

No Nut November

Made By Lokilo85

This might be the most silly gauntlet you will go to, you here for bragging rights or something like that? Trying to prove to someone or maybe yourself that you aren't a hopeless pervert? Either way there's no danger whatsoever in this gauntlet (unless you somehow manage to die tripping or something), but that doesn't mean it will be easy, or maybe it will be for you, would not succumbing to your base desires for just 30 days be that hard? That doesn't sound as hard as most other gauntlets, right?

The rules are simple: You are not allowed to have an orgasm whatsoever, starting from November 1st 00:00 PM, to November 30st 00:00 AM. For the duration of this gauntlet, and without the addition of drawbacks or other choices that will be the only condition placed on you. Of course, as this is a gauntlet, you won't have access to your perks, especially willpower perks, nor can you cheese this gauntlet by not having a sex drive in the first place. You start with +0 NP (November Points)

Or I guess we can say you start with No Nut November Points... Ignore that and move into the next section... Please

Locations

You can choose freely, since this gauntlet is about inner conflict.

Warehouse

I don't need to introduce you to your own warehouse, you can also import whatever alternative to a warehouse that you have. If it wasn't liveable by itself before; it now gains a few upgrades (assuming you didn't already have them), you can keep the upgrades if you succeed.

1. Food: There will be a robot cooker that can produce food ingredients from the void, it's safe to earth and health. It has everything a growing jumper such as yourself needs to grow, though the food is nothing special.
2. Water: You would die without that, so you now have a source of limitless clean water also coming from the void. You also gain a shower and all the things you need to keep yourself clean, including your wardrobe obviously.
3. Entertainment: You obtain both a laptop with omni internet access, it has access to the internet of all the worlds you have visited up until you left, sites work just fine but trying to talk to someone doesn't work because of time shenanigans. Also comes with all books that you collected.

Most of your items from outside work just fine, but any attempt at loopholing the point of this challenge will backfire (trying to use your theoretical biology manipulation machine to minimize your libido will just make you twice as horny)

House

Maybe even with all of that your warehouse isn't quite roomy enough? That's fine, this option has you covered. You gain a house, currently it's a house in the middle of the void, but details. You can decide all the specifics of this house, but it can't be any more luxurious than a large mansion.

As already stated, for this gauntlet's duration this house will be placed in a white void, you can't exit it and through the power of fiat the house remains hospitable for you even though there is nothing outside of it. Post-gauntlet you can decide if the house attaches to your warehouse or if you rather import it as local property.

Pseudo-Supplement -200

I guess you are a busy person, so sure. Not like it would change things too much. You recover your perks and items, then you go to the next jump you would be going. But of course, your willpower and biology will remain the same when it comes to your horniness, every attempt at circumventing that with OoC perks/items/powers/whatever will fail spectacularly. At least you have something to keep you busy during this challenge, right? And yes, your starting date would be in the start of November of course.

Mismatched Supplement Free/+300/+600

Basically the same as the Pseudo-Supplement option, but in this case you decide to be ballsy and pick a lewd world to test your self control. There are few conditions to it however.

For Free, you aren't the "target" for lewd accidents, or at least not the main target, aka you are a woman in Monstergirl Encyclopedia or you are a man in Tamarin, most of the difficulty would come in the naturally highly attractive and seductive locals. The Free range would also include some of the more high end ecchi settings such as highschool DxD.

For +300 You ARE the "target" now, whether as a man in a world where monster girls want to "husbando" you by the usage of highly violating tactics, or you are a woman in a world where tentacle monsters won't even start with any pretense of proper courting. That doesn't necessarily mean everyone will target you specifically of course, but you'll be banned from shapeshifting or anything of that sort to circumvent the natural dangers here.

For +600 You are still the target of the world, but now you literally are more of a target. Everyone will know your little gauntlet of yours, and they decide you are the most delectable potential target because of it, rapey monsters will detect your scent far easier and will move towards your direction in particular. Tread carefully Jumper.

Remember that all your perks/items won't function when it comes to managing your libido, so tread extra carefully with those worlds, and try not to think with your lower head if you want to win. Should you fail the gauntlet under those circumstances, you'll have to start that Jump from scratch, but you are otherwise not penalized. Also your stay in that world would of course have to start on November 1st.

Drawbacks

Misery Loves Company (Variable)

Normally it would be quite lonely, but why don't you ~~drag them into this torture~~ bring your buddies along for moral support? Of course they will also be doing this challenge. Should they win they also gain the same rewards as you.

For Free, you may import any companion without a sexual drive or who is strictly platonic in their relationship with you. If they fail, they will be ejected from the gauntlet but without any consequence.

For +200, you may import one companion that would fit in your "Waifu/Husbando" category. However, unlike you and the platonic companion option above, they can't cum at all until you either fail or complete this gauntlet.

For +400, you may import a minimum of 4 and a maximum of 8 companions that would fit in your "Waifu/Husbando" category. Unlike you however, they can't cum at all until you either fail or complete this gauntlet. (Doesn't stack NP with the above options)

For +600, you'll have to import one "Succubus/Incubus" category companion, they don't lose any perk or special powers of them, and to fit that category they would have to be monstrously insatiable in their lust and to either be a Succubus/incubus themselves, or have powers that are roughly equivalent to such, monster girls from MGE beings the obvious example. They can't cum until you either lose or win this gauntlet... You brave son of a gun. (Doesn't stack NP with the above options)

For +1000, you'll have to import a minimum of 4 to a unlimited amount of "Succubus/Incubus" category companions, they don't lose any beauty perks or special powers of them, and to fit that category they would have to be monstrously insatiable in their lust and to either be a Succubus/incubus themselves, or have powers that are roughly equivalent to such, monster girls from MGE beings the obvious example. They can't cum until you either lose or win this gauntlet... You foolish son of a bitch (Doesn't stack NP with the above options)

Easy Temptation +100

You know how you would get free entertainment? Yeah, about that. You still have it of course, but now you also have easy and simple access to the best lewd sites suited to your own tastes you'll find in the omniverse. They also have all your favorites and bookmarked.

No Nuts +100

It's no nut november... So no nuts. Very creative, I know. Just take your freebie points from the joke drawback. Eating any type of nut results in failure.

Surprise Boner +100

Sometimes the body decides you need a boner without any reason, and now that happens more often during this month. It doesn't necessarily make you any more horny, but it does make you focus on other things harder. Pun not intended believe it or not.

Blue Balled +200

The pain you receive when you deny your body's urge is now more painful and frequent, not only will that suck but it will chip away at your will. Ouchy.

In Your Window +200

There is nothing in your window actually. But if there was something in your window, it would probably remind you of genitalia, or some other innuendo. You will be constantly finding dirty things in otherwise innocent things, just don't stare too deeply into a banana, that's kinda weird.

No Touchy! +400

Isn't it a bit reluctant to do this challenge while scratching your balls every minute or so? Do you agree with me? Too bad, now that option is taken away from you with this drawback. Every moment you unconsciously go to touch your dirty bits, you get shocked. This gets worse and worse with repeated attempts, but maybe that will actually end up helping you?

Compounding Lust +400

See, there is one issue with this challenge: After a while how horny you are reaches a climax of sorts (I swear that pun wasn't intended), after it doesn't become much more difficult, it gets easy when you manage it and have other things to distract you. But since we are all gamers here (probably), why don't we add a scaling difficulty to the challenge? From now on your lust will continue to build up, each day it will get worse. The amount of lust you would normally have will be soft-capped broken, adding up to around 1.1~1.05 lust increase per day.

Hair Trigger +600

Be careful Jumper! This drawback caused the whole "not nutting" part of the challenge WAYYY harder. Forgot not rubbing one out, now with how sensitive your privates are? You have to be careful not rubbing against your undies! Yes, you are that sensitive. Good luck, you are going to need it.

Just One Month? +600

What's that? Think you can do better, hot shot? Well go ahead, because it's no longer just one month, the timer of this gauntlet will be extended to a full year. Not much to explain here, it's going to be a full year. Even the entertainment provided is going to get boring eventually, probably.

Perks

You receive ONE discount per perk price tier, 100 discounts are freebies.

Nighty Night (Free)

While the goal of this challenge IS to not cum, there is a bit of a gray area when it comes to your subconsciousness, it would be hardly fair for you to fail over something you had only the faintest control over right? This is what this perk is for: You are guaranteed nice, relaxing dry dreams... Unless someone actively tries to fuck with your dreams, literally or figuratively.

Catchy Gauntlet -100

What drives people to partake in such activity? Is it bragging rights? Some type of self control trial? Or is it because some internet stranger made up some silly challenge that rhymed? Either way, you somehow figured out how to replicate the popularity of NNN; You can without much issue create popular memetic dares, and as long as they aren't actually hurtful people will bandwagon on it hard, spreading the word around til it becomes common knowledge to most people who use the internet.

Something Else To Do -100

One good way to deal with the situation is to go to something else. While this won't make the process of distracting yourself anymore fruitful directly, you will always know what you want to do to distract yourself.

Nutty -100

You are an expert in all things nut related; from making food, raising nuts, nut variants, nut soil, and of course, making nuts jokes. This knowledge will expand in case the future worlds you travel to happen to have unique or even magical nuts.

Limitless Storage -100

Contrary to what some lewd artists depictions of NNN would have you think, after a certain point the body won't "stockpile" anymore sperm. But then again, in your journey you will find deities capable of destroying whole planets and fire breathing reptilians, so why not? Now whenever you go a long period of time without nutting, your body can stockpile all sexual fruit in some hammerspace pseudo-organ in your body, which when you decide to release it as "normal", without any health issue for yourself of course.

Dubious Health Benefits -200

While NNN can't be called unhealthy, its widespread benefits are exaggerated at best. No, not jacking off for a whole month won't magically increase your dick size, or at least it wouldn't without this perk! While it won't be anything like a dragon ball Zenkai Boost by default, when you "train" or partake in such self-constraints, you will find yourself benefiting from the “perceived benefits”. For another example besides NNN, should you train in higher gravity, your bones will grow denser, assuming you weren’t an idiot and picked a gravitational weight multiplied that crushed all of your bones. But even in that general case if your bones regenerate, they would come back stronger even if they should have collapsed entirely.

Challenged Accepted! -200

When someone challenges you, in this context either an actual challenge or someone telling you something is impossible, that you can’t do it etc. Your competency grows by about x2, and everytime your will is tested, you will remember people doubting you, which won’t magically make you more willful but it will give you a boost depending on how spiteful you are. Do note that this doesn’t work on self-imposed challenges, and the one who challenged you had to genuinely doubt you would be able to accomplish it. The challenger doesn’t have to challenge you specifically, just a group/category you happen to fit would be enough.

On The Edge -200

Are you sure that’s a sound strategy to do in this gauntlet? Very well, you find when you push yourself on the “edge of release”, the more you test the very limits of your control, the more of a “bust” you will ultimately have. In the context of this jump the results are obvious, but you can also apply this perk in a less horny way by charging up your special attacks way further by sacrificing precise control. If you need a metric; if you use this perk on a “big bang attack” you would normally have no issue controlling, you can charge it up to x10 its normal potency but losing so much control that if you were distracted by less than a second it would blow up in your hand.

My Lewd Sense Is Tingling -200

Jumpers may find themselves facing many threats, in specific for this perk; threats to their abstinence. While protecting yourself from such will be on you, you now have a sense when any individual, both of who you are aware of in general and they are aware of you, and/or who are close enough to be in the same building as you. You can vaguely sense their lewd intent towards either you or someone you care about/focus on, but with more practice and experience, you can pinpoint the nature of their perversion, who they are going to be targeting, and what fetish they would be going for. After one or two visits to particularly malicious hentai worlds, never again will any ugly bastard evade your senses by any means. Also this sense is EXTREMELY OBVIOUS should someone be wanting your booty directly, or wants to fuck you in general.

Ligma Jumper Grindset -400

Look, you are going to have a bunch of freetime to do fuck all with, so you are actually going to use that time for something worth a damn! It’s just more efficient that way. You became some type of beast of hard work, to the point of mania. The more you single minded pursue some method of self-improvement, the more your labor will bear fruit. This is an effective x10 training booster (applied to any way you can become stronger on your own merit), and the more frantic and downright manic you are with your training, the more this will scale up.

Unearthly Endurance -400

While odds are you will only have to worry about yourself touching your privates, drawbacks excluded, even should there be someone attempting to tempt you, your sheer sexual endurance would serve as a decent final defense for in this gauntlet. You are a vigorous stubborn jumper, a normal partner would have NO HOPE to make you crumble should you be that stubborn about not nutting, the same doesn't hold indefinitely for something sexy beyond the mundane, or with questionable abilities related to coitus, but even then you would be able to resist them x10 better than the average person. This perk can't bypass the dreadful power of love, and it stops working should your willpower falter.

Horny Hulk -400

It sure would be handy if all that sexual frustration served for more than just being a test of your mettle, right? You read the perk's title, so you already know what to expect: When you snap due to sexual tension, you will grow proportionally stronger both by how desperately horny you are, and how long this state lasts. This can be weaponized by getting someone to agree to it under the condition you end up winning, but this perk does leave one crucial, obvious weakness, that to be fair won't be exploited unless you find yourself in the settling of a hentai jump. Probably. Should your sexual tension be relieved, you will lose this boost. Should you need a metric, the average Joe who didn't get any release for a week, and has to fight some turtle dragon thingy and rescue his girl to get any, would grow around 3x stronger by the ten minutes mark.

Ki Is Stored In The Balls! -600

No it isn't, who told you that?... Anyway, you now find your energy growing at a proportional rate to your backed up lust, the average joe going through this gauntlet would at the end find his ki (and any other similar energies based on vitality/spiritualism/magic) growing over five times! And assuming throughout all this time you had a higher drive/more provoked, for the sake of argument by an average succubus? Then that boost would be anything from a 2000%~5000% boost in energy reserves. But after a month, without much more teasing, that boost will have diminishing returns by the 10000% range after an entire year, and that special way of "training" will need a cooldown of a decade to work properly.

Truly Pent up -600

Seems you picked on this concept of "holding back" from this gauntlet, as you can now apply a similar effect to ONE Perk/Power/any innate thingy you may have. Once that is done, it will start to build up day by day, each day resulting in a compounding 1.05 booster to said chosen ability of yours. But it does come at a price; that ability will turn into a single use ability that can only be turned on once per jump (passive/automatic abilities such as good luck/plot armor will last for an hour before expiring), after that? You lose it until the next jump. At the end of each jump you may switch what ability is in this "pent up slot" of yours.

Nutless Curse -600

Jumper, what sort of wicked power have you unlocked?! You obtained some foul magic related to NNN. First of all, you can force abstinence on others for a whole month at no cost at all. The second curse you can force sex drive into beings that would otherwise lack it, this includes robots and eldritch gods (be mindful for the consequences of how that manifests), and finally, you learn a way to empower any other curse... If you manage to get your target with a "Deez Nuts" joke, you can empower any curse you have by a magnitude. In the particular cases of your other two perks, firstly you would be able to force abstinence on your target by a whole year and for that period nerf their power should it be based on lust, and the second curse would not only force a sex drive, but somehow make your target be able to reproduce, and with a libido far greater than you could easily exploit. Combining both curses is pretty cruel.

Items

Same rules as perks; one discount per price tier, 100s are free

Food, Water & Entertainment (Variable)

Everything you need to survive a month without going insane, or worse; bored. For free you'll have the versions of such as described in the location sections, but you may purchase upgrades for them here. Discounts would be applied individually in this section.

Food I (Default): As stated before; nothing special. The food isn't bad, sometimes it's good when something you like shows up, but it's a little bit rare for something particularly good for your tastes to be on the menu.

Food II (-100): The food offered is now a lot more fulfilling, some deluxe quality expected only for the rich, but still relatively mundane compared to other worlds you went out. You'll regularly have access to your comfort foods.

Food III (-200) (Requires Food II): Now this is something special! The food is downright mythical, pretty fulfilling and even the food that you would normally dislike somewhat would be enough to raise your spirit, not only that it will never prove addictive, nor will it ever settle down as a new "normal standard" taking away from your joy of it, due to the magic of fiat.

Water I (Default): All the things you need to keep yourself clean, including your normal wardrobe, towels, etc. And a source of endless water so you don't starve. The water is well... Water. And the bathroom, while not particularly relaxing, isn't uncomfortable.

Water II (-100): You can now decide what temperature the water comes in, the water is also mineral, and the shower defaults to a temperature that suits you quite nicely. Cold water in particular is pretty good for your challenge.

Water III (-200) (Requires Water II): The water is now the elixir of life, supernaturally healthy, increasing your vitality as you drink it. The shower has a magical way to take the edge out of you, and it's blessed with holy water... That won't harm you if you are a vampire or something like you. The water has a supernatural ability to calm your sinful urges, the colder the more effective, but even the lukewarm setting does a good job at calming you.

Entertainment I (Default): this is a basic laptop, the only special thing about it is the access it has to the internet of many worlds, through actual online interaction with other users is impossible, no amount of fiat is going to fix that many temporal shenanigans am I afraid (at least not without causing a lot of confusion). Still, you can use it to watch random youtube videos, just don't expect any new uploads for obvious reasons, also this laptop isn't exactly cutting edge as it is, at best you could play some of the earlier versions of minecraft without much issue. Post-Gauntlet this will be able to merge with the local internet, and will continue to stockpile other variants of the internet as you continue your chain. You also have access to any of your mundane books, should you have connected any of them.

Entertainment II (-200): You now have a more proper PC gamer setup that any gamer would be proud to have! It will even update to the cutting edge standards of the future worlds you visit, and you also have the equivalent of 2000 dollars in your jumper steam account to go wild with. You also gain all comics/manga you had at any point in your life, including all those items that retell your adventures in different artistic styles.

Entertainment III (-200) (Requires Entertainment II): Your options for gaming are now exponentially increased, your gaming computer morphing into a beast of an omni console, using nano-tech to morph its shape, controls, and monitors for your tastes. Not only that, you can request for any game ever and the PC's system will signal throughout the omniverse to find the game you requested as you intended, no risk of eldritch corruption or anything like that, and the company will receive it's cash back unless said company would be corrupt according to your standards or something like that. This essentially gives you infinite games to play, but unfortunately, for your own safety, the games are "mundane", no cursed EXE bullshit, nor any game that resets the universe and allows you the chance to become the god of the new universe you created from the alchemical universal frog for you, Jumper.

Nuts -100

And that's the semifinal time there will be an option in this jump related to literal nuts. You have a bunch of nuts, the highest quality of nuts at your disposal, updating for whatever normal standard you encounter to the highest of nuts. You also gain a garde attachment to whatever is your location, with ideal soil for nuts specifically.

Bolts -100

Doesn't count, it's only related to nuts by association. Anyway, you receive items to cover all your mechanical needs, it's a nice way to pass the time right? Post gauntlet you will find generic (by your standard) but advance specialized pieces for whatever ungodly machination you will eventually want to build.

Crystallized Wholesomeness -200

This is rock candy with a pretty positive effect when consumed; it has a similar effect to seeing a bunch of videos of cute cats, or whatever would be the equivalent of that to you, and it also helps you get past whatever negative mood you were in before consuming this crystal. It is candy, but other than that it isn't particularly detrimental to your health. You get one bag of it at the start of every week.

The Boinker -200

For the times you are confronted with a overly perverted/horny individual, and you need them to chill the fuck out, or you just want to boink their head really hard. The boinker has your covered either way. This normal looking bat comes with two options that you can default by conscious intent: It either can "stun" the horny out of someone, causing them to reflect on their actions with their lust temporarily disabled for 24 hours but is otherwise harmless. The second option which causes extra damage and is the weakness of all things perverted, this would cause double the damage against anyone too weak willed to go through two days of this challenge, it would deal a magnitude more damage on creatures like hentai orcs/goblins, it would have a similar effect kryptonite has on the average kryptonian relative to a succubus/MGE monster girl, and if this bat touches Slaanesh, she'll dry up and explode in record time.

Horny Jail -400

A more permanent solution to the problem that was also dealt with above. This is a jail who's size is whatever would be most convenient for you at any given time, it can store up anyone inside. And anyone you put inside here, no matter how powerful, will only be able to leave once they have chilled out on their horny intentions. Anyone inside of this jail will be unable to act on their lust. Also this item combines with The Boinker; if you buy both of those together, The Boinker will gain the ability to instantly send creatures here.

Motivation -400

ROW ROW FIGHT THE POWER! Anyway, you can request one, otherwise mundane, item that would now crystalize whatever you find to be the most motivational. Everytime you need it, and you glaze upon it, you will receive an entire instant flashback sequence to get you hyped, your hype and confidence will spike 200%, and you will reserve a personal boost of x2 to whatever attribute associated with what motivated you in the first place. Also this item will always conveniently be where you most need it to be for the sake of your motivation.

No Boobs -600

Only eyes. ONLY FACE!... Excuse me, let me actually describe the item: This is a visor that automatically censors all that you would want it to censor based on your input and intent. Though it doesn't diminish your ability to notice something is something, it does help you with how you would react with that information. It's particularly useful for this gauntlet, see no evil y'know? It is automatically made to cover anything you would find sexually stimulating and censor it as something silly that won't get you hot and bothered. As a bonus it comes with supplementary machines with similar functions to your other senses, also this item is pretty useful for dealing with things that would drive you insane. It has 100% fiat security!

Maximum Nuts -600

Not to be confused with the Max Nut you could find in the land with the brother plumbers. But it does come with similar effects. You receive various nuts of three different levels, each rarer than the first. First you receive 20 "regular"

Maximum Nuts, which fully heal you and one singular innate energy source of your choice, you recover all 20 of them per jump. Then you have the Maximuer Nuts, which not only does the same as its lesser counterparts, but also adds a permanent +200% for your health and all energy reserves, though that boost diminishes post jump. You regain one Maximuer Nut per jump and they can be stocked up, you can try to reproduce them on your own but they won't have the proper fiat they are supposed to have in the recipe. And finally... Comes the biggest nut of all! The Maximuest Nut! This is the definitive breed of nuts across all omniverse, you only gain ONE SINGULAR Maximuest Nut. PERIOD. With no way to recover. But true to its hyperbole sounding name; it is the ultimate nut you will ever find, giving you limitless power for one minute, power equal to an unquantifiable amount of all kinds of nuts, including the previous ones. This is the type of power that only thanks to fiat that a sparkless jumper could even hold for one minute, and one minute only. No, you can't do anything else or use another power/perk to prolong this effect, let alone replicate it, it's simply not within your reach until you get your spark. And as such, I can't describe how big of a power booster it is to you in a way you could make sense of it. It's the biggest of nuts.

Rewards/Failures

Failures:

Less than 24 hours: Really?... Really? Well, try not to get bullied if your companions found out how much of a coomer you are. You get nothing except for shame.

1 to 6 days: At least you put in a bit of effort, though your flesh was indeed weak. Well, guess you can keep the porn from Easy Temptation as an ironic consolation prize?

7 to 15 days: You didn't go the full mile, but it can't be said you didn't try. Stand proud, Jumper. You are not a hopeless coomer. By this point you can keep ONE of the Food, Water Entertainment options, or one of its upgrades should you already have an equivalent to your warehouse to its previous counterparts.

16 to 24 days: You managed more than 50% of the challenge, I can't say I am surprised but I can't claim to be disappointed either. Since you went only half way, you get 1/4 of the NP you gained here to retain. It's not an even distribution, but not cumming for at least more than half a month isn't exactly a herculean feat by itself either.

25 to 29.999... Days: Seriously?! You were so close! What even made you trip at the finish line anyway? Ugh... Fine, since you ALMOST got it, your consolation prize is a bastardized lesser version of the reward you would have if you completed it: Fiat Cock Cage: This is a item that has the same effect as the first bodymod perk below, but with drawbacks: First, it's a item, not a perk, let alone a bodymod perk. Second: It's uncomfortable, and it doesn't ACTUALLY give you absolute self control over your lust, it only stockpiles the effects of any supernatural/mundane seduction, but as long as you are wearing it you are good from any corruption, but should it be removed you will be left weakened from the assumed massive orgasm for any corruptive forces. Also the cage is kinda uncomfortable, toeing the line of being bearable to you.

Success:

Full 30 days: Congratulations! You did it! We can even arrange a evangelion styled congratulations feast with everyone who you imported as a companion here, or any local you befriended, whether they failed or succeeded irrelevant.

Now, what does that get you?

Rewards:

No Nutting!: The main theme here was self-control, if NNN has any actual goal, it's to detox yourself from masturbation... Or maybe you just edged yourself like a loon instead, which kinda defeats the purpose of doing it in the first place, but either way you gain this perk added to your body mod. From now on you have full immunity to any and all attempts at corrupting you via sexual perversion, you could invite the succubus queen and slaanesh directly into your mind/soul, have them fuse with the pre-retcon potara earrings, teach them the shadow clone jutsu, and let the fusion have a orgy inside of your very soul with the clones, and then afterwards you would not only remain sane but no degeneracy would affect you whatsoever. This extends to a lesser rate to other forms of corruption, you are thrice as hard to corrupt in your default state. To summarize it: Turning you into a raging demon would be more difficult, but turning you into a corrupted succubus would be outright impossible. And of course, with it comes saintly levels of control over your sexual drive. All of that is part of your bodymod.

Bragging Rights: You obtained a well of confidence, overwhelming you with smugness should you let it reach your actual head. You can use that to bully more effectively any horny bastard you encounter and gets in your way, haha, fucking loser coomers! This gets added to your bodymod as well.

Master Baiter: Were you expecting the final reward from this gauntlet to not be one final innuendo? Anyway, considering you were a good little jumper who lasted an entire month without being naughty, you now get to keep your hentai logic, up to your complete toggable control, as part of your bodymod. As Well as the ability to switch your genitalia freely, and being able to genderbend if you couldn't do that before. One final boon of this perk is that your sexual prowess stockpiles a lot faster, you can at will decide to turn on this boost, which would make you reach your "peak" far faster, basically the same amount of fluid you would have backed up during this entire month in a single day. Have fun with that.

One Full Year: What? You expected something more? That was a drawback. Fine, no need to give me the puppy dog eyes, I'll throw in +300 NP if you are going to look at me like that. You did just make the challenge x12(.16666...) times harder for yourself I suppose. Also even if you pass one month and then fail afterwards, you would just get the consolation from 25 to 29.999 Days should you fail completing the whole year. Don't look at me, nobody forced you to pick the drawback.

Notes

This is the stupidest thing I have ever written for jumpchain. As of the creation of this document, only a matter of time until I make something dumber.

taking Compounding Lust, Limitless Storage and Dubious Health Benefits together will probably result in this scenario:  No Nut November Sucks.

While they are written from a masculine perspective, all choices here would have an equivalent version should Jumper be a woman.

My Lewd Sense Is Tingling is meant to be an anti-NTR/hentai villain perk if that wasn't obvious enough. But its main purpose during the gauntlet is alerting you how much "patience" waifus/husbandos have left, and also help you out in the Mismatched Supplement option.

As mentioned before, for the purposes of Mismatched Supplement (and to a less relevant extent Pseudo-Supplement), you have all your other perks from outside this gauntlet EXCEPT when it comes to the gauntlet's main challenge: Not nutting. To be more clear: You could slap back any stubborn hentais monstergirls that didn't take no for an answer with your super strength, but if you get charmed by a succubus? You would have to rely on only your natural willpower. This weakness would also apply to hypnosis and similar, as long as the hypnotist is trying to hypnotize you for lewd reasons.

Companions from Misery Loves Company will mostly only have their bodymod equivalents (with the exception of both supplement locations), but companions that fall under the "Succubus/Incubus" category would retain a lighter form of the powers associated with it, in other words it's nerfed but it still would have the same function.

On Truly Pent up, I forgot to take into account perks/powers that give a permanent effect (Zenkaïs & crafting perks etc). I wasn't sure if I should nerf it since that caveat would make it by far the most unbalanced perk here. So I'll leave it up to your own interpretation. Though I would say a "fair enough" interpretation is that the abnormal boost would only last for an hour before reverting to what it would normally be. Aka: If you pent up your zenkai boost, you would have it magnified for an hour before reverting your power level to the normal non-pent up extend a zenkai boost would offer you.
