use of a special attack that can hit just as hard as a spell and/or have the same range as a spell. There is another Caveat with this class. Kensei's don't wear heavy armor or medium armor. So will be less fragile than True Blades.

Rogue:

Pragmatic Skills – 100 CP (Free for Rogue)

You are not really equipped to fight directly nor do you any skill with magic. So you learn how to fight indirectly with plenty of misdirection and dirty tricks. You know every underhanded trick for combat the thing is you have to learn how to put those skills to use. Also you are skilled in clubs, daggers, great clubs, hand axes, javelins, light hammers, maces, quarterstaves, sickles, spears, hand crossbows, longswords, rapiers, short swords, and any other weapon that can be classified as roguish.

Karma's Favorite – 100 CP (Free for Rogue)

Okay, this has nothing to do with Karma but it may seem like it. In short, you are ridiculously lucky. So lucky that you can go to a casino with only a hundred dollars and win so many times that you bankrupt the casino while you get richer. But be careful luck can only get you so far.

Perfect Disguise – 200 CP (Discounted for Rogue)

Being stealthy is one of the cornerstones for being a rogue. Do you know what would help with that? Disguises. For you, disguises are like a part of your everyday life. You can come up with a convincing disguise with as little as a pair of glasses and a cloak and with little as a minute to put it together. Being a master of Disguises is very useful so use it to your fullest advantage.

Critical Eye – 200 CP (Discounted for Rogue)

You have an eye for details. But this is more than just finding fine details on an object. This is also finding weaknesses in your foes' defenses and angling your strikes to strike in a way that deals more damage. In other words, you can deal critical hits more often.

Charlatan's Tongue – 400 CP (Discounted for Rogue)

There is more to being a rogue than just sneaking around, stealing things and cheating like a bastard in combat. You also have to be good at being charismatic. You can make a convincing argument and have a way with words.

Unlimited Discovery Booster: Bard

Hmm, a way with words eh? Maybe to SEDUCE?! Wait hang on that is TTRPG Bards. These bard more like the musician that plays mystical melodies to buff their allies and debuff their enemies. However, that is not all they have access to a variety of sound based attacks...there has been accounts of some of them being able to defeat power foes with their music. From powerful liches to automatons designed to destroy powerful dragons. Let your allies rejoice at the sound of voice and your enemies tremble.

Sea Shanty – 400 CP (Discounted for Rogue)

The sea is a harsh mistress. Not for the faint of heart. You are not faint of heart. With this you have the skills and knowledge needed for sea voyages, sailing, and other things that would be useful for a sea fair adventure

Unlimited Discovery Booster: Pirate

YO HO HO HO! Surprised? I bet you are. Of course there are Pirate Classes in RPG Games. This one is based on most of them. This class grants you access to swordsmanship and skills with guns. Making you a dangerous opponent for whoever is foolish enough to challenge ye. But more importantly, this class has a variety of special techniques that either are themed after cannons or themed after the sea and its many dangers. Get out there you swashbuckler and show them land blubbers what for!

Dual Wielding – 600 CP (Discounted for Rogue)

Why wield one dagger or short sword when you can wield two? That's right you can dual wield! It may not seem like much but allow me to explain. Without this perk, you dual wielding skills will be mostly just attacking with two daggers that's it. But with this perk not only will you be able to attack with both daggers and short sword, you will also receive a buff in defense and offense. Sounds really cool huh. But you can only dual-wield short swords and daggers sorry.

Bahamut's Blessing Booster: Ninja

I AM NINJA! HE'S NINJA! SHE'S NINJA TOO! I AM NINJA! WE ARE NINJA! AND I BELIEVE THAT YOU ARE NINJA TOO! Ahhh. That song takes me back. Anyways. You are a bonafide ninja.

However, seeing this is an RPG Ninja it is a bit more fantastical than real-life ninjas...but I will include the skills of real-life ninjas with this perk. You are skilled at Dual wielding but unlike the regular “Dual Wielding” perk, you are no longer limited to the daggers and short swords. You can now dual-wield any weapon that isn’t two-handed. In addition, you have access to a few black mage spells. You can have access to the skill “Throw”. This allows you to throw items in such a way that they deal more damage than you would when you throw them normally. You are ridiculously fast to the point that when you run it will look like you are teleporting.. And all your attacks have a chance to insta-kill.

Perfect Disguise Booster: Spy

Well for RPGs the spy class doesn’t show up...like at all. Well except for one game. The idea is that you use daggers and Kodachis to fight, but your melee attacks don’t deal a lot of damage. They do inflict status ailments, however. So, this class combines quick strikes with status ailments like Sleep, Paralysis and most importantly Poison. You will discover other status ailments that you can infuse with your attacks you become more experienced with this class.

Critical Eye Booster: Assassin

Okay, so Ninja is about attacking twice as fast, while Spy is about inflicting status Ailment. But What if you could just hit the enemy just once and they die instantly? That’s what this class is about. The Assassin may not hit hard as the ninja but it has one deadly boon to it. Its critical hit rate is very high. Normally your chances to land a critical hit would be like 1.5%. An Assassin’s chances are 25%. Impressive huh? But that’s not all. Another deadly aspect of the Assassin is that their critical hits have a chance to insta-kill, A 25% chance for a critical hit to be an insta-kill. In addition, they have a variety of skills that cause your enemies to stagger or pierce their defenses.

Eagle Eye – 600 CP (Discounted for Rogue)

Well, you need to have a good eye to be a rogue when you think about it. Keeping an eye out for openings, guards, targets, etc. That’s why your eyesight is similar to that of an eagle in addition you have some skills with longbows.

Bahamut’s Blessing Booster: Marksman

Well maybe we should take those bow skills a step further, shall we? You are no longer an amateur. You are a Marksman. An expert with the bow...and guns. Hey, don’t look at me like that! It’s called marksman not bowman. Anyways these classes are all about shooting and attacking with ranged weapons. But it is most well known for its signature ability Rapid Fire.

This ability allows you to attack eight times at half strength but in addition, these attacks ignore defenses. Pretty cool. In addition, your accuracy is a bit better than most.

Perfect Disguise Booster: Beast Tamer

Well, we are dealing with something that is basically a ranger so let's add its cousin. Beast Tamers are masters of beasts. Their skills involve utilizing various taming techniques to paralyze or subdue their targets. You are also good at hiding from sight and smell. In addition, they can catch a monster and then release it causing the creature to do a special attack or spell, that people can't normally use. So get out there and start wrangling some critters.

Critical Eye Booster: Sniper

Boom. Headshot. Sniping's a good job mate. Challenging work. Outdoors. Wait....wrong sniper. Sorry! Anyways this class is similar to the Assassin but with one big difference. These guys don't care about critical hits. They focus on accuracy. This class is about hitting your target regardless of distance. Mostly seen in Fire Emblem. Snipers are the masters of long-range. This particular version has access to several skills involving increasing your accuracy, locking on to a target, Critical headshots, and marking targets. Marking a target makes it easier for you and your allies to hit the marked enemy. In addition, when you mark a target any ally that is inflicted with Berserk will attack the target that was marked instead of anyone that is closest to them. Like I said Sniping is a good job mate.

Wizard:

Magic Knowledge and the Dark Arts – 100 CP (Free for Wizard)

You can't be a wizard without knowing how to cast magic. This perk gives you the knowledge and skills needed to cast magic. In addition, you know the Dark Arts, such as Necromancy, curses, and hexes.

Knowledge Sponge 100 CP (Free for Wizard)

Being a wizard is like being a student. You need to study. And just like students it can be hard to retain what you learned. But not for you. You keep a photographic memory of whatever you learn from books and teachers. In addition, the amount of time it takes for you to understand a concept from reading a book or hearing it from a teacher is now reduced by half

Stage Magic – 200 CP (Discounted for Wizard)

Well, this is unusual. Normally mages focus on actual magic that they can use for research or combat. But hey sometimes you get bored and find ways to entertain yourself. This type of magic is mostly used for entertainment purposes. Fireworks, dancing lights, that sort of thing. But it also makes you skilled at using daggers and cards as weapons.

Forbidden Knowledge – 200 CP (Discounted for Wizard)

You know it's funny. Magic is similar to science in a way. Scientists tend to try something REALLY dangerous just to see what happens. Same thing can be said about magic. However, this has yielded some morally ambiguous results. Access to this knowledge is banned and seeking it would be considered a crime. But You...you found a way to obtain this knowledge. This includes things like dark rituals. Eldritch knowledge. Techniques in Necromancy that is not normally covered by regular studies.

Power of Observation – 400 CP (Discounted for Wizard)

There are multiple ways to learn magic. Outside of just studying of course. One of those ways includes observing your enemies and learning from their movements and behavioral patterns. This can be used for inspiration to make new spells

Unlimited Discovery Booster: Blue Mage

Hmm Sometimes you can't help but feel jealous of the monsters. Some of the things they can do are amazing. But alas you can't do the things that they do. OR CAN YOU?! That's right there are people who have learned how to imitate or just outright copy some of the abilities that monsters use. These are Blue Mages. One of the hardest types of mages to be. They can only learn spells from Monsters. When a monster does a special move, you can learn it....by being hit by it. You can then replicate as a blue magic spell. So get out there fight monsters and discover what you can learn from the creatures that you normally fight.

Time is On My Side – 400 CP (Discounted for Wizard)

Or is it? Well this may not seem like much but what this perk does is that it gives a unique awareness of time. More specifically aware of paradoxes that can occur as a result of your actions. Good for avoiding universe ending paradoxes or time loops.

Unlimited Discovery Booster: Time Mage

Time is said to be the ultimate killer. It kills everyone eventually and no one can control it. Well, tell that last part to a Time Mage. Time mages are an interesting kind of magic user. They found a way to take the forces of time and bend it to their will. Well not completely. Time magic can cause a target to move at a snail's pace or hasten their movements and actions. They can also cause things to age or de-age. However, if it is something living like animals, insects, humans, etc. the effect will be undone after a few minutes. But it gets weird. Time mages can also call summon comets to strike their enemies. That would be more around the realms of Space but hey time and space go hand in hand sometimes.

Dark Magic Expert – 600 CP (Discounted for Wizard)

Now hold your horses don't be fooled by the name. What Dark Magic means here is basically all types of attack magic. IT just that loads of dark attribute spells fall under this category and you are well-versed in these spells.

Bahamut's Blessing Booster: Magus

To a point? My apologies I didn't know I was in the presence of a Magus. Magus are the top dogs of all Mages. All black mages at least. Anyways Magus have amazing insight on the dark side of magic. Hexes curses, debilitating spells, you name it they have it and know it. Also they are REALLY good at using dark spells. So yes you can hit your enemies with a DARK MAGIC ATTACK!

Stage Magic Booster: Trickster

Also called Red Mage. But this one is a bit special because it combines Final Fantasy's Red Mage, Final Fantasy's Mystic Knight, and Dragon Quest's Armamentalist. You have some skills in Healing magic and debuff spells. In addition, you are competent with a sword. But more importantly, you can infuse spells in your weapons allowing you to attack an enemy and cause the spell to activate after the initial strike hits.

Forbidden Knowledge Booster: Necromancer

RISE FROM YOUR GRAVE! Now that we got that meme out of the way let talk about this one. Necromancers are frowned upon in the magic society, Something about messing with the realm of the dead just seems wrong to them. But what classifies as Necromancy in the world JRPG? Simple anything that has a undead vibe to it. What I mean by this is that any spell that temporarily calls forth a skeleton or some other undead is classified as Necromancy. Using spells that have a chance to Insta-Kill? Necromancy. Spells that Drain the life out of a target? Necromancy. So yeah Necromancers are the experts at creepy and evil looking spells. But hey You don't have to be evil to be a Necromancer

Spirit Magic – 600 CP (Discounted for Wizard)

When it comes to magic, knowledge is power. Knowing how magic works is only half the battle. Understanding it is another thing entirely. But what can give you better insight on this? The ancient spirits. These entities have taught a special brand of magic that affect the spiritual plane and affect the targets souls. But more importantly Elemental Spells can be found among some Spirit Spells, There is so much to learn about this kind of magic. But if you keep up your research you may be able to unlock more secrets

Bahamut's Blessing Booster: Sage

Or you might have already discover those secrets. You are now some would call a scholar but the real word to describe you is Sage. These Magic users are revered as much as Magus are. Your skills in Spirit Magic have granted you access to all forms of Elemental Magic. Water, Fire, Earth Air, Lightning, Ice, Light, Darkness it doesn't matter. If it is a spell that uses the elements, you know how to cast it and how to use it. In addition, you know some MINOR healing spells. But leave healing magic to clerics.

Stage Magic Booster: Luminary

Whereas Trickster focuses on the magic. Luminary focuses on the Stage. This class can also be called the Illusionist. Anyways, this class is about showing off and bedazzling foes or making them laugh with your magic tricks. With some help from the spirits, you can really leave them mesmerized. This is based on the Luminary and Jester Classes from Dragon Quest.

Forbidden Knowledge Booster: Warlock

A dark deal was made between you and the spirits granting you access to fiendish magic. Mages that use this type of magic are called Warlocks. Now unlike DND Warlocks these guys are not bound to some deal to some supernatural entity. No they use magic that comes from more....morally ambiguous sources. They are experts at spells that can essentially hurt someone at the spiritual level. What I mean by that is that most of their spells are non elemental meaning they can't be resisted but they also carry a chance to inflict a status ailment. In addition, they tend to be good Dark and Fire spells. They even have their own element type called Hellfire; which is a combination of the two.

Cleric:

MEDIC! – 100 CP (Free for Cleric)

Adventurers will face adversity and need someone to keep them from dying. That someone is you. In addition to healing spells you have knowledge in medicine. No one is dying on your watch! Whether you have Mana or not.

Basics of Exorcism, Religious Wisdom, and Holy Rites – 100 CP (Free for Cleric)

What you ARE a cleric. So not knowing about Religious stuff would be embarrassing. Anyways you are now an expert in all religions that exists in the current jump. If it wasn't obvious this perk will update every time you enter a new jump Also, you know how to Exorcise ghosts and demons out of people

DEUS VULT – 200 CP (Discounted for Cleric)

IN THE NAME OF GOD! IN THE NAME OF GOD! IN THE NAME OF GOD WE GO TO HEAVEN!

Sorry, couldn't be helped. Anyways, while Clerics are the party's healers, they also need to know how to fight. Monsters, Bandits, what have you; won't leave you alone just because you're a Cleric. So you have some skills in combat. Such as knowing how to use, clubs, maces, slings, small crossbows, and swords. In addition, you have a knack for detecting heretics– I mean hidden foes So you can purge– I mean expose them.

Knowledge of the Natural – 200 CP (Discounted for Cleric)

The gods created the lands you walk on. So it would be wise to have some knowledge about it right. Nothing to crazy just what is edible, what is poisonous, what will make you high....NO! NOT FOR THAT REASON! Anyways You will also learn about what creatures may live in each the environments that you visit or travel through during your adventures.

Connection to the Espers – 400 CP (Discounted for Cleric)

Okay first of all an Esper here isn't a psionics user. Esper refers to mystical creatures of magic that are basically gods to some people. This perk means you can commune with mystical creatures and be understood.

Unlimited Discovery Booster: Summoner

But you what would be better than just talking with Espers? Summoning them! But not just anyone can summon Espers. Those who can are called...Summoners. Huh. Anyways wit this class, you call forth Esper and creatures and beings that are similar to Espers. They will fight alongside until the battle is over. They also have their Limit Break that they can use but use this wisely because chances are that after using their Limit break they'll leave the battle.

Prediction – 400 CP (Discounted for Cleric)

So... uh... yeah there's no way other way to say this. The perk gives you the ability to have visions of what's to come. Be it dangers, Natural disasters, or possible ambushes. Just be careful, you may be able to see the future but you may not be able to see what comes next.

Unlimited Discovery Booster: Oracle

It's one thing to predict a natural disaster, it's another thing to be able to turn said disaster on your foes instead of your allies. That's what Oracles do. Yeah, that's right. People who normally predict these things have learned to weaponize their abilities to not only predict what their enemies are going to do but also to redirect natural disasters to their desired target. Although, that's not what's really happening here. The Oracle is using those predictions of disasters to create powerful holy spells that imitate the disaster albeit on a much smaller scale. However, some of their spells are blessings that buff their allies and heal them. A very versatile class to be sure.

Triage – 600 CP (Discounted for Cleric)

Time waits for no man, but it waits for you. When you would have to decide who lives and who dies, who gets the benefits of your healing, and who is too far gone, you are given a bit more time to save a few more lives. Your order of operations, always ensures the maximum number of people survive to be healed, and time seems to flex just a little to let you save just one more.

Bahamut's Blessing Booster: Saint

But what if you could help that one that everyone says is too far gone? What if your reach with healing magic was greater? What if you could ensure that EVERYONE survives? Well, that's what a Saint desires. These clerics are the pinnacle of healing classes. They have access to spells that can a large amount of people in a large radius around them. They can heal their themselves and others back to perfect health, without a single scar or bruise present on their body. To the undead, a Saint is a walking terror because their healing spells deals damage to them. But that's not all Saints also have this aura of healing around them that everyone in their party benefits from, granting them regen and one charge of Auto-Life.

DEUS VULT Booster: Crusader

Now this may seem like a Paladin's but it isn't. See the Paladin is main focus is combat. The Crusader's Main focus is keeping the party alive. This means you know a large variety of support skills and spells. Such as an array of auras that you can use to buff your allies.

Knowledge of the Natural Booster: Druid

Hey, druids are all about being one with nature and that can be seen being an extension of clerics. Anyways Druids in JRPGS tend to be secondary healers with several nature themed healing spells and buffing spells. But what makes them so useful and different from normal clerics is that their spells do two things at once. They heal/Buf and remove status ailments. Sure they have some attack spells, such as using vines to whip their targets or calling some beast for aid. But they are mostly focused on healing in JRPGS...or shapeshifting. Oh yeah, Druid can shape-shift. You know what? I'll add this as well. You can transform into a bear stronger and still be able to cast your spells. Use that as you see fit.

Retribution – 600 CP (Discounted for Cleric)

Okay, healing is great but not all spells that Clerics use are meant for healing. Yeah, there are also spells that are used for damaging targets. These Spells tend to deal with Light Damage. Which makes it the perfect counter for demons and devils.

Bahamut's Blessing Booster: Avenger

Saints heal. Avengers punish. These dark-robed Clerics' main priority isn't to heal their allies. It's to destroy their enemies with divine magic. In addition, they have their own special element type. Good. No, really that's the name of the element. You may know it by its other name Holy. We can't call the element Holy because that's a spell that you can learn. Anyways Avengers tend to be the person to turn to when you have a villain, an evil being that needs to be struck down by some righteous fury. Demon and Devil will fear you and your divine spells

DEUS VULT Booster: Templar

Whereas Crusader Defends and Heals. Templars Attack and Harm. Templars are more about offense than defense. Their skills include light attribute attack magic. Debuff spells and more importantly a variety of anti-magic skills/spells.

Knowledge of the Natural Booster: Witch Doctor

Okay, so a Druid is more about protecting nature and its inhabitants from danger and healing others through nature's blessings and power. A Witch Doctor attacks invaders and evil with the Fury of Mother Nature's darker side. Instead of flowers and trees healing you and your allies, vines and thorns strike your enemies. Using honey to heal, you use toxins and swamp water to poison your foes. More horrifyingly you can summon large spiders and shambling masses to aid you in battle. And even launch flaming skulls at your enemies.

Sometimes when you add a spell in the book it will light up and enter an additional spell that’s related to the spell you have recorded. For example, if you recorded a lightning spell the tome will add a storm spell in addition to the lightning spell you recorded.

And So are they – 100 (Requires They're with Me)

Instead of 8 companions, you can import them all. This may seem like an odd option, but hey in RPGs, you can have an entire army of party members. So it isn't too crazy. Anyways, any companions imported with this option receive the same amount of CP as those imported with the "They're with Me" purchase. This means they will either have 600 CP or 1200 CP.
