Race

You may purchase one race before starting any Mini-Jump or Scenario, as well as purchasing one at the beginning of each trilogy or at the start of a Scenario.

Once a race has been purchased, it will be Free to use for all further race purchases.

Each time you take a race option, you will gain a slightly customisable Alt-Form (age, gender, skin tone) of that race.

You gain a one-time +100 CP bonus to spend in this section.

Hobbit -100 CP

Hobbits, also known as Halflings, are known for their innocent nature, quiet lives, and resilience to corruption, rather than possessing magical or extraordinary powers. They are skilled listeners, nimble, and adept at throwing stones.

Human -100 CP

Men, also known as the Atani or Humans, are not inherently magical but possess unique strengths like adaptability, resourcefulness, and the ability to learn and adapt.

Dwarf -200 CP

Dwarves are the oldest of the Free Peoples of the World, known for their exceptional skill in craftsmanship, particularly metalworking and stonework, and their great physical strength and endurance, with a notable resistance to heat and cold.

Ainur -400 CP (Discounted with “Limited Scope”)

The Ainur, also known as the ‘Holy Ones’, are beings encompassing both the Valar and the Maiar, with the former being by far the most powerful. They were the first and mightiest beings created by Eru Ilúvatar long before the beginning of the World, and joined him in the song that created Eä, the universe to which Arda (and Middle Earth) belongs. Their kind now primarily dwells within Valinor. In the Third Age five Maiar were sent by the Valar to aid the peoples of Middle Earth through persuasion and encouragement, rather than force and dominion. Known as the ‘Wizards’ or ‘Istari’, they were ‘clothed’ in the bodies of men, and had the same emotions and frailties as men, save for the fact that they were immortal.

If you have taken “Limited Scope”, the Ainur are instead a native magical race, but with the appearance of humans.

Elf -400 CP

The Elves are immune to illness and not subject to age after reaching their prime. They could be killed only in violence or by extreme despair. Elves possess enhanced senses and a connection to nature, along with abilities like telepathy and a limited capacity to see into the future, making them a powerful and graceful race.

Pre-Jump General Perks

The Perks in this section can be purchased before starting any Mini-Jump or during any Scenario. Discounted Items are 50% of their initial price, with 100 CP Perks being Free.

Westron - Free

Westron, also known as the Common Speech, is the most prominent language of Middle-earth during the time of the War of the Ring.

Other Languages - Free/-50 CP/-300 CP

You may select a single language to have learned for Free, gaining the ability to read, write, understand, and speak the language as well as all of its dialects.

You may purchase additional languages for -50 CP each, or by paying -300 CP, you may learn all the following languages and their dialects:

Adûnaic, the language spoken in Númenor.

Black Speech, the language of Dark Lord Sauron, is used by people under his control.

Common Eldarin, the primordial tongue of the Eldar.

Dwarvish, the language of the Dwarves.

Entish, the language of the Ents, is long and sonorous.

Khuzdul, the secret language of the Dwarves.

Orkish Dialects, which Orcs use to communicate with each other.

Rohirric, the language of Rohan.

Sindarin, the modern language of the Elves.

Taliska, the Mannish language spoken by the Edain.

Valarin, the Eldest Speech, the divine tongue of the Ainur, and the oldest of languages.

Wolf-language, a language used by certain dogs, wargs, and wolves in Arda.

Wizard of the Colours -50 CP (Requires “Subtle Magic”, 1st purchase Free with “Ainur”)

By taking the title of a wizard of colour, you may gain power, a strength of purpose within magic, and a role that you can take up to face your enemies.

You may purchase this multiple times, selecting a different colour each time to become a wizard of many separate colours, but doing so will look foolish and susceptible to corruption.

You may also choose multiple colours in a single purchase to combine them into 1 of 26 equal-part composite colours, such as Brown, Green, Grey, Orange, Navy, or Pink.

Each colour combined will be diluted, giving only a proportional benefit of their colour components so that the composite colour does not exceed the original but will deepen the magic's connection towards the natural world, while your purpose shifts towards the protection of beasts, plants, and nature itself.

- White

As a White Wizard, you have a deeper connection to justice and authority. The way this role leads to problem-solving is by taking on the role of the leader, making the hard decisions with the belief that the world can be just and structured, should the right mind be in charge. Your purpose is deeply tied to aiding the vulnerable, creating structure and to ensure the continuation of order.

- Black

As a Black Wizard, you have a deeper connection to ambition and freedom. The way this role leads to problem-solving is by taking on the role of the revolutionary, fostering new ideas to instigate change and progression, as long as the right ideals are used to guide them. Your purpose is focused on survival, growth, and the advancement of progression.

- Red

As a Red Wizard, you have a deeper connection to conflict and your instincts. The way this role leads to problem-solving is by taking on the role of the warrior, preferring a straightforward solution-oriented approach. Your purpose often relates to great battles, invigorating courage, and ensuring decisive actions.

- Yellow

As a Yellow Wizard, you have a deeper connection to light and comfort. The way this role leads to problem-solving is by taking on the role of the priest, encouraging a positive outlook, and reducing the difficulties that others must face. Your purpose is to provide support and healing as well as to invigorate hope when it is needed most.

- Blue

As a Blue Wizard, you have a deeper connection to defence and preservation. The way this role leads to problem-solving is by taking on the role of the spy, investigating problems, and dealing with them as quickly and quietly as possible without being caught in order to prevent damage. Your purpose is to provide protection and concealment for those in need, as well as cleanse corruption.

Simple Crafts -100 CP (Free with “Elf”, “Hobbit”, and “Dwarf”)

You understand the simple pleasures of crafting, giving you the knowledge and skills required to perform the basics of most types of crafting, including cooking, farming, faceting, smithing, woodworking, weaving, dyeing, and leatherworking. This wide variety of knowledge helps you to craft objects with the barest minimum of materials to make what you're after.

Telepathy -300 CP (Discounted with “Ainur” or “Elf”)

You can communicate with others telepathically over short distances, holding conversations simply by looking into the eyes of another, allowing you to speak mind to mind.

Hobbit - Race Perks

Durable Feet -100 CP (Free with “Hobbit”)

This Perk makes the base of your feet ten times as durable. For a regular human, this would be enough to withstand thorns and hard surfaces barefoot as though they were boots. You can also Toggle this Perk in order to have your feet covered with thick, curly hair.

Nimble and Quiet -100 CP (Free with “Hobbit”)

Your movements are now exceedingly quiet as you possess the ability to move quickly, stealthily, and with great agility.

Hobbit Crafts -100 CP (Discounted with “Hobbit”)

You now excel in crafts common among rural peoples, producing high-quality products made from wood and leather.

Hobbit Stones -100 CP (Discounted with “Hobbit”)

You have learned the Hobbiting stone skills, allowing you to throw stones with impressive precision. When throwing a simple stone, you will hit with the level of accuracy and power as though the target were a tenth of the distance it actually is.

Skilled Listeners -100 CP (Discounted with “Hobbit”)

You have a discerning ear for important details, as you are able to listen carefully at a distance to what others are talking about and pick up only the details that are important to you.

Corruption Resilience -200 CP (Discounted with “Hobbit”)

You are now far less susceptible to corrupting influences such as the One Ring compared to others. This allows you to block out any personality-altering or emotion-altering effects far better, reducing active forms of corruption down to 20% of what they otherwise would be and passive effects down to 5% of what they should be.

Human - Race Perks

Adaptability and Resourcefulness -100 CP (Free with “Human”)

You can adapt to different environments, allowing you to reduce the discomfort you feel in the area you are in. This also increases your resourcefulness, making it easier for you to find solutions to your problems.

Free Will -100 CP (Free with “Human”)

You are now protected from predetermined destiny; though fate can find you, it cannot force you to follow a predetermined path, and you can make choices to change destined outcomes.

Learning and Skill -100 CP (Discounted with “Human”)

This Perk boosts your capacity for learning and mastering various skills, having them grow at an accelerated rate. This learning booster applies to combat, craftsmanship, and leadership.

Mortal Blade -100 CP (Discounted with “Human”)

You are skilled with swords, daggers, and spears as though you had spent five years of training and practice with each blade type, as well as having learned how to use variations of these weapons.

Mortality -100 CP (Discounted with “Human”)

While Elves and Dwarves have long lifespans, humans are mortal, meaning they age and die, but this also grants them the gift of experiencing a full life, allowing you to continue to grow and learn regardless of how powerful or intelligent you become. Known as the ‘Gift of Ilúvatar’, it was envied by many Elves and Ainur, as it meant that the existence of Men was not tied to that of Arda or Eä. Whereas Elves would eventually reincarnate, upon death the souls of humans would be able to depart from the Halls of Mandos to a place unknown even to the Valar. Accordingly, you will also be able to untether your soul from any unwanted cycle of reincarnation, and your soul will be able to exist independently of any metaphysical plane.

Númenóreans -100 CP (Exclusive to “Human”)

You are born from the lineage of humans, the Númenóreans, who are blessed in both mind and body while being known for their long lifespans, beauty, and skills. With this Perk, the natural lifespan of all of your Alt-Forms is doubled.

Dwarf - Race Perks

Dwarven Might -100 CP (Discounted with “Dwarf”)

You are skilled with hammers, axes, picks, and maces, as you have been trained for five years for each weapon in how to swing with the greatest amount of might, as well as how to use each weapon creatively in battle.

Stone Crafts -100 CP (Discounted with “Dwarf”)

You are an expert miner, smelter, and architect. With this knowledge, you are able to construct and dig a mine within a tenth of the time that you would otherwise require while sorting and processing the materials with ease. You are also capable of designing and building intricate, durable structures out of almost any material you understand.

War Crafts -100 CP (Discounted with “Dwarf”)

You are highly skilled at crafting weapons, armor, and siege equipment. From this, you know how to sharpen blades to perfection regardless of the materials they're forged from, how to reinforce armour, and pad it to soften most blows, and you know how to create scaffolding or mobile structures quickly and sturdily.

Durability and Resistance -200 CP (Free with “Dwarf”)

Your body is now physically stronger with great endurance, allowing you to carry heavy burdens over longer distances without tiring. This also makes your skin and hair resistant to fire, becoming incredibly difficult to burn.

Dwarven Crafts -200 CP (Free with “Dwarf”)

You are now a master of smithing, metalworking, and masonry. You always know how to apply the exact amount of force you need in order to get the result you want, allowing you to work metals that other smiths are incapable of working and perform precise carvings on metal and stone without damaging their internals.

Shield of the Mind -200 CP (Free with “Dwarf”)

You are now far more resilient against outside threats to your mind. With this, you can block out attempts to read or control your mind as well as attempts to possess your body.

Magical Craft -200 CP (Discounted with “Dwarf”)

You now know a variety of ways to create magical objects. These methods include combining unique materials with your will and intentions, laying enchantments onto the object as it is being forged, and engraving the object with oaths written in powerful tongues.

Ainur - Race Perks

From the Stars -50 CP (Free with “Ainur” if not taken with “Limited Scope”)

With this Narrative Perk, you can enter a jump as though born into a world like all Ainur falling from the sky like a star and awakening within a crater of your own destruction. You can choose the general area you will land, but not where you land.

Subtle Magic -100 CP (Free with “Ainur”)

While not the powerful magics used by the Ainur, these subtle magics can be learned by mortals with magical potential, allowing you to perform interesting cantrips such as lighting a pipe or creating minor flashes of light and sound.

True Magic -200 CP (Discounted with “Ainur”, Requires “Subtle Magic”)

Your power is no longer limited to tricks and showmanship, as you can now wield the magic of the "Magia" and "Goeteia". Through the magic of the Magia, you can produce evocations of magic, such as the creation of fire or the summoning of lightning. Through the magic of the Goeteia, you can produce illusory effects, to alter the mind, or fool the senses, be it for art or deception. These powers are not ordinarily capable of being learned but are instead an inherent ability of those races that can be considered "magical".

Music of the Ainur -300 CP (Exclusive to “Ainur”, Requires “Subtle Magic”)

You are now able to sing the songs of creation, allowing you to sing into existence various effects that bend the world to match your tune. With an exchange of words, you can influence the growth of life, change the weather, invigorate hearts, or raise mountains out of the earth.

Shapeshifting -300 CP (Discounted with “Ainur”, Requires “Subtle Magic”)

You can alter your physical form at will, taking on different appearances, changing how you want to be seen, or mimicking the appearance of your enemies. Be warned, these changes are skin deep and easily dismissed by those who know how.

Divine Might -600 CP (Free with “Ainur”, incompatible with “Limited Scope”)

You now have power beyond your mere shell, as you can take on the form of your incorporeal spirit, derived directly from Eru Ilúvatar. This allows you to manipulate matter, create physical forms, and possess immense spiritual strength. This also boosts all of your perks and powers.

Elf - Race Perks

Enhanced Senses -100 CP (Free with “Elf”)

You have superior vision and hearing, allowing you to see and hear things at four times the distances and with eight times the clarity.

Grace and Skill -100 CP (Free with “Elf”)

You now have an enhanced level of grace and beauty that surpasses the boundaries of nature, not just by physical attraction alone, but by other aspects and principles of beauty.

Light on their feet -100 CP (Free with “Elf”)

You are unusually light on your feet, allowing you to walk over unstable structures, including sinkholes and snow, without disturbing them and preventing you from leaving tracks.

Resting the Mind -100 CP (Free with “Elf”)

You are now able to rest your mind even while awake and walking. This allows you to overcome mental fatigue while only using the parts of your mind needed for the task at hand. Time spent in this state of rest is almost as effective as sleeping.

Connection to Nature -100 CP (Discounted with “Elf”)

You have a strong connection to nature, allowing you to understand and interact with the wind, soil, and trees, which grants you information as clearly as if it had been a road sign.

Elvish Crafts -100 CP (Discounted with “Elf”)

You are now a skilled craftsman, capable of creating objects of great beauty. This allows you to easily shape your crafting materials into intricate and beautiful patterns with exacting specifications for your intentions.

Elven Archer -200 CP (Discounted with “Elf”)

You have learned the Elven art of archery, as you gain the knowledge and experience that an elf would learn over 500 years of training and practice. This allows you to hit your targets with great accuracy and precision that would seem supernatural to most mortals.

Limited Foresight -200 CP (Discounted with “Elf”)

You have a limited ability to see into the future, though not with perfect accuracy. You can see some of the events that will take place over the next few days, but it may take some rumination to understand what you are looking at.

Immortality -400 CP (Free with “Elf”)

You are not subject to the decay of time; after you reach your pinnacle of life, you will stop aging, and your body will never degrade due to time, making it so that old age can not take you, and you will not die a natural death. This does not prevent you from being killed or dying from diseases.

Elessar -200 CP

This strange sack is the size of a fully grown hobbit and has a few magical abilities. The inside of the bag is ten times the size of its outside, and even when full, the bag can be folded as though empty, and strangest of all, the bag can speak and sing while open, though it does not seem to have intelligence of its own.

Aeglos -300 CP (Discounted with "Elf")

A Morgul Blade -600 CP

This ethereal sword is coated in a dark miasma, which acts as a spectral poison that corrupts the living and can kill the dead. Any living being wounded by the blade, if not healed, will slowly die and be transformed into a violent wraith, whereas any undead wounded will suffer and grow weaker until they either remove the poison or cease to exist.

Iron Crown -2000 CP (Discounted with "Ainur")

The Iron Crown was forged by Morgoth in the First Age to hold the Silmarils, the three Jewels of Fëanor, and to emphasize his claim to the mantle of "King of the World". You forget all of your Out-of-Jump knowledge about Lord of the Rings for this Mini-Jump or Scenario.

Something happened that the Ring did not intend +300 CP

This Drawback can only be purchased before starting any Mini-Jumps or Scenarios, with it becoming Mandatory for every Mini-Jumps and Scenario afterwards. Canon has completely broken as you are now within a strange hybrid of the books, movies, comics, games, and fanfictions.

Barnabas the Pink +400 CP

It seems there is another Ainur within Middle-earth, as a straightforward and earnest seeming fellow who seems to effortlessly slip into positions of authority. However, despite his jolly demeanor, Barnabas the Pink is a Dark Wizard determined to take over the world and kill anyone who gets in his way. His pleasant personality makes it incredibly difficult for others to imagine him ever performing evil, and when caught in the act, his silver tongue can often come up with beautiful explanations that seem to make his vile acts seem justified or even heroic. Should he deem anyone to be a threat to his plans, he will happily arrange their death and step in to take up any responsibilities they leave behind.

History became legend, legend became myth +500 CP

This drawback can only be taken once.

The next jump you take after completing The Lord of the Rings: The Return of the King: Mini-Jump must be set on a variant of mundane earth. This variant may have magic, but regardless of what jump it is, the events you take part in during this jump will be the Ancient history of the selected Jump's world.

Limited Scope +500 CP

This Drawback can only be purchased before starting any Mini-Jumps or Scenarios, with it being active for the duration of every mini-jump and scenario in this Jump-Doc.

The power level of this setting is more "Grounded", limiting the power of all individuals and entities within the world to the scale of power shown in the movies.

This makes the world itself more mundane by making it so that it was always round and did not become so during the second age; it retroactively erases powerful entities normally hidden, disinterested, or absent from the War of the Ring. For example, it will remove the nameless things normally consuming the pillars of the world from within the depths of Arda, along with Tom Bombadil, his home and his wife Goldberry.

This also retroactively alters the divine cosmology so that those known as gods, such as the Valar and Morgoth, are merely powerful beings deified for their actions rather than being true Divinity, and it makes it so that the Ainur are merely powerful magical beings rather than the Angel-like creatures restricted in power and form.

While the strength and power they possess are still extraordinary, the powers that good and evil can wield within this setting will be far less impressive than those shown within the tales of The Silmarillion.

Pre-Trilogy Scenario

You can only take this optional Scenario before starting any Mini-Jumps or Scenarios in this Jump-Doc. In this Scenario, you will be placed within an identical copy of Middle-Earth as it was the moment the Fellowship of the Ring started, but this world is empty of all creatures, undead, and lifeforms, besides non-sentient plants. You gain +500 CP to purchase anything from any section of this Jump-Doc at its flat price, bypassing origin discounts in Mini-Jumps.

You must purchase a race to use for this Scenario, which functions as a Gauntlet, disabling all Out-of-Jump Perks, Powers, Items, and Companions other than Body Mods.

You will start this scenario in the Hobbit Hole of Bilbo Baggins with the One Ring in your hand. To complete this scenario, you must travel to Mordor and drop the One Ring into the lava of Mount Doom.

If you die or can not complete this Scenario within 10 Years, it will count as a failure.

Rewards:

For completing One does not simply walk into Mordor, you gain +500 CP to save for future Mini-Jumps in this document or spend in the Pre-Jump and the Ring of The Stonefoots.

Ring of The Stonefoots

This Ring is a copy of the ring of a Dwarf Lord and is disconnected from the One Ring. While wearing this ring, you can envelop your feet in cushions of air. While this makes it so that your body never tires from walking and each step is soft and comfortable, its main function is to let you walk through the air as though stepping on stones.

The Siege of Barad-dûr

When taking this optional Scenario, you will awaken the night before the Siege of Barad-dûr starts at the end of the Second Age. Unlike the canonical events in this Scenario, Isildur and his father have both died before the story began. You may purchase a race or select a previously purchased race, becoming a soldier of your selected race.

To complete this scenario, you must remove the One Ring from the hand of Sauron, severing his spirit in the process. Though the canonical Siege lasted seven years, you end the battle sooner or take longer; however, taking longer than 10 years will count as a Scenario Failure. These events will not be canon to your Mini-Jump's.

Rewards:

For completing The Siege of Barad-dûr and defeating Sauron, you gain +500 CP to save for future mini-jumps in this Jump-Doc or spend in Pre-Jump section, the Perk We are both, Elves and Men, in Arda and of Arda, and the Ring of The Ironfists.

We are both Elves and Men, in Arda and of Arda

When you start a Jump, you can use this Narrative Perk to enter as both a Drop-In and a Character-Insert as two separate bodies who are mentally connected through a hive mind. If a jump has multiple entrance points, such as in a Mini-Jump Compilation, you may only use this Perk once per continuity.

Ring of The Ironfists

This Ring is a copy of the ring of a Dwarf Lord and is disconnected from the One Ring. While wearing this ring, you can envelop your flesh in the power of the ring. This makes it so that any blows your body takes are reduced as though wearing steel armor, and any unarmed strike you make is reinforced as though using a magical weapon.

The Sacking of Erebor

In this optional Scenario, you will awaken within the depths of the Lonely Mountain, within the public area furthest from all exits, as Smaug descends upon the mountain.

This Scenario functions like a Gauntlet, disabling all Out-of-Jump Perks, Powers, Items, and Companions other than Body Mods, though you may purchase a race or select a previously purchased race to become for the duration of this Scenario.

To complete this Scenario within ten years, you must escape the Lonely Mountain with your life and reach the Iron Hills.

While Smaug will not target you specifically, he will slaughter any Dwarf he comes across.

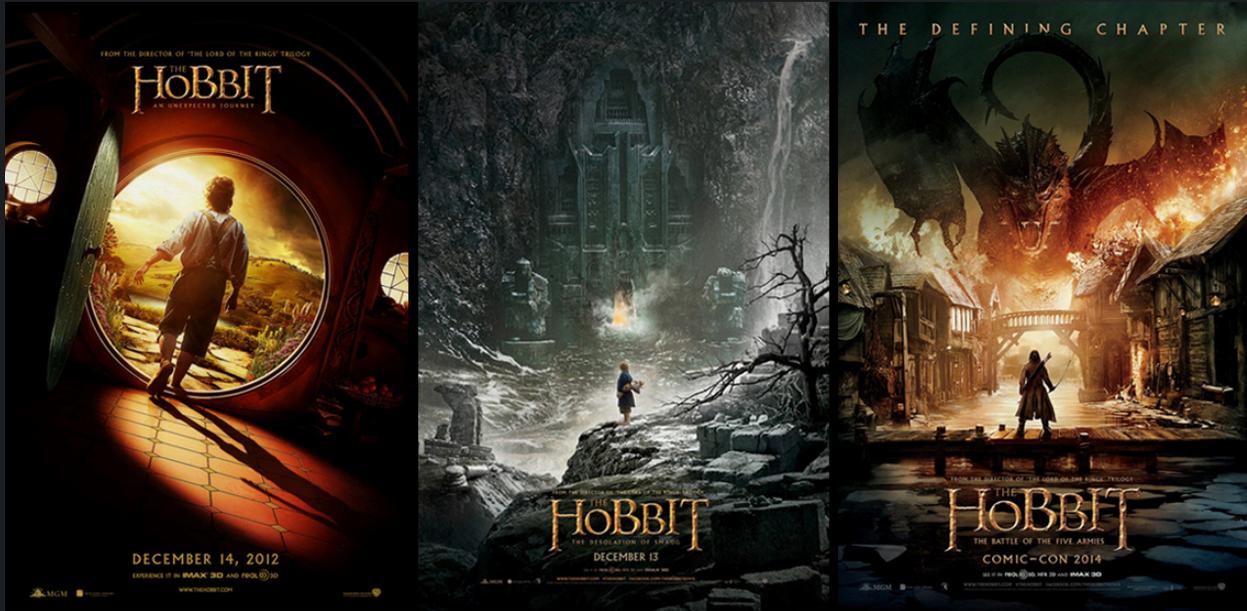

Both Smaug and Thorin Oakenshield will possess a form of Plot Armor that will protect them from changes to canon, but you can choose if the events you participate in will be canon to the events of the later Mini-Jumps.

Rewards:

For completing The Sacking of Erebor, you gain +500 CP to save for future Mini-Jumps in this Jump-Doc or spend in the Pre-Jump section and the Ring of The Firebeards.

Ring of The Firebeards

This Ring is a copy of the ring of a Dwarf Lord and is disconnected from the One Ring. While wearing this ring, you can envelop your body in flames. These flames, though not magical, cannot harm your body but can be used to harm your enemies. These flames are also a type of armor protecting you from heat, cold, and all manner of flames.

The Hobbit Trilogy

You gain +500 CP, which can only be spent in the Hobbit Trilogy section.

You may choose to start in the Shire, Bree, or Rivendell, unless your background drawback has you starting somewhere else, and you will stay in this setting for a minimum of 5 years up to when Bilbo Baggins returns Home.

You may also purchase a race, select a previously purchased race, or create a new identity for this Trilogy. These Perks can only be purchased and used before starting The Hobbit Trilogy.

It began long ago -100 CP

When starting a Jump, you can use this Narrative Perk to start a Pre-Jump event within the Jump's History. When using this Perk, you can select a historic event or time period, such as The Rings of Power TV-Show and enter that time period as a Drop-In. You will exist within that time period for a minimum of ten years and can leave whenever you wish after those ten years. When starting the main Jump, you may choose if your historic events are canon to the story.

While I can honestly say I have told you the truth, I may not have told you all of it -100 CP

When starting a Jump, you can use this Perk to select a historic event or time period within that jump, such as the events of The Hobbit, the war of Grindelwald in Harry Potter, the creation of the Four Lord Souls in Dark Souls, or the events of the Franco-Prussian War. You will then gain a DVD box set of multiple movies that will show you the events and hidden details of those events, giving you historic details that occurred before they began the important events within that were never revealed to the public, as well as the secret manipulations and betrayals of those involved.

This Perk functions as a 1-UP, making it so that once per jump or once every ten years if you are killed, this Perk can be activated to return you to life; however, until you regain the 1-UP from this perk, you lose your hearing, making you deaf instead of dead.

You have lost your power of estimation, as you can not guess how many of something there is if there is more than ten of it.

My goat riding days are over +100 CP

You can't ride any kind of animal; at most, you could be a passenger on a cart that someone else is driving, but you will feel motion sick.

Open this door +100 CP

Whenever you are in the middle of something, someone will always try to barge their way into the room you are in.

The gold in that mountain is cursed +100 CP

The gold of the lonely mountain now burns you. Touching even a single coin would be like grasping hot coals, as it would you.

Since when has my council counted for so little +100 CP

No matter what you say, everyone will seem to ignore your advice as though you had said nothing. Even if they decide to do what you suggest, it will have nothing to do with you.

He doesn't sleep, he barely eats +200 CP

You are now suffering from insomnia and a case of anorexia as the idea of eating or sleeping becomes unpalatable to you.

I will have war +200 CP

It seems you have woken up and chosen violence as you feel rage, and every time you make a decision, you seem to be pulled towards making the most confrontational option.

Not every man is brave enough to wear a corset +200 CP

You are stuck in an uncomfortable corset that makes it difficult for you to move comfortably and difficult to breathe deeply.

The town is lost, save the gold +200 CP

You have lost interest in the value of human lives, in comparison to the value of gold. So long as you can gain a gold coin, you will happily let dozens of people die.

If this is love, I do not want it +300 CP

You will fall in love with someone, and they will permanently die with no perk, item, or power of any type ever allowing you to revive them.

One of them is false +300 CP

There is an imposter in your group; they will be a shapeshifting creature working for Sauron with the intention of killing you and your allies.

You can not fight shadows +300 CP

For the duration of this Jump, 3 shadow beings will be sent out to kill you. They are ethereal to any non-magical weapons and will not die even when wounded. They will have great discomfort when in direct light, but will be stronger in darkness. They will not willingly stop trying to kill you.

Dragon sickness +400 CP

You have caught a bad case of dragon sickness, as you have a fierce and jealous love towards gold and treasure of all types, making you far more paranoid and prone to erratic behavior.

He will burn +400 CP

Before this Jump begins, you will be put into an empty space where you will be burned alive by Smaug's flames. It will be quick, but it will also be very painful. After you have died, you will be brought back to life and start this Mini-Jump.

End of Mini-Jump

This Mini-Jump ends at the end of the day that Bilbo canonically returns home. Any relevant Mini-Jump-only drawbacks end.

Take a Break:

You can go on another jumpchain adventure while time in this jump is paused. If/when you return, you must select either "Next:" and continue onwards with the next section of this Jump-Doc.

Long Road:

If you select this option, you will stay in this jump setting for approximately 60 years until the start of The Lord of the Rings Trilogy. For taking this option, you gain +1000 CP.

Next:

You continue into Mid-Trilogy Scenarios.

Mid-Trilogy Scenario:

The Scenarios in this section are optional and can only be taken after completing the Hobbit Trilogy, and can not be taken after starting the Lord of the Rings Trilogy.

Middle-earth: Shadow of Mordor and War

After Talion, a ranger of Gondor responsible for guarding the Black Gate of Mordor, is killed by the armies of Sauron, however, unless you select to insert as Talion, you will be revived and possessed by Celebrimbor in Talion's place.

You may purchase a race or select a previously purchased race to become for the duration of this Scenario.

For the duration of this scenario, you will gain Talion's "wraith-like abilities" but will not keep them post-scenario.

To complete this Scenario, you must kill the Hammer of Sauron, the Tower of Sauron, the Black Hand of Sauron, the Witch-king of Angmar, and seize Minas Morgul.

You can choose if the events you participate in will be canon to the events of the later Mini-Jumps.

If you have taken Long Road, you may either have the body that you're living in during the 60-year gap take Talion's place or have an independent copy of yourself gain a new body with your Perks, Powers, and Items, then take on the Scenario and merge with you when this Scenario is completed.

Rewards:

For completing Middle-earth: Shadow of Mordor and War, you gain +500 CP to save for future Mini-Jumps in this Jump-Doc or spend in the Pre-Jump section and the Ring of The Witch-king.

- If you have purchased Aeglos and Túrann, you will also gain The Ring of Celebrimbor.
- If you have purchased Simple Crafts, Hobbit Crafts, Elvish Crafts, Dwarven Crafts, War Crafts, Stone Crafts, and Magical Crafts, you will also gain Power Crafts.

Ring of The Witch-king

This Ring is a copy of the lesser ring of man and is disconnected from the One Ring. While wearing this ring, you will become the bane of all weapons, as any time you are struck, the weapon that hits you will shatter, most likely wounding its wielder.

The Ring of Celebrimbor

This Ring is an intentional inverse of the One Ring, taking on a silver and cold blue in opposition to the One Ring's gold and fire red. This ring was crafted by Celebrimbor without Sauron's imbued power, thereby leaving it free of the Dark Lord's influence. While wearing this ring, you will be able to see and interact with the Wraith realm. This allows you to see souls through walls, teleport to nearby locations within sight, and even grasp souls from a distance to pull their bodies toward you.

Power Crafts

With this, you gain the crafting knowledge of Celebrimbor, Sauron, and even Fëanor as you can now craft objects that are imbued with power beyond mere magic. You can craft new rings of power, going so far as to imbue them with magical stones to create new masterpieces. Should you use The Arkenstone as a gem, you could use it to craft a ring of power that complements the three Elven rings, Nór, a ring that strengthens the land which supports you, and boosts your ability to wield earth-oriented magic. By channeling your magic through the ring, it can reinforce the wills and bodies of those you target.

Middle-earth: War in the North

You may also purchase a race or select a previously purchased race, or create a new identity for this Scenario. Due to the events overlapping with the story of The Lord of the Rings, you may choose for these events to be set in a separate canonical continuity from the Mini-Jumps or have it that the you in this scenario is an independent copy of you with your perks who will merge with you when this Scenario is completed and you both will it.

This Scenario will begin a few days before Frodo sets off on his quest, as you, alongside Eradan, a human, Andriel, an elf, and Farin, a Dwarf, arrive at the Prancing Pony in Bree, to meet with Aragorn.

To complete this scenario, you must complete the accomplishments of the Trio, such as distracting the orcs of Fornost, slaying Bargrisar the Stone-giant, decimating the Orc army at Mount Gundabad, and killing Agandaûr.

Rewards:

For completing Middle-earth: War in the North, you gain +500 CP to save for any future Mini-Jump or spend in the Pre-Jump section and the Ring of The Stiffbeards.

Ring of The Stiffbeards

This Ring is a copy of the ring of a Dwarf Lord and is disconnected from the One Ring. While wearing this ring, you can shift your form into stone, allowing you to strike with more force, and when pressing against rock, allowing you to travel through the land at half your regular walking speed without unsettling the earth.

The Lord of the Rings Trilogy

You gain +500 CP, which can only be spent in the Lord of the Rings Trilogy section.

You may choose to start in the Shire, Bree, or Rivendell, unless your background drawback has you starting somewhere else. You may also purchase a new race, select a previously purchased race, or create a new identity for this Trilogy. If you have already destroyed the One Ring at this point, then you will be sent to a copy of the canon world of The Lord of the Rings. These Perks can only be purchased and used before starting The Lord of the Rings Trilogy.

My own adventure turned out quite different -100 CP

When continuing a Jump based on a Multi-Part story, you can use this Narrative Perk to start a side Jump, allowing you to re-enter the story's events as they occurred in canon. For example, should you destroy the One Ring within the events of the Hobbit Trilogy, you can use this Perk to pause that timeline and enter into a copy of the canon events of The Lord of the Rings with your Narrative Perks applied.

Full of strange creatures beyond count -100 CP

When starting a Jump, you will be able to use this Narrative Perk to import species from any previous jumps you have visited into continuity.

This import can be done in one of two ways:

1. First is to import setting-appropriate equivalents of the species without really altering the continuity. You will have some control over the implementation, such as making Tolkien Incursion's humanoid frogs similar to Tolkien Goblins or spirits like Tolkien Merpeople.
2. Second is to retroactively import the selected species as they are within the original story; this may alter the events of the canonical story, resulting in a drastically different setting.

The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring

You gain a +500 CP stipend to be spent specifically on this Mini-Jump with its start date being the day of Bilbo's eleventy-first birthday party.
