

Welcome to the wonderful world of Ayakashi Triangle! In this world, you will find an earth just like any other on the surface. Unseen by most of humanity though is an entirely separate world of the Ayakashi, spirits like told of in classical fairy tales and folklore. Many of these spirits are weak and peaceful, happy to live their lives with minimal interaction with humans. There are some though that wish harm to humanity, and it is these evil creatures that an underground force humans are forever fighting.

This story follows the tale of Matsuri, a young ninja exorcist prodigy, and his childhood friend Suzu, the fabled Ayakashi Medium of immense power. It follows their lives as Suzu comes into her power, discovers secrets hidden from her, and their adventures as Matsuri works to protect her from Ayakashi who would seek her harm. Of course, the fact that Suzu is all but a manifestation of the three major desires means that she is generally far more focused on Matsuri and getting him to sleep with her.

Not long after you enter this world the King of the Ayakashi would find Suzu and decide to consume her to increase his power. When foiled by Matsuri in these endeavours, he would curse the ninja exorcist to become a girl in order to ruin their romance. Unfortunately he underestimated the thirst of Suzu Kanade, and so begins the fun shenanigans and events of the story as the pair seek a way to remove the curse.

You gain 1000CP to spend on the document below. Your time in this world will come to an end in a decade's time.

Origins: Any origin can be taken as a drop-in option. They can also all be taken as a ninja. Or a drop-in ninja. Or a ninja-in drop. Ok, not that last one, but you get the point.

Student - Aside from the odd spirit or old man, you will find most of the cast of this world are young men and women in the midst of their school years, just entering high school. You will be joining them as a fellow student of similar if not equal age. You could choose to be a student of the same school as Matsuri and Suzu, a fabled foreign exchange student, or just a student of a different school entirely.

Teacher - As this story predominantly takes place around or near a school, quite predictably the other side of the human cast are teachers. Even Matsuri's mother, the regional head ninja, works as the PE teacher for their school. You will be starting this jump as another one of the teachers. You'll have more freedom of movement, but will have to put up with teaching kids all year.

Artisan - Rather than a student or teacher, you are involved in something entirely different. You will be starting in this world as an artisan, someone who creates for a living. This could take the form of being a painter, a mechanic, or any number of other jobs that involve crafting and inventing things.

Exorcist - Humans contain two types of energy: Kon and Haku. Haku is life energy while Kon is spiritual energy, and it is the latter that you have been trained to manipulate as a ninja. Most people may think ninja are a thing of the past, but they have merely stepped deeper into the shadows in order to fight the Ayakashi out of sight. You are starting as a member of the various ninja clans that still exist to this day, tasked with fighting the Ayakashi that seek to harm humans.

Species:

Human - The worlds of Humanity and Ayakashi have split many years ago. Now, while they still occupy the same planet, there is little crossover between the two. You will be entering this jump on the human side of things. As a human, if you couldn't tell. While humans still have the potential for great power if trained right, by and large most entirely mundane.

Ayakashi - Ayakashi are a type of spirit made entirely out of Haku, otherwise known as life energy. Ayakashi come into existence from any number of different sources of nature. They can appear from plants, animals, and humanities actions or beliefs. In the present day only the truly humanoid variety of Ayakashi can be seen by humanity. You will be starting as one of the more harmless types of Ayakashi, one without too much power in your own right. Whether you take a more humanoid form able to interact with humanity is up to you.

Locations:

Japan - There is only really one place to choose as a starting place. You will be starting in mainland Japan somewhere. This could be near the main cast or something entirely different. The bulk of the plot takes place in Omiko City, under the purview of the Kazamaki clan. You can choose to start somewhere in this city if you wish.

Perks: Perks are discounted to half price for their origin. Discounted 100CP perks are free

General

Eyes That See [Free]

In this day and age, only a select few are blessed with the ability to see and interact with the Ayakashi. It is a mandatory ability for ninja exorcists, for obvious reasons. Those with strong spiritual energy are those who can see the Ayakashi, but it is also possible to gain the ability by being directly exposed to the Ayakashi via being attacked or possessed. You are able to see this hidden side of the world.

Bombshell Bod [Free]

Maybe there is something in the water, but you will notice that many of the people in this world are pretty damn attractive. Even the more average people are still reasonably cute. Anyone less than average? Well, they're background characters who you don't need to worry about. As a prospective main member of this story, naturally you have to look the part too. You have an incredibly sexy body, with pronounced assets that would make anyone jealous. Even if you're a child, you would have a sweet cuteness about you that would endear you to every granny you passed.

Thicc Thighs [100]

Suzu always has something in her hands. More often than not, that happens to be a sweet, pastry, or cake of some kind. Basically anything with sugar in it. Despite her near constant inhaling of carbs, she never suffers any problems of putting on weight or tooth problems. Like Suzu, you will find that you can eat just about any food you want in vast quantities without real negative consequences. Any weight you do manage to put on isn't going to be the unflattering kind. Where all that mass goes is a mystery.

Curse Mark [100]

It's good to make the best of a bad situation right? The gender swap curse that Matsuri is under has taken the form of a large black tattoo on her pelvis. When the curse wavers or goes into chaos, the mark similarly fluctuates. From now on, if you choose, you will discover that any spell cast on you will manifest itself as a cool looking mark on your body somewhere. Furthermore, if you want you can apply this same effect to your own spells.

Kissy Lips Extraordinaire [200]

Those that think kissing is just a quick peck on the lips simply do not understand the power that a kiss can have. You have been tutored for days by Lippy, an Iyo Ayakashi formed from the love and desires of the Red Light district. Consequently, your kissing game is so good that you could quite literally make your partner weak at the knees within seconds. Even the most fiery of people could be subdued by the sword that is your tongue.

Student

Part-Time Student [100]

You'll notice that despite Suzu and Matsuri frequently vanishing off on adventures elsewhere, they very rarely actually get in trouble for skipping school. This can't be attributed to the human inability to see the abnormal, as they wouldn't forget they exist, merely not see them. Much like this duo, in future your teachers and bosses will never seem to notice when you vanish without a word. As long as you aren't gone for too long, it's like you never left.

In Two Minds [200]

A portion of your power has become self-aware. This part of you has manifested its very own thoughts and personality. For the most part it is content to simply sit back in the corner of your mind and watch your adventure, but it's willing to lend a hand when needed. This separate 'soul' is particularly effective at breaking you out of any kind of mental influences. With sufficient control over your Haku, it can separate out from you for periods of a time in its very own body. In truly exceptional circumstances, this personality can even fuse with a different body and share it in much the same way it does yours.

Love Triangle [400]

Some people are lucky in love. Others are the exact opposite. You? You've managed to roll a pair of sixes four times in a row. It would be an exaggeration to say that you are drowning in lovers, but you have a definite trend of pulling your preferred gender into your orbit. Silly boundaries such as being the same gender do little to hinder this. Even your arch-nemeses have a strange tendency of coming around to the idea that the best way to defeat you is to make you their lover.

Ayakashi Medium [600]

The Ayakashi Medium is a legend that only appears every hundred years or so. Said to be both Ayakashi and Human, it has appeared twelve times throughout history so far. It first appeared 1800 years ago bearing the name Amaterasu. Each Medium is a fountain of Haku, literally overflowing with it in some cases. These mediums are able to manipulate Haku in ways that not even the Ayakashi can. They can heal wounds, remove curses, and even control some Ayakashi. It is for this reason that the Ayakashi Medium is also known to some as the Ayakashi God. When they die, they reincarnate decades later into a new body, keeping all their memories of their previous lives. You are a blip in the system, for you are an Ayakashi Medium separate from Suzu and her past lives. Unmatched in raw power, if properly trained you would be nearly unbeatable. Sadly due to the fact that they naturally attract more dangerous Ayakashi to their Haku, not many mediums live longer than 15 years old, whether it be due to being eaten by the Ayakashi or sacrificed by humans to appease them.

Teacher

Sensei [100]

As a teacher, there is no greater joy than seeing your students learning well! It is one the most basic skills a teacher needs to have really: the ability to teach. As a mentor, you have years of experience with passing on your knowledge and the knowledge contained in books to those under your care. You are quite good at making your students stay on target and study hard. You'll still have that odd problem student to deal with, but that is always the case unfortunately.

Omokage Expert [200]

Known to the west as doppelgangers, Omokage are a form of mindless clone formed from a person's Haku whose only purpose is to carry out the purpose for which it was created. Owing to humans' lack of Haku, the creation of an Omokage is usually unwitting and will usually leave the user either weak or even dead in serious circumstances. Like the Ayakashi Maiden, you have an unprecedented skill with this technique. Your control is at the level where you can pilot this clone remotely, without leaving you noticeably weakened by the use of it.

Harmless Kitty [400]

In the constant battle of Ninja and Ayakasha, both sides have long learned the art of subterfuge. Even the likes of the mighty Shirogane are perfectly willing to disguise himself as a mere cat to get close to his target (or mooch food). You are an expert at hiding among people. You can easily hide any hostile intentions you might have for others while in conversation with them, and wouldn't have too much trouble tricking the average joe. You are similarly skilled at hiding your energy, such that as an Ayakashi you could be the homeroom teacher of a prodigy ninja for months and they would never realise.

Faith Makes Truth [600]

While a large number of Ayakashi arise from nature, an equal or greater amount arise from the actions and desires of humanity. These are things not limited to just this setting though. If there is life, there is will. If there is will, there is desire and where there is desire there is action. Going into future worlds, you will find that these same beliefs still manage to take on a life of their own. Hidden from the sights of the planet, the secret world of the Ayakashi still thrives. With you acting as the bridge, maybe you can start to bring these worlds closer together.

Artisan

In-scents [100]

Incense has been used since ancient times to expel evil. It is unclear whether the belief that this works is what allows it to do so, but the end result is the same. While not the most common branch of artisan, you have delved solidly into the realms of the creation of incense capable of interacting with supernatural powers. This exploration has also left you with an incredibly sensitive nose, one capable of identifying the smell of curses and jutsu. With this smell, you can then devise suitable incense to either counter or boost their effects.

Notice-Me-Not Field [200]

The mundane do not see the supernatural. Not anymore. Normal people can only view things from the perspective of the mundane world. When an exorcist ninja dons their uniform, they quite literally vanish from the sights of normal people. This same incomprehension has found a way to extend to the rest of your powerset. If you want, you could summon up a fraction of your power and disappear from the view of mundane humans. In future worlds, you could wage entire battles in front of a busy populace and they would never be the wiser.

Information Gathering [400]

The best kind of information network is one that reaches everywhere, and relays information back quickly. What better to make such a network than the plethora of small Ayakashi that fill the world. You have found yourself at the centre of an incredibly extensive information network made up of these same little Ayakashi. They are perfectly happy to report back any information you require, all you need do is ask for it. What they don't immediately know, they are perfectly willing to investigate. A thousand invisible eyes and ears in every street.

Genius Ninja Artisan [600]

As powerful as the ninja exorcists are, they would never be able to keep up with the vast and varied powers of the Ayakashi if not for the ninja artisans who create their tools. Every tool in a ninja's arsenal has been perfected over centuries, with new inventions appearing all the time. Using high tech gadgets empowered by complex jutsu, the artisans create all kinds of marvels that mimic the various abilities possessed by the Ayakashi. You are a genius of creation, an artisan like Reo who has dedicated their life to the craft. If you are able to study a magical effect, there is a good chance you'll swiftly figure out a way to replicate it using tools. Whether it be invisibility capes or portals to mirror worlds, instantly deployable ninja clothes or tickle torture devices, there is little you couldn't create with time and study.

Exorcist

Ninja Exorcist [100]

It is the duty of the Ninja Exorcists to slay any Ayakashi that threaten humanity using ninja-based exorcism techniques passed down from antiquity. The human ninja rely on the manipulation of their Kon in order to use jutsu. They can substitute with logs, launch supernatural attacks, seal evil spirits, and perform superhuman physical feats. Even the Ayakashi have their techniques, albeit ones based on Haku. As a ninja you will also have been trained in combat and the appropriate use of weapons such as kunai and shuriken.

Specialisation [200]

There are many different families of ninja exorcists, and each family has their own speciality. The Kazamaki family that Matsuri is a part of specialise in wind based techniques for instance, while the Ninokura are adept in lightning based techniques. As a member of one of these families, you have a very strong talent for one such specialisation. Maybe even the kind of talent equal to the founding fathers. Whatever art you are specialised in, you are nearly unmatched among your peers. Only those with far more time and experience could beat you in this art, for you are far ahead of your age group.

Clothing First [400]

You would expect a giant blast of energy to cause you a reasonable amount of damage, whether you are a squishy human or bulky Ayakashi. Yet after being bombarded with a dozen of them, all that has happened is that your clothes are in tatters and your skin has a few scuff marks. For some reason, rather than actually hurting you, enemy attacks will instead destroy you and your allies' clothing. Usually in rather risque ways. This has its limits of course, but barring overwhelming attacks you'll come out of most engagements far more intact than you otherwise would be. Just minus a lot of your clothes.

Regional Leader [600]

Ninja train to increase their skill and the volume of Kon they have for all their lives. Consequently the older ninja in the prime of their life are generally far more powerful and far more skilled in their arts than the younger generation. Matsuri's mother happens to be the Regional Leader of the ninja exorcists of her area, and for good reason. Like her, you have abundant spiritual energy, and are incredibly experienced in the use of jutsu. With a flip of a fan you could conjure tornadoes, or dance between the attacks of two lightning fast ninja without causing a single ripple in the sake of your cup. You would even be able to put up a solid resistance against the might of the Ayakashi God, albeit one at a fraction of its power.

Human

Scary Face [100]

Are you quite sure you are entirely human? Despite being a human, you've somehow got an even scarier face than many Ayakashi. Your hair casts shadows menacingly over your eyes. Your teeth at glance look like they belong more in a shark's mouth than a humans. You could be entirely ordinary, but there is something about your face that is just extremely scary to other people. At the very least it's good for keeping troublesome people away, though some may mistake you for a delinquent.

Up Close And Personal [200]

We've all heard those tall tales of people 'slipping' down a flight of stairs and 'miraculously' landing on the lap of an innocent maiden. Of two people 'tripping' and ending up entangled very closely. Turns out that those stories might have more weight to them than you might expect. Well, for you at least. You find yourself surrounded by small little accidents, each one ending up with you and another attractive person pressed close to each other in some compromising position. It's all innocent, all accidental, and very smutty.

Gender Swapped Protagonists [400]

At the very beginning of this story, Matsuri is cursed by Shirogane to become a girl. Driven crazy by the number of lovey-dovey couples that would appear by his shrine, Shirogane had spent decades creating the ultimate jutsu to pay back all this shameless behaviour; the gender reversal awakening. This perk comes in twofold: Firstly at the beginning of each jump a near unbreakable curse similar to this jutsu can be released out into the world, which will invariably change the gender of one of the main cast of your choice. Secondly; you will gain the knowledge to cast this jutsu itself, though the strength of this curse is entirely dependent on how much energy you use to cast it.

Road To Redemption [600]

Generally most people aren't genuinely evil at heart. Some Ayakashi may seem like it, but even the most evil of Ikon formed from the negative thoughts of humanity can become well meaning Iyo if given the right opportunity. Maybe you could be described as "friendshaped" (how that combines with Scary Face is up to you) but you will find that you are unreasonably good at turning your darkest of enemies into true allies or even friends. Something about the kindness in your heart seems to touch them, and builds a bridge across a gulf that most would think too vast to cross.

Ayakashi

Shameless! [100]

There are all kinds of sixth senses one can have in this world. A sixth sense for danger, a sixth sense for energy, for interesting happenings, and more. You have gained a rather strange sixth sense for when someone that you know is being shameless. Not just shameless, but ecchi. With this sense, you can make sure to butt in and put a stop to all that shameless behaviour that annoys you oh so much.

Ayakashi King [200]

When Suzu took up the mantle of Ayakashi King in the place of a weakened Shirogane, the Ayakashi accepted her as their king not just because of her potential power but because of her ability to mediate without resorting to fighting. This is something any good ruler needs to know how to do: how to settle disputes peacefully with both sides satisfied. Even without formal training, you have a natural knack for de-escalating situations and finding ways to resolve arguments peacefully. That said, sometimes a show of force has its place too.

Fame And Fortune [400]

As time passed and humans forget the tales of the past, the power of the Ayakashi has faded for all but the most powerful members. The more people that know of an Ayakashi and consciously praise or worship them, the greater their personal power. It is to this end that a certain painter Ayakashi has accumulated so much fame with his art in the mundane world that he could match even the mighty Shirogane. You have something of a following yourself. A modest number of people not only know of you but actively worship you. If you take the form of an Ayakashi, they may know the myths and legends of your past, while as a human they will remember some great feats that you have accomplished. Either way, you will always have a small group of devout followers in each world you visit.

Old Spirit [600]

While the power of the Ayakashi has faded with time, there are still those whose power lives up to the names of Gods. As the Ayakashi Medium comes into her power, more and more of these great beings will start to show themselves, breaking out of seals or searching for this powerful source of Haku. You stand equal to these beings as an Ayakashi. Your energy flows thickly, and your power is so great that you could affect large swathes of land if you wished. It cannot be said that you are without peer, but only your fellow Ayakashi kings would be your match.

Items: You may discount any two items of each price tier to half price. Discounted 100CP items are free.

Suit Up! [Free]

You'd be a poorly equipped ninja if you lacked one of these. Ninja live among normal humans, but they still need their gear when going into battle. Rather than lug around a bag of clothes, and dealing with the hassle of changing, an incredibly handy tool was invented. Taking the form of a small wrist or neck band, this little item will instantly cloth you in proper ninja gear. To activate, all one needs to do is channel the simplest bit of Kon energy into it. Removing the gear is just as simple. No superman phone booth change needed for you.

Origami [Free]

The previous Ayakashi Medium, Mei, practised the use of her Haku powers using origami as the focus medium. This continued on with Suzu, the next medium, similarly doing the same. Maybe you wish to make that three. This is a set of very ordinary origami sheets of different colours, alongside a book on different shapes and animals one can make them into. There is nothing inherently supernatural about these, but they could work as both a good focus for techniques as well as something to pass the time if you are bored.

Ninja Windmill [100]

This doesn't necessarily have to take the form of a fan specifically, but most ninja will have a few small tools that help with their exorcism duties. This particular tool is an item akin to the ninja windmill used by Matsuri, which acts as an ideal medium for you to channel your exorcism arts. It acts as a good conduit for both Kon and Haku, and serves as a solid focus.

Extensive Wardrobe [100]

Sometimes it's simply fun to dress up. Especially when you're dragging along a boy-turned-girl in dire need of female clothes. This deceptively large wardrobe is filled to the brim with a surprising number of different outfits for all occasions. There are casual wear, formal wear, beach clothes, and even a fair number of different cosplaying outfits such as magical girls or maid dresses.

Sweet Supply [100]

Feeding the beast that is Suzu is a constant battle. Should you ever be charged with this duty, or just have a hankering for some sweets yourself, you will find that you are more than prepared. You will find yourself with a sizable selection of different sweets, confectioneries, cakes, and more. If it has sugar in it, you probably have some of it. These cakes are perfectly preserved, and any single set could last a normal family for a year comfortably. Once you have used them up, it will restock in a week.

Tailored Clothes [100]

Ninja gear is functional, but sometimes you want more than just the basics. These are several sets of tailored Ayakashi Medium gear, made specifically for you. Sewn from a Ayakashi silkworm, created by an Ayakashi tailor, this set of clothes compacts into a small accessory just like the Ninja gear. However this set of clothes also protects against both cold and heat, and is quite resistant to wear and tear. In fact, it is likely the ninja gear was created based on the design of this outfit. Interestingly, unlike normal ninja garb, this gear can be transformed into different outfits with a simple jutsu.

Training Dummy [200]

Testing both your skills and new equipment is important, but doing so in live combat is usually ill-advised. This training dummy was designed by Reo and is far more than a mere wooden mannequin. This is an autonomous wooden robot that will fight back against you in a safe manner. For some reason, Reo has also included an option in this dummy which turns on a 'tickle' mode where additional arms will extend out and attempt to bind and then tickle the opponent.

Exorcism For Dummies [200]

There are many different Ayakashi, and remembering them all would be a mean task. Happily you have this handy-dandy little book filled to the brim with all that information. This tome contains images and information about all the various Ayakashi that you might commonly find out in the world, as well as how best to deal with them. For the weaker Ayakashi this tome would be enough for them to attempt an exorcism, though the more powerful Ayakashi unfortunately will require a more powerful and skilled hand. In future worlds this book will also include information about local spirits.

Ninja Phone [200]

For all intents and purposes, this is an entirely normal phone. It does not have any transformative effects, nor does it act as a focus for any special abilities. What's good about this phone is what is on it; this phone is connected directly to the ninja associations network, and will ding with notifications to let you know about any supernatural sightings or odd happenings that have taken place in the local area. In this way, you can keep abreast of the local supernatural scene.

Artisan Equipment [200]

An artisan needs their tools in order to do their craft. While many of the items and ingredients they use can be sourced from the mundane world, there are an equal number that come from more supernatural sources, that you would struggle to otherwise acquire. You have come into possession of a good sized workshop and warehouse filled with the tools of the trade used by ninja artisans. The warehouse in particular is filled with an assortment of both mundane and extraordinary ingredients needed to craft special jutsu. Among this setup is everything needed to craft incense as well.

Ayakashi Blessings [400]

Many of the exorcist tools are created using Ayakashi artefacts as a basis. But why settle for second best when you can have the original? None of these tools are particularly powerful within their own right, but they have a wide range of varied effects that could allow you to get into all kinds of mischief. There are Iyo artefacts that allow the user to see through the clothes of those they are interested in, stickers that make one deathly afraid of whoever's name is written on it, and even love potions that greatly amplify the feelings towards whoever it was intended for. Use them responsibly. Or not, it's up to you.

Divine Shrine [400]

The Ayakashi used to be worshipped as gods. While that has fallen to the wayside, you will still find the odd shrine dedicated to them. This is your very own shrine dedicated to you specifically, though if you wish you could change that. Located on a relatively busy road, you can expect a reasonable amount of traffic to pass on through regularly. While those that pray here are rarely truly sincere, even token prayers are useful to an Ayakashi when done en masse. The shrine itself is a good size and is generally well cared for. This is not some run-down abandoned shrine.

Heiress Home [400]

Calling this place a mansion would be a bit of an exaggeration, but not too much of one. This is a spacious estate entirely in your name. Tall fences guard behind them expansive gardens, at the centre of which sits a large main building. This building contains an impressive dining hall, communal baths, and plenty of spare rooms that can be turned into whatever you want. A dozen or so maids and/or butlers live on the property and care for it, making sure everything is tidy and in working order. This is the very picture of a stereotypical “rich friend’s house” straight from a manga.

Hidden Village [600]

Not all Ayakashi live among humans, nor do they live alone. There are a few hidden refuges dotted around the world where the Ayakashi come together to live in harmony in their own peaceful villages. This is one such village. Hidden from the rest of the world, one can only enter this place if they walk through twelve Torii gates in a specific order, spread throughout the area. Wandering errant on this path is liable to leave you lost not just in space but also potentially time too. You may choose where this village is located, as well as the order by which the gates must be crossed. This village will contain a fair few Ayakashi.

Crimson Gourd [600]

The Crimson Gourd is a truly legendary tool passed down by the Kappa for untold years and generations. How you managed to acquire it is a mystery, but try not to let them know you have it. While holding this gourd, anyone who responds to their name by you will be sucked into it. Once in the gourd, they will slowly but steadily be converted into a haku-infused sake. By drinking the sake, one can gain the haku the gourd has absorbed.

Sealing Scroll [600]

It is a sad truth that the most powerful of Ayakashi are usually too much for the average ninja. But humans are not without their own trump cards to even the odds. This is a sealing scroll passed down from a very old exorcist. They poured their spiritual energy into this scroll for three whole decades, filling it with a potent power. Using this scroll as the catalyst, a ninja exorcist would have a solid shot at sealing away even the most powerful of Ayakashi, such as Shirogane. Unfortunately this is a one-use item, so once you’ve shot your load you won’t have a second chance. Better make it count.

Companions:

Import [50]

No reason for you to experience the ups and downs of this world by yourself, now is there? For a cheap 50CP each, you may import existing companions into this world, each gaining 600CP to spend on perks and items of their choice. Each subsequent 50CP you pay will double the number of companions imported, up to eight for 200CP.

Canon Companion [Free/50]

There is quite the colourful cast in this world, so perhaps you've taken a fancy to some of them and wish to bring them along. For 50CP each, if you can convince them, you may turn any character of this world into a companion, bringing them with you on the rest of your chain. Being the romantic comedy that this is, the first purchase of this is free.

Thousand Year Lust [50] (Free Student)

When waking up in this world, it will not be long before you come across a young man or woman who is very happy to see you. The two of you met when you were both very young, and grew steadily closer as you both grew up. With time, those feelings within that friend of yours just kept on growing, until they are entirely smitten with you. In the words of a certain Ayakashi, they have become a beast of desire when it comes to you. They are entirely in love and more than a little obsessed. Their love is such that it would let them break out of possessions and tear through illusions in order to be with the real you.

Second Spirit [50] (Free Teacher)

The fragment of Mei that would become Kanade is not wholly trapped within Suzu's mind. She is able to leave whenever she wants by taking possession of an Omokage. In much the same way as what happened with Shirogane, she encountered you at some point when you were in danger, and has fused with you in order to save your life. This has granted the two of you a mental connection that allows each to communicate with each other at will. A separate fragment from the main Kanade, though sharing all her memories, she is quite content to share your body. At times she will be able to take control of your body, mainly if you are in trouble, your body changing into hers in these instances to reflect the soul in charge.

Rival! [50] (Free Exorcist)

Everyone needs their own rival! Someone to push you to new heights, even as you do the same to them in turn. This particular ninja has declared you their eternal rival, and strives to both outdo you while also pushing you further. This is very much a friendly rivalry, so in-between competitions they are more than willing to simply hang out and chat. If you were ever in trouble, they would likely be one of the very first people to leap to your aid, whatever the threat you were facing. A powerful ninja in their own right, they have the potential to rival a regional leader with time.

Underling [50] (Free Artisan)

Not long after entering this world, you will encounter a small Ayakashi who is in rather dire straits. After looking after them and nursing them back to good health, they have expressed sincere gratitude towards your actions and sworn themselves under you as both a friend and underling. More than happy to act as your helper, they can act as a good pair of unseen eyes. Being an Ayakashi, the exact form they take is up to you. They could even take the form of a human if you want, able to be seen by normal people. Just bear in mind that this form could potentially change as they age and grow in power. Such an Ayakashi helper is unusual, but far from unprecedented.

Holy Trinity [100]

With her new incarnation, the Ayakashi Medium has been split into three in a way not seen before. In order to have a fresh start, Mei sectioned off her past memories in her latest life. This gave birth to Suzu as the main consciousness. Those cast off memories formed their own personality inside of Suzu's mind in the form of a young Kanade, who is able to briefly take control of Suzu or walk around in the form of Omokage. Mei's resentment at her death took life in the form of an Ikon who wishes to take over Suzu's body and fight against the humans. In this way, they form a strange trinity, each with their own desires. As they are all technically the same person, why should you have to pay for them three times? For the simple cost of 100CP, you may companion all three at once. This will only take up a single companion slot, owing to their joined nature.

Drawbacks:

To Love True [+000]

Whether this world is actually the same one as seen in To Love Ru is never truly confirmed, but by taking this option that means they quite firmly are. In its own way, this is likely going to have knock on effects, such as aliens visiting, highjinks ensuing, and potentially having to deal with Lala and co if they wander nearby.

Plotward Bound [+000]

Suzu and Matsuri are very close. Their bond began long ago when Matsuri found Suzu surrounded by Ayakashi. But in this world that story went slightly differently. With the simplest of changes, you have taken the place of one of these two. Whether this is a case of being in the right place at the right time or just being one of the pair, you have found yourself front and centre as one of the stars of this world.

They're Aliens!!! [+100]

Spirits? Ayakashi? I think you mean aliens! That wasn't a possessed toy, that was a UFO! That wasn't a ninja, that was an alien! You've been listening to one too many conspiracy podcasts, because you've gotten it into your head that anything odd that happens is due to extraterrestrials. Though to be fair, if this world truly shares its universe with To Love Ru, it's not wholly wrong. But the point is that you've become something of a conspiracy nut. You'll be looking for UFO's in the night sky, trying to unlock your latent psychic potential in the pool, and so on.

How Shameless! [+100]

You have long been troubled by the countless acts of shameless behaviour that happen around or near you. It's not enough that people are annoyingly cutesy, but they always have to do it just in view of you! Well no longer. You have made it your mission to prevent any and all shameless happenings from going on near you. Whether by covert or overt methods, you will spend a good amount of time interfering in other people's love.

MeatHead [+100]

In a world of love and lovers, the worst enemy is not the Ayakashi or ninja, but those love interests who are entirely too dense. Unfortunately you are surrounded by them. Whoever you go after when it comes to pursuits of love are always incredibly blind to your advances. Even if they manage to get it into their thick skull, some excuse or reason will come up to get in the way of it going anywhere. Be prepared for a frustrating decade.

Weak To Women [+200]

Lack of exposure to the opposite sex have left you with a quite startling and awkward weakness. Because of how little you've been around the opposite sex, you are entirely weak to them. While fighting them you will find yourself constantly distracted by their curves or muscles, and should you see anything slightly more ecchi you are liable to damn near faint from all the blood rushing to your head.

Sealed [+200]

Like the Shirogane, the strength that you took such pride in has been sealed away at the very start of the jump. Any ability for you to manipulate any special supernatural energies such as Kon, Haku, magic, or otherwise has been sealed to its absolute minimum. Any powerful forms you may have had have been reduced in scope until they are the same level as a domestic cat. You can still do little things, basic shape changing for instance, but ultimately these amount to little more than parlour tricks.

Possession Trouble [+200]

You will notice that some odd Ikon have been appearing near you recently. They've been possessing both humans and Ayakashi and bringing out any latent aggression hidden within. The Ayakashi have their potential stimulated and become all the more dangerous for it. These Ikons have been causing quite a bit of chaos, and have been sent by the Exorcist Council. The council has identified you as a threat to ninja, and are working to bring you down, no matter what the regular rank and file think.

Ayakashi Magnet [+300]

Haku is a tasty treat to all Ayakashi, and the more of it you have the more tempting you will be. If the average person is a plain waffle, you are a delicious cream filled crepe drizzled with chocolate and strawberries. Your haku has a wonderful aroma to it that attracts Ayakashi like moths to a flame. Some will merely make mischief or wish to say hello, but a good number will want to eat you. Especially the more powerful kind of Ayakashi. Expect an eventful decade as you are surrounded by the supernatural.

Mei's Target [+300]

Not long after the beginning of this jump, the Ikon formed from Mei's resentment of her death will escape her seal and set out on her goal to destroy humanity. She has decided that you are in the way of her plans, and so you need to be removed from play. Her methods can be unconventional, so you may be faced with anything from her releasing powerful sealed Ayakashi to hunt you down, to her ruining your date nights.

Conflict Eruption [+300]

The current situation between the Ayakashi and humanity is relatively peaceful. While there are those discontent with the situation, things are not yet at the boiling point. This has now changed. Tensions between the two factions have been on the rise for a long time, and it has finally reached the breaking point. The powerful leaders of the Ayakashi are no longer content to stay the course and have started causing chaos in the mundane world again, in order to make humanity remember their existence. They do not wish to go quietly into the night. Incidents of Ayakashi messing with humans have risen exponentially, and the ninja are busy 24/7 exorcising one spirit or another. Whatever peace you planned to have this next decade is quite firmly out the window at this point.

The End.

Your time in this world has come to its end. Now it is time for you to decide where you want to go from here. Do you wish to:

Stay Here? You have taken a shine to this world, and are happy to stay here from now on. You will end your chain here and stay in this world, keeping all that you have gained.

Go Home? It has been nice here, but in time you have started to miss your original home. You have decided to return to your home universe, keeping everything you gained on your chain.

Move On? The journey is far from over. There are still places you want to go, people you want to meet, and powers you want to gain. You move on to your next jump and carry on your adventure.

Jump by Lone Valkyrie, hope you enjoy!
