Episode 0: Andy and Leyley and the Prologue

Once upon a time there was a happy couple - Renee and Douglas. The two lovers, at a very young age, had a child named Andrew. Two years later, they had yet another child named Ashley. The two siblings quickly became inseparable, not out of natural love but due to Renee expecting Andrew to raise Ashley for her. The result was Andrew and Ashley killing a girl named Nina as very little kids and forming an unbreakable pact to always be together forever.

We cut to the present, where our two heroes are starving to death in their apartment under a quarantine due to parasites. The siblings are very desperate for food and would turn to just about any source. They'll soon discover that this parasite story was a farce created to harvest the organs of the tenants. Employing some help from the demonic, they destroy their apartment building, then run from the law as they attempt to mend their twisted, tattered sibling bond. Will they bury their past traumas and move on, or will their relationship decay until everything falls apart?

You're in the same grim, depressing world as these two, starting off as they've been trapped in their apartment for several months. Just what adventures will you get up to? Whatever you're planning, take this little gift to help you out.

+1000 Souls

Episode 1: Origins of Tragedy

Pick an origin. Perks and items are 50% off for matching origin, except 100 soul perks and items which are instead free for matching origin.

Berated Brother

You're the big brother to an interesting sister. Interesting she's still alive, specifically. Your bond with her is very close and she almost sees you like a father since your parents are absurdly neglectful. Woe is you, you melodramatic baby.

Shameless Sister

You are evil incarnate behind a cute face and a nice set of tits. An imouto you are, one who's taken quite the liking to teasing, bullying, berating, gaslighting and otherwise messing with your big bro. That's what big bros are for, aren't they?

Pretentious Parent

Having kids is a sacred responsibility, one you probably shouldn't have undertaken. You're a broke and overworked parent with two very troubled and troubling children. At least your spouse is super hot and great at fucking.

Precious Paramour

Life hasn't been easy for you. You're just a young adult with a history of abuse and self-harm. Things have been terrible so far, but maybe you could find love? Eh, they're probably gonna abuse you too.

Bland Bystander

Yawn*, hm? Is someone there? Oh, it's you. You're so uninteresting and ordinary I barely noticed. Just a regular doctor who gets off on taking people's guts out or a CEO dabbling in organ harvesting. Entirely unremarkable.*

Deceptive Demon (500)

It turns out people's souls change based on their perception of themselves. You embraced being pure evil and eventually "ascended" to become an all powerful! ...weird black shape. Okay, you might not look that scary but you're a soul with the ability to eat other souls to gain power. You don't need a physical body anymore but you need to eat souls to survive. Your natural habitat is a weird spirit realm where everything is puzzles for some reason. Besides eating souls, you can create portals from the human realm to the demon realm. Not vice versa though, cuz you need to BE summoned to enter the human realm and you can only hurt people or take their souls if they are offered as part of a deal, though deals can be pretty loosely interpreted if the human you're bargaining with is a dumbass (they're probably a dumbass).

Episode 2: The Perky Perks

Free - Witty Banter

Prepare to enter the arena of verbal combat! Much like our dynamic duo, you enjoy many a bout of the nation's favorite pastime - trading wits with twits for giggles and shits. Though you may or may not be a dumbass otherwise, when it comes to making scathing remarks or witty retorts you have the wisdom of Solomon. Use this power responsibly, to lovingly bully your sibling and not hatefully bully someone else. That would make you a dickhead.

Free - Pick up Line

Psst. Hey, buddy! Ever been nervous on a date with a pretty girl? Not sure what to say? Well, here's a little tip. Just say "You've got a twinkle in your eye... and I wish upon it for a kiss." You'll be smooching in no time flat. Trust me - it works eeeeevvvvery time.

100 - Proficient Puzzler

This world is weirdly structured around puzzles, especially the demon realm. Soooo, it'd probably be nice if you were good at puzzles, yeah? Well, you are! Whether it's pushing blocks or sucking cocks (in the correct order), it's all as natural to you as breathing. This also means your general problem solving has gotten better and you can think fast to get yourself out of sticky situations.

100 - To Serve Man

New skill unlocked - Cooking Human Flesh Lv.1! At some point you decided to learn how to cook up people like prized pigs and you've mastered over 1000 ways to prepare 'em using every part of the body. You also know how to cook non-human parts, but where's the fun in that?

100 - Toxic Love Story

Some relationships are destined to fail (and probably shouldn't have been attempted if we're being honest). Dating your sister and getting her pregnant with a litter of Hills Have Eyes mutants has historically not worked out for those who tried it. That doesn't mean that it has to fail - maybe if you try hard enough, you can make it work. Somehow, you can manage to make even the most unhealthy relationships work. You really can fix your abusive boyfriend who beats you unconscious or your psycho girlfriend that eats clumps of your hair when you're not looking. What a beautiful trainwreck!

Berated Brother

100 - Studious

You don't really get why other people hate schoolwork. For you it's fun! Not only are you good at reading and learning new things, but you find it relaxing and enjoyable. You even have some slight talent in poetry. It helps that your teachers tend to heap praise on good little boys like you. Kiss-ass.

200 - Not an Idiot

A functioning brain is a terrible thing to waste, and vanishingly rare around these parts. Your critical thinking skills allow you to figure out other people's goals and motivations, see through their tricks and lies and generally tackle situations in a logical and efficient manner quickly. You're not a genius or anything, but it's gonna be way harder to fool you than it is for the average NPC wandering the streets.

400 - Mr. Smooth

Well, well, well, it seems Mr. Woe-is-me has some evil in him. Typical manipulator tactic. It's always been easy for you to play others with that silver tongue of yours, whether it's tricking impressionable young women into thinking you're the guy for them or convincing the cops you are not, in fact, the guy they're actively looking for. No matter the jam you can come up with some lie or bluff to get you out of it. Your charms tend to be more effective on the stupid and naive. I guess you did get something from mommy after all.

600 - Development

It's funny the way people change. One minute you're a bright eyed young lad and then before you know it you're chopping your sister into pieces small enough to fit in Tupperware containers. But that doesn't just happen, because your life is ultimately the sum of your decisions. At the very least you seem to have an extremely good understanding of where your decisions will lead. This isn't just basic common sense, but a sixth sense that lets you know that if you choose to do a certain thing you're gonna have a bad time and so you really shouldn't do it. Arguably just as important, you understand how you're developing as a person, who you really are on the inside and whether or not what you're doing is gonna change that for the better or the worse. Only you can decide who you're gonna be.

Shameless Sister

100 - Artist

Many people, like your mom, might call you worthless, a mistake, a waste of oxygen and stem cells, not worth the money she'd get selling your organs on the black market... but that's not entirely true! You're a very good artist! Pick a type of art and if you keep working at it you could eventually be one of the best with some hard work and determination! Take that, fat whore mom!

200 - Brat

If there's one thing little sisters are known for, it's relentlessly teasing their big brothers. You're good at finding ways to get into your brother's or anyone's head and come up with insults and mind games that really tick them off and make them play into your nonsense. Due to how much of a little shit you are, you don't really care who you mess with. You have no social anxiety since you don't give a fuck about almost anyone anyways, free to say whatever you want to whoever you want. This will probably get your brother in trouble, but he's used to it.

400 - Save Me, Bro!

Actions have consequences. Consequences for your brother to face instead of you! Your sisterly aura™ draws in brother figures and makes them want to protect and help you no matter how much of an annoying bitch you are, ensuring you pretty much always have some sort of guardian and caretaker in your life carrying you like a sack of flour. It also makes them horny for you, but what can you do? Both these things go double for ACTUAL brothers. Such is the magic of the sisterly aura™.

600 - Tar Soul

The soul is the very core of a person's being. It encapsulates everything that you are. Probably not a good sign that yours is a giant tar-black monster. Let's be real, we both knew you weren't a saint. This does have its advantages, though. For one thing, your soul provides no sustenance or benefits of any kind to demons or other such entities that would normally seek to possess it/eat it, so they won't even try taking it from you. In fact, these beings like dealing with you and are far more friendly and cordial with you than they would be with the average mortal. They wouldn't cause too much of a fuss if you half-assed the ritual to summon them, for example. Finally, if you fully embrace being a purely evil being you can shed your mortal flesh and become a fully fledged demon. Maybe then you could finally be with your brother forever and ever...

Pretentious Parent

100 - Got it Going On

Wow. Hoo, is it hot in here? You're a damn sexy thing, especially given your age. To be honest, I'm pretty sure you're only getting hotter as you get older. That body of yours could drive someone to madness, or into a very toxic and dangerous relationship. Whichever is worse.

200 - Doormat Extraordinaire

You're not a sub - you're THE sub. Hot and dominant people looking for love are naturally drawn to you, which I'm sure you're very happy about. While that's nice and all, what's really nifty is that you're so bitch-made that other people automatically expect your uselessness and typically go out of their way to take charge and do things for you so you never have to worry that pretty little head of yours. The dommy mommy of your dreams is out there somewhere.

400 - Sex Machine

Some people just give off that vibe that lets you know they fuck like an animal. You're one of those people, you sick freak. You're quite used u-l mean, "experienced" with the horizontal tango. And the vertical tango. And the perpendicular tango, upside down tango - you get the idea. Besides being really kinky, knowing how pretty much every sex toy and torture device ever conceived should be used and having the uncanny skill to make anyone cum really hard it seems like sex with you is so good it fixes your relationships. If you're ever in a fight just drop your pants and paradise is peaceful once again. Not that you'd be fighting that often anyways if you're regularly getting it on.

600 - True Love

We're all looking for that special someone who validates our existence and makes us feel funny when we look at them. In your case, you may just find them. If you get into a relationship with someone, it will quickly turn into a truly deep and passionate romance, the kind where you can't stop thinking about your love and would do anything to make them happy. Your other will feel this too, even if they're the last sort of person you'd expect. The type of horrible witch who'd sell her kids for cash would still love you from the bottom of her pitch black heart.

Precious Paramour

100 - Cutie

Oh my gosh, you are precious! I just wanna pinch your cheeks and kiss your forehead and kick you and stab you and - sorry, I think cute aggression took over temporarily. Honestly, though, you're so adorable in your appearance and your behavior that anyone with a conscience would be desperate to make you happy and protect your smile. Being this cute should be a crime!

200 - Cutting Off

Letting go of a relationship is never easy, but when your boyfriend's sister sends you hundreds of death threats daily and then he gaslights you about it being your fault, that's about when it's time to dip out. You'll be able to muster the courage to break off toxic relationships of all kinds and when you do there's surprisingly little blowback after. Not a lot of blowing in general at that point.

400 - Intuition

This world is full of creeps, but you've got a sixth sense for sniffing them out that goes beyond regular women's intuition. You can always tell when someone isn't being legitimate. Past all the smooth words and pleasant smiles, you can feel the hollow monster underneath. Usually it manifests in a visceral desire to run away. You should listen if you wanna live!

600 - Happy End!

*Bad things happen. People suffer, people get abused, people hurt themselves, but that's life. It can feel like the end of the world, but it isn't. Despite all the troubles and traumas of your past, you'll find that if you behave well and keep your head down, your life steadily improves over time and you narrowly dodge terrible fates that could've consumed you. If you choose to associate with people who are bad for you (not bad in general, just for you specifically), though, there will be no protection from the calamities they bring into your life. To think things worked out for such a wholesome person sniffle...it makes me tear up!*

Bland Bystander

100 - Beneath Notice

You are not nobody. You're less than nobody, at least in the eyes of people who matter. While that may sound incredibly depressing and pathetic (it is), It also means that as long as you're not trying to get involved in cults or high-level corporate organ harvesting conspiracies or cannibal sibling incest then those things will just so happen to pass you by and you will be able to continue your super boring existence. Hurray for being irrelevant!

200 - Sick Surgeon

You may not have magical powers or demonic knowledge, but you have something far better - you went to medical school. That means you're better than everyone who didn't on a metaphysical level, if Asian parents are to be believed. You're a licensed surgeon with the knowledge and technical skills to remove tumors and organs no problem. Whether or not they actually needed those organs taken out is besides the point, which is that you're good at your job.

400 - Demonologist

Okay, so I was right to get a creepy vibe off you. The giant cultist robes were what tipped me off. You are very practiced in the occult arts, specifically in the field of summoning and dealing with demons. You know all sorts of rituals which actually work without getting you killed and, just as importantly, know how to construct deals and contracts with demons so that they don't get one over on you. You're also charismatic enough to make for a pretty good cult leader. Just a heads up: the demons may not be able to have sex with you. I'm sorry.

600 - Big Business

People in this world only want two things - money and to have sex with their sister. I don't know if you have a sister so you'll just have to settle for money. You got all the vague business related skills to found a nationwide empire of disgusting soda or some other horrible product. More importantly and more profitably, you know how to run illegal businesses like organ harvesting operations and sweep it all under the rug without anyone finding out. In fact the government's probably in on it.

Deceptive Demon

100 - Something Terrifying

You are evil incarnate. Kinda. You're more like a weird shadow looking thing, but the point is that you're very scary, enough to make people freeze in terror. You only become more frightening the more powerful you are, as just being in your presence will be like standing before an evil god.

200 - Something Kind

Yeah, yeah, "rooooooarr, boo!" is scary and all, but the truly terrifying thing about demons is their ability to manipulate the hearts of mortals. You know how to take someone at their lowest point and make them feel understood, even cared about. Regardless of your horrific appearance they'll see you as a true friend or at least someone whose shoulder they can cry on. Once they trust you they're already in the palm of your hand.

400 - Making Deals

Demons can only interact with mortals through deals - if you want to Take a soul you'll have to get permission first. Not necessarily from the person themselves, mind you, just any person. For the more clever among demons this is barely a restriction. By now you've figured out every possible trick and loophole you can set up to get people into bad deals. One little word gets left out of a sentence and the next thing you know you've got a new soul for your pretty little garden. You're smart enough that even coming up with these in the moment is trivial.

600 - Magic BS

While demons are mostly just shadowy monsters that consume human souls, you have powers far beyond that of a regular demon. These powers involve some form of supernatural sight. You could have the ability to peer into the future and prophesy to warn of incoming dangers, or perhaps you can see into someone's memories and their heart. Whatever your powers allow you to see, you cannot only see it but make artifacts that allow others to see it too like a little dreamcatcher trinket. These tools usually need to be recharged which is simple enough for you but quite the task for a mortal. I guess they'll just have to bring you some more souls if they want it to keep working.

Episode 3: Probably Illegal Items

Free - Meat

Tasty, tasty meat ready for cooking. Just don't ask where it came from or how I got it because I'm not telling you. It's ethically sourced, I can assure you. They definitely had it coming...

Free - Cleaver

A cleaver perfect for acquiring said meat. Remains exceptionally sharp, sharp enough to kill a man with one chop if you get him in the right spot. A truly classic and iconic weapon.

Free - INCREDIBLE MOP!

HOLY SHIT!!! This is the best mop you've ever seen in your LIFE!!!! Cleans up mud stains, bloodstains, cum stains like it's NOTHING!!!!!! What are you waiting for, get the damn mop RIGHT NOW!!!!!!

100 - Booze

When you're miserable and down in the dumps, there's always one friend you can rely on - alcohol. You've got a limitless supply of all sorts of alcohol so you don't have to think about all those horrible, horrible mistakes you made that got you to this point.

100 - Coffin Apartment

Home sweet home. This apartment has utilities, some crappy furniture and not much else. Definitely not any food. On the bright side, it's all paid for. One side effect is that very emotionally intense things tend to happen here when you're here with one other person you care for.

Berated Brother

100 - Ciggies

Feeling stressed? Why not try the cool, refreshing taste of a cigarette? Smoking these helps you relax and makes you look damn cool while doing it. Just because you're a special little snowflake, this unlimited pack of cigarettes doesn't give you cancer or damage your lungs. Good for you!

200 - Car

Shut up and drive. You got this car from a guy who may or may not be alive anymore. It has a special feature in that authorities have a really hard time tracking it for some reason. Nobody can seem to remember the license plates, or the color or even what type of car it is.

400 - Scholarship

If you don't wanna end up like Andrew and Ashley, you should get an education! You have a fully paid scholarship to any school you want. Literally any school. You could go back to the 1st grade and people would have to accept it. You can use this as many times as you like and it works in future jumps.

600 - Memory Realm

Time for a trip down memory lane. This is your own personal alternate dimension, though it's mostly a reflection of your mind. You can use this place to travel through all your memories and relive them as if it were the first time they happened. There might be some things better left forgotten.

Shameless Sister

100 - Dolls

Aw, how cute. You've got little color-coded bunny dolls representing all the people of significance in your life, including yourself. These dolls sometimes rearrange themselves in scenes to show the relationship dynamics between the real people they represent. Whichever doll represents the person you love most makes you feel loved and happy when you hold it.

200 - Revolver

Bang bang bang! You got this revolver off some dude you 86'd and now it's all yours. It's quite a powerful handgun and has unlimited ammo so you don't have to fiddle with putting the bullets in the holes. Pretty bad idea to play Russian Roulette with it as a result. Not that Russian Roulette is ever a good idea

400 - Box

Meet the "floozy extermination box™". Some dumb floozy moving in on your man? Just put her in the box, lock it and she'll slowly suffocate to death inside. Open it up the next day and the skank will be dead. Doesn't have to be women, but you know they're the ones that deserve it. Unlike "that" box this one will kill regardless of the victim having asthma and is indestructible, including the lock that can't be opened from inside. It even helps with disposal! Close it again with the corpse inside and it'll disappear! Thank you, floozy extermination box™!

600 - Trinket

See into your awful, awful future. This little dreamcatcher trinket shows you visions of future events when you fall asleep, primarily of the next thing that would kill you. If nothing will kill you any time soon, it'll instead show other important life changing events to decide if you want to avoid them, like fucking your brother. This trinket doesn't need to be recharged with souls like the original, giving unlimited visions to whoever uses it as they sleep.

Pretentious Parent

100 - Toys

Toys of an adult persuasion. There's all the equipment you could imagine and more, especially rope. Lots and lots of rope. Guaranteed to enhance your sex life or your money back!

200 - Romantic Hideout

Sometimes you need a little getaway where you can escape all those mean parents who wanna tell you what to do and mean children who want you to actually take care of them. This place is known only to you and whoever else you want to bring here, being surprisingly difficult to find otherwise. It'll just be you and your love here. Thank fuck.

400 - A Nice Home

It's just what you've always dreamed of! A nice little house in a nice little neighborhood with a nice little garden and no little kids to ruin everything. It's a truly perfect place to live. Watch out for tanks.

600 - Cash Money

No more busy work weeks for you! You got boatloads of cash from... somewhere. You've got enough to easily live a comfortable middle class existence with even more coming in on a yearly basis. I guess you got a better deal than those other people. Suckers.

Precious Paramour

100 - Hot Topic Fashion

Ready to become hot, jumper? You've got a bunch of goth/emo/scene fashion that looks really good on you. Includes sleeve things to hide self-harm scars and even some chokers. Hnnnnngggg...

200 - Phone

Torurururururu~ You've got a landline phone that weird people keep calling you from and leaving messages on. Usually death threats. On the bright side, you can use it to call anyone you've met before as there's also a phonebook with the number to call them. This includes people in prior jumps that didn't even own phones. You're either calling them or hallucinating their voice, who knows.

400 - Sister's House

The home of your loving big sister. It's not a very big or fancy place, but your sister lives here and she loves you, so she'll gladly let you stay with her as long as you want. Your sister gives you reasonable advice and tries to boost your confidence as much as possible whenever you're over. She truly loves you.

600 - Ticket to Paradise

You've been such a good (and cute) person that you've been given this ticket. Whenever you're in a bad situation, be it a toxic relationship or someone trying to kill you, just focus on the ticket and what's troubling you will suddenly go away, no matter what it is. You'll also be whisked to safety if you were somewhere dangerous. Only usable once per jump or every decade, whichever is sooner.

Bland Bystander

100 - Ritual Components

Blood. Candles. And a boombox playing shitty music. These are the ingredients needed to summon demons to do your bidding. You have all these in abundance somehow, along with many other occult garbage like salt and various plants that supposedly compel demons. Not in this world, though.

200 - Cult

In the darkest depths of society, your coven hides, awaiting the next time they meet and hold their dark rituals. They're actually pretty chill. This "cult" of yours is pretty small, though dedicated to the cause of summoning demons for whatever purposes you want to. They're mostly alright people and don't seem that into the more messed up stuff you'd normally associate a demonic cult with, though you could likely convince them. They're pleasant to talk to and serve coffee.

400 - Normal Apartment Complex

A perfectly normal place for people to live. Tenants come here and love it so much they never leave! Like, even for one single minute! But they must be rich because somehow they're paying the extremely overpriced rent and utilities, making you very wealthy. It must be stressed that this is in no way a front for some kind of illegal organ harvesting scheme! Just a normal apartment complex.

600 - Black Company

Your very own company. A relatively big brand that makes products of questionable quality. Decently popular, regardless. Your company makes decent money, but more importantly this item also represents various connections to the underground of society, allowing you to branch out into all the far more profitable illegal products like drugs and organs. You also have connections to government officials so it's not too hard to cover your tracks. Being rich is fun.

Deceptive Demon

100 - Marshmallows

Delicious marshmallows! Roast them over the burning corpses of your victims! Somehow even demons can not only eat these marshmallows but gain a slight bit of sustenance from them. Not enough to fully replace eating souls, but enough to tide them over. They're very tasty.

200 - Clairvoyance Tools

Various future telling apparatuses such as a crystal ball, tarot cards, tea leaves and so on. Unlike most of these things they actually work, although you really have to know what you're doing.

400 - Soul Garden

A pleasant place for the souls to frolick. This otherworldly garden lets you house the various souls you intend to eat, where they'll probably float around doing weird soul stuff with each other. It's sealed to prevent the souls from escaping and the only way in and out is a portal you can open. Enough souls will appear here regularly to allow you to survive off them.

600 - Home Realm

All demons reside in the vague "demon world", but you're lucky enough to have your own little realm to yourself. It's like a regular house, though with a portal room that shows many places where people are trying to summon demons so you can choose to answer the summons or not. This place is nigh impossible to get in or out of without your say so and you can create a portal in and out of here even if you aren't a demon.

Episode 4: Insane Companions

You can take any one OC companion that costs souls for free. OCs don't exist until you buy them.

100 - Friends Grown in a Vat

Wanna “make” friends instead of making friends? Here you are! You can create up to two companions for every 100 souls spent here, giving them each an origin and 600 souls to spend on whatever. Alternatively, you can create 1 companion for 100 souls but they get 1000 souls to spend instead of 600. Both these can also be taken to import companions, but do you really have any friends? Doubtful.

Free - Brats and Prats

You can bring any of the awful and no-good people you meet here along with you as companions in future worlds. All you have to do is ask and if they accept then they're your new companion! Gratz.

100 - Stupid Sexy Sibling

Your parasocial sibling you can't seem to get rid of. They're either a bookish young man desperately pretending to be normal or a bratty, extremely clingy... look, I don't need to beat around the bush here, right? You just want your own Andy or Leyley. You're basically getting a perfect expy of Andrew or Ashley if you take this but with you slotted into their backstory as the sibling they're obsessed with.

100 - Psycho GF

This girl loves you to death! This is your beautiful, twisted girlfriend you met a couple months ago. You guys immediately hit it off and she's fallen madly in love with you. She's always been very troubled, having a hostile relationship with her parents and being in a particularly rebellious phase. She's very energetic, passionate and pretty much a sociopath, though for some reason she's absolutely in love with you. She wants nothing more than to get married and spend the rest of her life with you having wild, violent sex.

100 - S.O.L (Sad Older Lady)

Woah momma, it's a single momma. She's quite the bombshell for her age, in fact she's never looked better, but damn is she miserable. This woman had kids with a man that she loved, only for him to die tragically in some backstory-related incident. Now she's stuck with two kids she hates and no husband to fuck away her misery. Her interests include drinking, smoking, and being a smug cunt. She's very open to a new relationship, especially if you can get her away from her horrible adult kids that have yet to move out.

100 - Demon Buddy

Well, this is an odd friendship. You summoned this demon and quickly realized you somehow got along, forming a legitimate bond. Besides eating souls he's pretty chill and just wants to hang out and learn about the world. He has an oddly cute childlike innocence and naivety about the world, being legitimately baffled by something as simple as an RC car and thinking it a form of magic. He acts almost like a little brother; he likes roasting marshmallows and listening to stories, even offering to give you small favors in exchange for stories rather than souls. He doesn't have a name but he'd be happy if you gave him one.

Free - Alvin

You finally noticed him? This rather nervous looking young man is named Alvin and he's the middle child between Andrew and Ashley. He's always been very quiet and normal compared to his siblings and it makes him forgettable, so forgettable that even his parents and siblings forget about him when he's not around. Alvin developed anxiety due to constantly having to deal with his sibling's nonsense growing up; he always ends up in situations that victimize him, despite being a kindhearted and sweet person. Alvin moved out and got his own apartment where he still gets hit with random situations designed to make him miserable. Alvin's life is suffering and all he wants is a friend who will acknowledge him. Will you be his friend?

Episode 5: Dickish Drawbacks

+0 - Self Insert

You probably don't like yourself, so why not just become someone else? You can choose to imprint over another character in this story, taking their role and history. Everyone will accept this as how it's always been. You just want to fuck Ashley or her mom, don't you?

+100 - Hot for Sister

Hoo boy, you are fucked. It seems someone developed one of those cute crushes on their sibling and it never quite went away. On the contrary, it's gotten way worse. You can't stop thinking about them and how badly you want to screw them. You can't truly be fulfilled emotionally or sexually until they're yours and the yearning only grows stronger with each passing day. Convincing them will take a lot of doing. You DO have a sibling, by the way, in case you didn't before.

+100 - Sociopath

Most people have this thing called "empathy". Yeah, not you. The apathy you feel towards others and their suffering is so great you can barely remember people's names. It doesn't mean anything to you to kill someone who thought you were one of their best friends. While convenient at times, it's also really hard to make any meaningful bonds with others, which makes life much harder in turn. An exception is only made for the one person you're the closest with.

+100 - Man-Meat

You have a mighty hankering for some good old fashioned long pork! For whatever reason, you really badly wanna eat people. You can barely stop yourself from slitting someone's throat and then throwing them on a spit like a pig. This craving only gets worse the longer you go without eating some human flesh.

+200 - Horrible Parents

Your childhood was not easy. You had incredibly negligent, abusive parents and it's left you with all sorts of trauma that'll never fully be fixed. This has driven you borderline insane and given you multiple severe mental disorders that greatly disrupt your daily life.

+200/+300 - On the Run

Turns out you did a very, very bad thing, or so the authorities suppose. Now you're a wanted fugitive and you'll have to find a way to evade the cops until you can figure out a more stable living condition. If the 5-0 gets you they won't stop at arresting you, but they'll straight up gun you down like the monster you are. Yes, they can somehow shoot a demon to death. They've got holy bullets. For an extra +100 Souls, you're also being pursued by some assassin due to pissing off some powerful underworld types.

+200 - Dummy

Your decision making skills are sub-par, to say the least. You don't seem to really think through anything you do, instead following your feelings and impulses from one disaster to the other. You don't even hold back with your words, having zero social filter to speak of. Eh, I'm sure you can get someone else to clean up all the messes you make. At least you can if you're pretty.

+200 - Tainted Love

Ah, young love. An absolute unmitigated disaster, as shown by your situation. You've entered an abusive relationship - gaslighting, beating, cheating, all that fun stuff. The problem is you're too much of a doormat to leave and truly in love with your abuser so you aren't getting out of this any time soon. You're also getting weird death threats over the phone.

+200 - Blackmail

Lo, the sword of Damocles hangs above the head. After doing something unspeakable, someone else that participated is using it as leverage against you to get you to follow their whims. You'd prefer almost anything to that secret being revealed and so feel compelled to obey them unless they request something beyond even your fear of the secret getting out. There are very, very few things on that list.

+200 - Hubby

Life is hard and exhausting. You've been beaten down to the point you don't really feel like thinking or doing things for yourself. You'd rather passively observe your life going by as other people boss you around and tell you what to do. You're too scared to stand up for yourself and the learned helplessness is bad enough that you'd fumble even if you tried. Pussy.

+300 - Coffin

What a bizarre and unfortunate set of circumstances you've found yourself in. It seems you and one other unlucky person were living together in an apartment when it got quarantined and closed off, with you stuck inside. Now mostly cut off from the outside world, you're living off sink water and haven't eaten any food in nearly a month. You're high up and barred in, plus the place is patrolled by some armed guards so escape will prove difficult. Both of you are going crazy and if you don't find some way out of here, and more importantly food, soon you'll die. You've been reduced to nothing but a normal human without any of your perks, items or companions to help you until you successfully escape.

+300 - Marked

As you woke up, you noticed a strange glowing sigil on your hand. A demon has marked you as its property. What does that mean? It means that as far as it is concerned, your soul belongs to it. It's only a matter of time until it gets to you and whenever it does, it's going to collect what it's owed.

+300 - Til' Death Do Us Part

Romeo and Juliet is even more messed up than I remembered. Ever since you were little you've been by the side of your beloved sibling. This turned from something normal to a horrible psychological need to always be with them no matter what. There's love there, but beyond love is an inability to function without them by your side. The relationship between you is completely twisted and you fight constantly. The arguing and fighting is only getting worse as you work through your many issues together. Unless you two find a way to live together, you'll inevitably die together.
