

Guillermo del Toro's Cabinet of Curiosities v1.2

Introduction

A world of unknown mysteries, bizarre cults and everlasting fear. Guillermo del Toro's Cabinet of Curiosities is a world where eldritch entities of H.P Lovecraft works are both alive and fearsome. Mundane people sometimes cross into the boundary of knowing the unknowable, to touch the truth of the world. However, what price is worth knowing that your existence is meaningless in the face of the incomprehensible gods that spread their tentacles upon this very world?

You have 5 doses of this drug which would last for at least an hour, perhaps more of time spent there and the drug restocks weekly.

Cultist

Summoning Ritual Materials 400 CP - A seance table with eldritch runes that make summoning of an otherworldly entity possible as well as elusive and exquisite fourth volume of occult knowledge as well as a tool for contracting the being, Liber Quartus Sacramentum. Eldritch Being Vessel 100 CP - An empty body, an ideal vessel of your might. If destroyed, it reappears after a year. This vessel works perfectly for the possession power found above.

Meteoric Prison 200 CP - A prison, but also a home, utterly hidden save for sight. It shields you from harm after you enter it but you also cannot simply leave it. The meteor beckons people, preferably cultists into providing enough 'psychic ambience' to open it. After which you are released and can do as you will with them, it also makes at least one of them a perfect vessel for yourself.

Item of Power 400 CP - A painting, a statue or perhaps a shrine, this item is your place of power where your abilities and senses may reach even without your direct presence.

Companions

Import 100/200/300 CP - You may import all your companions into an origin of choice(for which they pay from their stipend), each option gives twice the CP in stipend to your companions, they of course get all the freebies and discounts.

Rod 100 CP - A scientist of the highest degree... wrong series. This man resembles him but is older and more charismatic. A man with a silver tongue and also a gambling addict that has money problems. He is a pretty crafty individual and if guided, could become a brilliant helper in any social or scientific field. His possessions include a trusty gun and a cloak.

Thead 100 CP - A curiously thin and pale looking middle aged man wearing a bloody and old scrub, their weapon of choice scalper and attitude so grave you wonder why his job is not a serial killer instead of an autopsies and funeral preparations. Some say that him living among the dead reminds them of a reaper of sorts...

Dorian 100 CP - A painter of great skill and renown as well as devilishly handsome. He looks pretty young but gives off an aura of ages past. This agelessly immortal friend is a trouble magnet, but trouble means adventure right?

Familiar 100 CP - A small 'animal' with a terrifyingly human looking face, basically a rat with a human face, but doesn't have to be a rat. It acts as your pawn in whatever schemes you take part in, loyal to death and of a crafty mind.

Flock of Dunlins 200 CP - A small flock of about a hundred dunlins that are 'connected' to you in their murmuring, following your will as well as sharing their senses and mind with you.

Giant Rat 200 CP - A human sized rat, whether it's cute is a matter of opinion but it's a pretty sturdy animal and will protect you with its life. It can also on its own give birth to tens or potentially hundreds of normal sized rats who follow its will and are friendly to you.

Cultist 200 CP - A genuine self proclaimed madman. This man or woman is well versed in matters concerning the supernatural world and would like to follow you through your path, it seems you are a better bet than following Yog Sothoth and others incomprehensible. That's what they think at least. Anyway they are knowledgeable about occult and various rituals but do not have any super powers... yet. They are loyal to you and will soon start a cult worshipping your majesty and power if left to their own devices.

'Family' 400 CP - A weird group of eldritch monsters of average power who think of you as family, their understanding of this concept is as alien as their appearance is to you but they are otherwise friendly enough, just don't go painting them and showing off their appearance, they are shy.

Twin 400 CP - Your twin, they have access to all your powers but are otherwise loyal and aren't a jumper.

Drawbacks

More Time +100/200 CP - If ten years is not enough to go mad here, a hundred years will probably do so for 100 CP. You may also spend an eon here if you are already mad, this will give you 200 CP.

The Perfect Me +100 CP - You are your idealized self, at least that's what you believe in your own head. None can convince you otherwise and you act as an even more thorough example of what you can be but aren't. For example if you were interested in eldritch but are otherwise mundane, you would start sacrificing animals, and then people in sinister rituals to try and gain eldritch attention.

Greedy +100 CP - If greed has taught you anything, it is that treasure always comes first, even at the cost of your health.

Asshole +100 CP - You are a very abrasive individual, much less, become friends with. People don't want to talk to you that much after they realize it.

Weird Friend +100 CP - You have a friend who sticks to you, he is touched by the eldritch and various occurrences are sure to follow both of you, some harmless, while some not so harmless.

Power Lock +200 CP - You may not use out of setting powers here, hope you don't get yourself killed.

Item Lock +200 CP - Eldritch(or any item really) artifacts are forbidden to be brought by Yog Sothoth Bureaucracy Bureau.

No Memory +200 CP - Why are you here? Play a victim? Worship eldritch gods? Be a lesser one?

Noticed by the Eldritch +200 CP - Say your prayers, grab sacred candles as well as some weapons and hope for the best. You have become the protagonist of your own eldritch episode and gods only know what they have in store for you, it will not be nice, that's for certain.

Target of Cultists +200 CP - A group of cultists have noticed your arrival, they think you are an abomination and desecration of what should an eldritch being be. They will do their utmost to kill you and sacrifice you in Yog Sothoth's name. They have access to demon summoning and some eldritch powers in the 100-200 CP range.

A Demon Bargain +400 CP - You have struck a bargain with a demon, and then subsequently tried to break the deal once you got what you wished for. This did not amuse it and it seeks to devour you. It will strike when you least expect it and has all eldritch powers from the section above to give it an advantage, it has struck many bargains, for its own power too after all.

On the other side +400 CP - Unfortunately, you are dead, but not completely. You have arrived in the in between of the mortal world and the afterlife, lost in a hazy forest where danger lurks. Someone has to save you, they will need to find a way to enter this place first, gather the key and finally sacrifice themselves to switch their place with yours. However as said before, there are beings who are earnestly hoping to enter our world from the other realms, not necessarily the in between or the afterlife but they will notice them trying to save you and try to take your place, to descend upon the unwary world. You can resurrect them in the next world.

Light of the Day burning away the Darkness Within +400 CP (exclusive to Eldritch Being origin) - You are a being of eldritch, not necessarily evil however the light of sun will simply scatter your existence into tiny particles that fade as your death comes swiftly and painlessly.

Ending

Stay - While I do not recommend it, perhaps you came to like this wretched place?

Go Home - Too much insanity may have taken a toll on your mind, is it time for rest yet?

Continue - Many more mysteries await, you merely need to reach out.
