In/Spectre Jumpchain

By Whole-Series Edited by maybeayri V 1.2

Ah, modern day Japan. On the surface, this is a normal place with normal problems. Yet beneath the surface lurk inhabitants of a secret world. Hidden in plain sight, spirits known as yōkai inhabit where they may hide from mortal eyes. While most are benign, a certain subset threatens the tenuous peace between yōkai and humanity. Ever since she agreed to become their "God of Wisdom," Kotoko Iwanaga has served as a mediator between the two realms, resolving any supernatural problems that come her way.

At a local hospital, Kotoko approaches Kuro Sakuragawa, a university student whose long-term relationship ended with an unfortunate breakup. Kotoko suspects that something supernatural lurks within his harmless appearance, so she asks Kuro for his assistance in helping her solve yōkai-related problems.

Two years later, news of an idol who was accidentally crushed to death by steel beams flooded the press. Months later, sightings begin to tell of a faceless woman who wields a steel beam. As is the case for any supernatural problem, Kotoko and her partner set out to stop this spirit from wreaking havoc—but this case may prove to be far more sinister and personal than they could have ever thought.

You begin six months before the steel lady makes her first appearance in one of the following places:

Makurazaki City – You show up somewhere in this large city. In pretty much all respects, it's your typical Japanese urban center.

Police station – For one reason or another, you've found yourself beginning the jump in one of Makurazaki City's police stations.

Hospital – A large, well-staffed hospital that treats a variety of patients is perhaps not the typical jump starting point, but it's where you've found yourself.

Sukuna Swamp – A small pond at the top of a large hill just outside of the city, rumored to be the home of a serpent weather god.

Age and Gender

Age and gender are origin dependent.

Origins

Any of these can be taken as drop in.

Human? – As far as people are aware, you're a regular human, maybe a NEET or office worker or something. Gender is free. Age is somewhere between 18 to 40.

Goddess of Wisdom – You act as a mediator and problem solver for yokai and other supernatural entities. Age is 15 to 23, and gender is set to female.

Police Officer – You are an officer of the law or a detective, with no ties to the supernatural. Here's to hoping you're not the ex of someone who does. Age is 25 to 50 and your gender is your choice.

Yōkai – Almost all supernatural creatures in Japan are called yōkai, and they come in a variety of forms. You may choose from any seen in Japanese folklore to be here. For most yōkai, age is anywhere from 1 to 100 years. For those that are specifically the ghosts of the recently dead, your apparent age and gender can be anything reasonable and you have been dead for anywhere from 1-10 years.

Steel Lady Nanase/Nanase Karin (OCP, but not free)(Requires you to take the Chased drawback)

Nasase karin was an idol, a loved, if niche, one. She was a kind young woman, one who argueably didn't deserve the misfortunenes that befell her. This is not that woman. This is a twisted image of her, one that kills indiscriminately, using a large steel girder. If you manage to defeat kuro's cousin, and the original steel lady nanase, then the nanase who has chased you will become your companion. Keep in mind that without some way to control her actions, all you will have is a busty, girder welding, mindless killing machine. Though if you can control her, maybe you can change her as well. She comes with the 600CP Spectre Perk, and the 400CP Something Special perk, allowing her to teleport in a flash of shadows. Taking this makes her chase you for 9 years instead.

Drawbacks

Who's Kuro?(100)

You take the place of Kuro Sakuragawa, placing you smack dab in the middle of what's about to go down. This can be seen as a good thing, since it gives you the chance to take both Kotoko Iwanaga and Saki Yumihara as free companions, though this of course bars the purchase of Kuro Sakuragawa. Of course that is if you all survive, since you don't automatically gain any of his abilities. Taking this also gives you the chance to take kuro's cousin, though that may require you to either convince her that immortality isn't so bad, or to cure her of her 'condition'.

Early Start (100)

Instead of starting at the usual time, you start 2 weeks before kotoko meets kuro. Careful what you do, as you may butterfly away the only duo that can stop steel lady nanase, barring your direct intervention.

Amputee (100/200/400/600/800)

You lost one or more limbs or an eye. For 100 CP, it's one limb or eye. For 200 CP, you've lost a combination of either two limbs or a limb and an eye. For 400 CP, you lose two limbs and an eye. For 600 CP, you lose a combination of a leg, eye, and two other limbs of your choice. Finally for 800 CP, you lose both arms, legs, and eyes, leaving you blind and limbless.

You are a Goat (100)

People keep comparing you to a goat, even if their description doesn't match you at all.

Memory of a Chicken (100)

You forget stuff easily, even if it was told to you 2 minutes ago.

Flat (100)

You have a flat or nearly flat chest and you feel very insecure about it. You cannot increase your chest size by any means. If male, this applies to another part of your body. Yes, I'm talking about that.

Chased (400)

Steel Lady Nanase chases you down above all others, she cannot be killed or reasoned with. You will be chased for 5 years before she gives up or moves on.

Feast for Power (400/600)

You lose all supernatural powers, you must eat the flesh of various yōkai who have your powers to regain them. You will know what they look like and have a vague idea of where they are. For an extra 200 cp, you don't know what the yōkai are until you meet them face to face or where they are, but they are guaranteed to be in Japan.

As this chapter closes, do you:

- ... Go back to old haunts? You've had enough of this jumping business. Time to go home.
- ... Stake a claim here? This place isn't so bad. Maybe stay here awhile.
- ... Seek new haunts? The allure of new destinations, new challenges, and new friends beckons. Time to move on.

Notes

If you take Steel Lady Nanase as a companion, then having the same powers as kuro and his cousin, or a similar ability, gives you control over Steel Lady Nanase, allowing you to designate targets for her to attack. When she is not attacking someone she will remain motionless in your warehouse or home. This will also allow you to, over time, change Steel Lady Nanase's personality, allowing you to revert her to her original idol self, make her a loyal guard dog, or turn her into something else. This process takes time, taking several months for a personality change. With time, a few years at minimum, you can even change her looks and eventually her abilities. Unless you choose otherwise, she will be absolutely loyal to you, unable to harm or betray you in any way. This also gives you the guarantee that her legend will not change in any way that you do not want.
