

Naruto Blacked Jumpchain

It's BlackedAnon's world, Smuthunter just fluffed it

Version 1.1

Welcome to the Elemental Nations, traveller. You probably know these lands for their famous ninja, or at least for their gifted warriors who call themselves ninja. These ninja and the nations they serve come from many clans and cultures, but in this world one stands out from the rest. The men of Cloud are famous not for their jutsu or their skill in battle, though they have plenty of both, but for their rich black skin and big fat cocks, the envy of other men the world over. You're about to spend a decade in a world where black men are apex sexual predators and everyone else is just another link in the food chain. Whether you're here to be black, get blacked, or for some other reason take this +1000 CP to spend.

Origins

Cloud Nin

You're a ninja from Cloud and you have a big black dick. Although your nationality isn't actually important and you can also choose to be from somewhere else, like being a Konoha ninja with Cloud ancestry. The theme of this origin is brute force; you're only trying to seduce a bitch until you get her on your cock, at which point you're raping them until she acknowledges that she's your sex slave.

Leaf Nin

You're a ninja from Leaf and you are a sexy bitch. Theme of the origin is family. Most of the perks that grant you power also grant it to your family, and the rest should involve you backstabbing them for your black masters. As above you don't actually have to be from Konoha to take this origin.

Nice Guy

Where you're from isn't terribly relevant because you are neither a black man nor a white (well, Asian) woman. Theme of the origin is happily ever after. You get the girl and you keep her against all odds. Perks should help you ward off other men, build your relationships faster, and maybe offer support for teamwork with her.

Age & Gender

You may choose to begin the jump at any age over 14 years old. Cloud Nin may choose to be male, female, or futanari for no cost. Other origins may be male or female.

Location and Time

1. Cloud, Hyuuga Kidnapping
2. Konoha, Start of Canon
3. Konoha, Start of Shippuden
4. Cloud, End of Naruto Canon
5. Konoha, Start of Boruto

Discount Rules

Perks and items associated with an origin get a 50% discount off the listed price and the associated 100 CP options are free for that origin.

General Perks

Ninja Bullshit (Varies)

You aren't much of a ninja if you can't fight worth a damn. If nothing else you're probably going to want to have enough ninja magic up your sleeve to fight off other men trying to take your bitches from you. Every jumper and companion gets a basic level of ninja training, and if you're willing to invest more CP you can beef up your starting skills instead of needing to train them up. This perk also provides a single ninjutsu element (from the standard set of fire, water, wind, earth, and lightning) and one taijutsu style or weapon skill appropriate to your rank or multiple styles at lower ranks. For no extra cost you'll be about on par with a genin fresh out of ninja academy, having learned the three academy jutsu and maybe one or two extras of your own choice. For 100 CP you can be an experienced genin on par with the average competitor in the Chunin Exams. 200 and 400 CP will give you the skills of an experienced chunin or jonin respectively, and for 600 CP you can be a ninja skilled enough to become a kage.

Cloud Nin

Mountain of Muscle (100 CP)

Ninja come in all shapes and sizes but not many of them are as big and burly as you. You're on the upper end of size and strength for your kind, easily topping six or seven feet tall if you're human and clocking in at peak human strength and toughness even before chakra and taijutsu techniques get factored in. You're just as gifted below the belt as everywhere else, with a cock like a battering ram which puts lesser men to shame and makes women wet at the mere sight of it. You're not just a dumb brute either as you can wield your phenomenal strength with great finesse so as not to damage your bitches even when you're plowing them as hard as you can, chakra and all.

Friendly Neighborhood Rapist (100 CP)

Despite being ninja a lot of the locals don't seem to understand how stealth works, from that one loud kid in the orange jacket to those two weirdos in bright green spandex. You'd think a massive black guy would have his own problems with stealth, but you're highly skilled at disguising exactly how dangerous you are. Not only can you be perfectly silent when the need arises, just like any good ninja, you can also hide your presence and power to make yourself seem like a harmless bystander instead of a deadly assassin or an apex sexual predator. Unless you're incredibly careless other men will simply fail to notice the threats you pose to their relationships until it's far too late, whether they're failing to suspect that their wives may have ulterior motives for hiring the same strapping young genin over to "clean the house" again and again, or sleeping through the festivities as you impregnate their daughters on the other side of a paper-thin wall.

Base Instincts (200 CP)

Her heart may belong to him, but her body has another master. That's what people say about the women you lure into your bed once they've had a taste of your cock and all the amazing things it can do to them. You've mastered the art of sexual conquest, turning your partners into your fucktoys by drowning them in the indescribable pleasure of being dominated by a superior lover. Your partner's consent is unnecessary but don't be surprised if you wind up getting it anyways, as you can fuck the will to resist right out of your victims after their first few orgasms. They might regret submitting once the afterglow fades but each time you conquer them it gets that much easier to do so again until eventually they become completely yours.

He Doesn't Need To Know (200 CP)

It's quite a chore to keep secrets in a town full of ninja, like the affair you're having with the hokage's wife or the noble heiress you're keeping in your hidden sex dungeon. Or at least that's the way it is for others in your position; you have a far easier time keeping secrets because people who discover something you would rather keep private tend to keep it to themselves rather than spread the word. Women won't admit they cheated on their husbands with you until it's far too late, men are too horrified to acknowledge that it happened, and even pro ninja will simply continue investigating if they do discover your secrets, creating many chances to silence them before you face any potential consequences for your actions.

Breeding Program (400 CP)

It's only natural that superior men like you have superior genes and it would be a shame not to pass them along to the next generation. You're obscenely fertile, able to sow your seed even in barren fields and still turn women into mothers. Unless you restrain yourself, which you can do at will, you're guaranteed to get a woman pregnant every time you nut inside her regardless of any protection she may be using. Any kids resulting from these pregnancies inherit every quality worth having in the mother and in yourself and turn out exactly how you want, like if you would prefer to have black sons and white daughters or vice versa. The lucky mothers are also guaranteed to grow into MILFs both during and after their pregnancies, never losing the good looks that made them worthy of bearing your children in the first place.

Big Black Brainwashing (400 CP)

Why would women need any other man when they could just be owned by someone like you? There's no point to point being in love with a limp-dicked little boy who can't fuck his woman's brains out like you can. You're able to drill this truth into the woman you conquer, dominating their hearts and bodies and claiming them as your possessions. The more pleasure a woman experiences at your hands the less they can feel from any other partners and the more they'll grow to love you and your cock. Simultaneously any feelings they have for their former lovers will wither and fade, eventually dying out entirely. On the other hand, once you've conquered a woman's body and made her your bitch, nothing short of full on mind control can free her from her addiction to you and your cock.

Help A Brother Out (600 CP)

Word travels fast when a good thing shows up, and as God's gift to women what else would you be but a big black blessing on the female gender? Your success with women has a viral quality which can spread through a community, starting with any woman you make your bitch and radiating out to infect others with a fetish, a need to be blacked just like her. In short, the more you black the easier it is to black again and again. A mother might encourage her daughters to fuck you or spread rumours at the workplace, arousing curiosity and fascination in her coworkers that won't go away until it's been sated by getting a taste of you for themselves. Your influence spreads through coincidence as well as active effort on the woman's part and doesn't strictly require her cooperation, although obviously it will work much better if she does. This attention is aimed at you first and the rest of your race second.

Black is Better (600 CP)

The black man is a superior man and if other men were smart they'd be worried to even be in the same room as you, not that it would do them any good. To a lesser man you are the immovable object, and any attempt to one-up you or otherwise assert superiority either fails, backfires spectacularly, or provides you with a perfect chance to steal their women from them. Attacking you without a major strength advantage only ends in broken fists and shattered blades while anyone trying to humiliate you becomes vulnerable to getting a taste of their own medicine. In other words, a direct competition between yourself and a man of another race is almost certain to end in a very humiliating loss for your enemies unless they have you at a serious disadvantage. Of course any women who observe these "competitions" can't help but notice how superior you are to your enemies and take an interest of their own in you.

Once You Go Black (800 CP)

If you think one black man is intimidating I've got some bad news for you: there's a lot more than just one of them. As a jumper you're a unique being, but many of your qualities are shared with other members of your race. Any perks you purchase from the Cloud Nin perk tree also apply their effects to any men of the same race as you. Your kind being superior to all others is less a fetish and more a genuine law of biology and evolution, from being bigger and stronger and more well-endowed to being vastly superior lovers and other men being just plain worse in all respects. This applies to women as well, giving girls of every other race a near-insatiable lust for cock, especially your cock, that only the strongest wills can resist. Naturally you are the biggest and best of everyone in your entire race, and other men and women of your race will instinctively defer to you, recognizing you as a superior being on sight.

Leaf Nin

Real Hyuuga Bloodline (100 CP)

Konoha's noble ninja families are the products of generations of selective breeding and intensive training to produce the best possible heirs to the family legacy. One happy coincidence of all this hard work is how every noble scion gets a smoking hot bod, an easy ten out of ten even when stacked up against the likes of Tsunade or Kaguya. That's right, you're so damn sexy that a literal goddess is only breaking even with you. You make heads turn everywhere you go and it's nigh-impossible for anyone of your favored gender to not want you, especially any dense-as-hell love interests you might have your eye on. This incredible figure is also trivially easy to manage, needing little to no effort to keep it in peak condition.

Dear Naruto Letter (100 CP)

...but being so beautiful inevitably earns you the attention of people you'd rather not have around. Maybe you have a persistent ex who can't take a hint that you don't want to see them again or maybe you found someone much better and want to let them down easy. Either way you're able to dissuade any unwanted suitors from pursuing you or break off any existing relationships simply by writing your ex a letter detailing your feelings on the matter. Anything you put into these letters will be interpreted exactly as you intended it, and you can be as kind or as cruel as you like depending on the impact you'd like your words to have, letting you part ways on good terms or drive the knife in as hard as possible.

Legendary Sucker (200 CP)

Every good ninja needs to be skilled at subterfuge but most have particular specialties within the broader skill set. Take you for instance: you're quite talented at lying and misdirection, whether you're bluffing your way through a bad hand of cards, slipping through a security checkpoint in disguise, or merely convincing your husband that you aren't cheating on him. This includes acting as well as telling lies, so you can keep up appearances even if you're getting eaten out under the table and resist cracking under pressure. Your silver tongue is skilled at lots of other oral exercises too, like that party trick where you tie a cherry stem in a knot, and who knows how amazing your blowjobs are.

Anatomy Expert (200 CP)

Konoha is home to one of the best medic-nins in the Elemental Nations, or at least it was before she went on walkabout and never came back. You may not be Tsunade's equal but you've picked up a few tricks of your own, maybe even one or two she could learn from you in the realm of sexual fitness. You're quite an accomplished medic-nin, skilled at patching up moderate injuries such as broken bones while stabilizing more serious ones to keep wounded allies alive until you're able to get them to a hospital. Your training in this field has even taught you how to better develop your own body; if you push yourself to your limits you can use sex as a substitute for intense physical training, gaining strength and keeping your weight down with no extra time and effort needed.

Best Waifu (400 CP)

There's much more to being a ninja princess than being nice to look at, it also helps to have a personality every bit as pleasant as your figure. From your smile and your way with words to your shy mannerisms or whatever other quirks you have, you're incredibly pleasant to be around and you're able to easily win over friends and admirers just by being yourself. People naturally want to be around you and make you happy, and seeing you smile might even warm a villain's heart and make them think twice about doing you harm, if only for a moment. Naturally, spending more time around people will make this influence much stronger; acquaintances become lovers or lifelong friends, and enemies become more attached to you until even a Cloud Nin intent on making you his bitch could be made to simp for you and want to keep you as his wife.

Little Secrets (400 CP)

Like any other sort of nobility, ninja clan heirs spend as much time on social calls as on their formal duties whether for negotiations and diplomacy or for simple gossip and chitchat. There's a subtle art to this kind of social affair, a form of manipulation and social engineering, and a master of it like yourself can direct a conversation with such incredible precision that you can provoke exactly the reaction you want at exactly the moment you want it from any of your conversation partners. Simply mentioning your new paramour at the right time could pique the interest of your friends and inspire a thirst for big black cocks, while showing off just enough skin to let someone see a new tattoo can guarantee that they'll ask you about it. You're no less adept on social defense as on offence, deftly steering a conversation away from sensitive topics that you don't want to discuss, like whether you're cheating on your husband or not.

Clanswoman (600 CP)

Most people might think that beauty, grace, and strength in battle are the most vital qualities to the heir of a ninja clan, but even more essential than that is the family legacy, the inheritance you've gained from the generations before you and the one you'll pass on to all your children. To put it crudely, you are excellent breeding stock, blessed with strong genes which contain all your strengths and none of your weaknesses. Just to start you have inherited a major bloodline such as the Hyuuga clan's Byakugan, though how much practice you have with it to start depends on your level of Ninja Bullshit. In addition to the bloodline, any physical strengths you've gained from your training or from your perks can be passed on to your children, as can the strengths of the other parent. Great beauty, physical prowess, and many other qualities can be inherited from both parents, though not more ephemeral features such as luck or willpower.

Faithful Wife (600 CP)

What better hope is there for a ninja princess than to have an idyllic marriage to the one she loves most? A sacred union has power of its own even in a world full of demons, spirits, and ninja magic. Regardless of how faithful you've been to your partner, once you choose to marry another person it becomes almost impossible for the two of you to be unhappy together or be torn apart by external influences. If you were to go through with a forced political marriage to a man you disliked you would find your partner changing himself and becoming more to your liking over time, seemingly by coincidence, while an adversary who seeks to kidnap and use you for his own purposes will find his plans thwarted and derailed at every step, as if destiny itself stood against him. Should you wish to pull the plug on the relationship however you're free to do so at any time without consequences beyond losing this perk's benefits until you marry again.

Eyes of the Moon (800 CP)

Are you certain you're from this world at all? Power like yours has only ever been seen in rare bloodlines like those of the Ōtsutsuki clan, heirs of the Tenseigan and other powers nearly unknown to the elemental nations. Some of this alien blood courses through your veins, granting you a major non-dōjutsu bloodline of your choice. Should you take this perk and Clanswoman you may instead combine them and gain the Tenseigan as well as the Byakugan. But this is not your only power: just as the moon orbits the earth, you can gain great strength from someone you love. If he wants you to stand beside him in battle, you'll find it easy to train and grow in power to match him - or, if your relationship is based on sex, end up as the best whore the elemental nations have ever seen. This effect grows even stronger with a stronger and deeper relationship to tie you to your beloved.

Nice Guy

Nice Guys Finish Last (100 CP)

Look, you might not be as well-hung as those guys from Cloud but you know what they say about size not mattering! Even if all you have is a microdick it hardly matters because you've made up for it by mastering the art of foreplay. Your sexual skills are best in class, and you could easily turn your lover into a quivering pile of orgasms with every other tool at your disposal. Unless your girl has some serious thirst for a big fat cock specifically there's basically no chance at all that she'll ever leave your bed unsatisfied.

Sunshine Smile (100 CP)

There's no use in dwelling on the bad stuff in life, you've just got to keep pushing forward and keep doing what needs to be done. You've got a sunny optimism which helps you stay on the bright side even if your life is being pretty shit at the moment. It's easy to share that optimism with other people too, which should help you make new friends pretty easily too. It's tough for people to dislike someone who's as upbeat as you are after all.

Fool Me Once (200 CP)

...of course sometimes those new friends turn out to be a little sketchier than you first thought they were. Nothing wrong with that, everyone gets the wrong first impression every now and then, but at least you'll get some warning now before they can take advantage of your innocence. You've got sharp instincts for threats against yourself and people around you, especially anyone who's especially close to you. If some Cloud Nin is about to make a move on your love interest you'll get a sense of impending dread along with an instinctive feeling that you should check on the person in question. Ignore this sixth sense at your own peril; you'll get a warning with time enough to act on it, but actually thwarting your foes is still up to you.

Gangbang no Jutsu (200 CP)

Sure the Cloud Nin are the best lovers around but quantity has a quality all its own. You've mastered the Shadow Clone technique and can make dozens of clones of yourself with just a simple hand sign and an exertion of chakra. Each of your clones operates independently of you but is still fundamentally you and shares the same goals and personality you have, minus the occasional oddball. Unlike the normal jutsu, which is dangerous to use without vast chakra reserves, this version is extremely efficient with its energy usage: even an academy student could crank out a few clones at a time without wiping himself out, and a kage could make hundreds of clones without issue. Just make sure that this technique doesn't fall into the hands of the Cloud Nin: if one black cock is dangerous enough, imagine what dozens of them could do!

Believe It! (400 CP)

What sort of man would you be if you couldn't even sense when your loved ones are in trouble? You have a well-developed sense of empathy and can easily tune in to the moods of your friends and loved ones to figure out what their needs or desires are, both sexually and otherwise, without them even needing to say anything about it. This exceptional attentiveness makes you almost literally too nice to cheat on, and your partners gain a substantial willpower boost against any attempts to make them betray you. Even if one of them does succumb to temptation, simply by being your usual attentive self you can win back their loyalty and patch things up.

Sweet Romance (400 CP)

These Cloud Nin brutes talk a big game but they don't know the first thing about romance or the power of love, something you and yours are intimately familiar with. When you have an intimate loving relationship with another person everything you do together is magnified by the strength of your love. When you're on the battlefield you can weave your attacks together as if you were a single person, while in the bedroom you both benefit from each others' skill and stamina. Even if one of you is completely inexperienced, by working together the more accomplished lover can cover the shortcomings of his or her partner and share whatever skills they might have. Even a virgin princess can learn how to fight like a kage and suck cock like a champion in no time at all as long as her lover has the knowledge and the patience to teach her.

Jutsu Genius (600 CP)

Konoha has produced some of the greatest ninja the elemental nations have ever seen, from the Sannin to Minato Namikaze and more. You may not have your face on a mountain just yet but you've got the raw potential to stand among those legendary greats even if you're just an academy student for now. You're a natural genius when it comes to mastering, creating, and using jutsu; whether you're learning older tricks like the Shadow Clone jutsu or inventing brand new custom techniques of your own, you do so in a mere fraction of the time it would take another ninja. Perhaps because of your mischievous nature, every jutsu, spell, and technique that you master can also be reapplied towards a lewd usage, and the more powerful or complex the jutsu the more effective it becomes when used as a sex toy. A Rasengan repurposed into a clit vibe or a Chidori used for electrostimulation will be truly devastating techniques in your arsenal.

Unleash the Beast (600 CP)

You might not be a match for a black guy, but the demon inside you? That's a whole 'nother story. You're one of the jinchuriki, the human containers of the tailed beasts, and your demonic prisoner gives you the sort of power and potential only a handful in ninja history have ever had... provided that you're willing to bear the risks of using it. Most ninja will be interested in the nearly-bottomless chakra reserves they gain from having such a beast within them, but when the situation calls for it you can loosen the seal keeping your prisoner contained and let them manifest through your body. In this state you gain a massive chakra cock (or cocks, such as the eight tails's tentacles), functionally limitless stamina, and the immense sexual skills you would expect from a centuries-old demon. The only problem is that this state can be addictive to your lovers if they experience it too frequently or for too long; if you're not careful you may find that you've accidentally ruined your partners for sex with your normal self and effectively cucked yourself.

Sage's Chakra (800 CP)

If it seems like you're living something of a charmed life, well, there's a good reason for that. In a past life you were someone really important, like a legendary sage who helped found the elemental nations, and thanks to that previous life you've accumulated stupidly huge amounts of good karma. Fortune will almost always smile on you, whether you're having random encounters with powerful teachers who are eager to share their knowledge with you or almost always winning in games of chance. In addition, the more you grow in power over the course of the jump the better your romantic prospects become. Going from street rat to hokage would come with the revelation that your soulmate is a literal princess for example. They'd have to rewrite the universe to make her willing to cheat on you.

Items

Cloud Nin

XL Condoms (100 CP)

The only size that fits you, these extra-large rubbers are almost as intimidating out of sheer implication as your actual cock is. Made with exceptionally high-quality materials, you'll barely notice you're wearing one at all until you bust a nut inside some pretty thing. Most of the time they work perfectly and guarantee that nobody gets pregnant from fucking you. For that reason, having them on hand makes women much more comfortable about fucking you, or at least the potential consequences of doing so. Just the one time won't hurt anything, right? Little do they know that these condoms can also fail on command. Your command.

Pocketful of Leverage (100 CP)

As a ninja you get up to all sorts of wicked escapades, some of which don't even involve fucking another man's wife! It sure would be a shame to have no proof that the deed was ever done though, which is why you have this folder full of photographic and video evidence, taken of every woman you've ever slept with. You needn't have a camera on hand to capture the best shots, you'll simply find them in your possession afterwards, as if you'd set up recording equipment to get all the best angles. Naturally this evidence never leaves your person so it can't be discovered on accident, but it makes fantastic blackmail material should you ever have need of such a thing, and if you decide to send it to a relation of the women you fucked it's sure to have a devastating effect on them.

Secret Hot Springs (200 CP)

A man's gotta make a living somehow, so you might as well enjoy yourself while you're at it. This humble abode is modest business such as a hot springs inn, massage parlor, whorehouse, or another location of your choice. This business is small enough that you can run it yourself and it turns a tidy profit, but more importantly it passively attracts whatever kind of woman you have your eye on, like barely-legal kunoichi or stacked MILFs, though this becomes much less effective if your "type" is something extremely specific, like "the Hokage's wife". Your work here will also guarantee that you have plenty of opportunities to get up close and personal with your customers.

Instruments of Obscenity (200 CP)

Cloud has a rich history of art and culture and it deserves to be shown to the world with pride. What better way to do that than to turn the bodies of your sexual conquests into a canvas for your work? This item is a collection of depraved implements ranging from piercings and tattoo designs to slutty and revealing outfits that would even make a whore blush to wear them. All of them are cosmetic items intended for decorating the bodies of any sluts who fall under your sway. In addition to marking your conquests these accessories effectively advertise whatever fetish they represent, slowly generating interest in onlookers and spreading the popularity of those fetishes.

Fine Print (400 CP)

Whether in the business world or in politics, one rule should never be forgotten: always read the fine print. Fortunately for you, this rule is often ignored or forgotten, allowing you to take advantage of naive leaders who put too much trust in you. This item is an addendum or clause which you can add to any treaties and other agreements that you are a part of, such as diplomatic documents or legal dealings. This addition will usually involve you being able to fuck someone's wife and get a child out of it or a similar clause along the same lines. Whatever the case, as long as you can slip this clause into a contract and trick the other party into signing off on it, it will be treated as legally binding by all involved parties; no matter how outraged the husband might be when he realizes he has to sit and watch you impregnate his wife, he'll have no choice but to abide by the contract he signed.

Deniable Assets (400 CP)

What's even more dangerous a black man? How about a whole gang of them? This squad of ninja are all under your command and answer to you alone, but nobody else will ever know as they have no markings that may point back to you, and they'll never crack under any kind of torture. These ninja have the training of an elite squad of ANBU with a special focus on kidnapping and making people disappear, probably into your bedchambers or sex dungeon if you have one. In addition to being deniable assets they're very easy to replace, and should they ever suffer casualties new ninja will appear to fill out the ranks, seemingly out of nowhere. Naturally for a squad of ANBU, if you take off their masks they're all faceless black men.

Sex Dungeon (600 CP)

Like any good ninja village you've got a space set aside for torture and interrogation, though you have far different methods than a typical ANBU T&I division. This subterranean lair is a well-hidden prison capable of holding any ninja or kunoichi less powerful than yourself almost indefinitely. Once they've been caught and brought here there's not much hope of escape without outside help, and the lair is sufficiently hidden to make that very difficult for most rescue parties. While they're in your care they're effectively powerless to resist anything you might want to do to them, with an array of seals preventing them from using any of their chakra or magic-based abilities. Naturally this dungeon is also furnished with substantial quantities of BDSM gear and any other mundane equipment you might need to keep your prisoners occupied.

Ghetto Leaf Plan (600 CP)

Akatsuki can keep their perfect world plan to themselves, you've got something of your own in the works. Much like the demon statue used to hold the spirits of the tailed beast and create the Ten Tails this artifact has an immense otherworldly power capable of reshaping the world, albeit only a bit at a time rather than all at once like the Infinite Tsukuyomi. That power is to spread the dominance and superiority of the black cock over all others. So long as your chakra is linked to this statue you're able to steal strength from men you cuck and women you fuck, permanently diminishing their strength and donating it to this artifact. Any power the artifact receives is then redistributed to whichever race you are part of. If you were able to cuck an especially powerful man like a hokage the results would be immediately noticeable. The effects of this item stack with those of Once You Go Black. Other men or women around the world participating in this fetish passively contribute small amounts of power as well, though not as much as your own.

Leaf Nin

Fishnet and Hoodie (100 CP)

A distinctive outfit and combat gear is the most basic part of every ninja's equipment loadout. For you that outfit is a mix of several different outfits ranging from a fishnet-like combat mesh to a large hoodie like the one young Hinata wears. Both are surprisingly decent armor for ninja stuff; they won't protect you from a high-level jutsu but they work great against injuries from blades, shuriken, ninja wire, and other common ninja tools despite their skimpy (or not) appearances. Of special note, the fishnet mesh outfit is hilariously revealing despite still being functional armor, and the hoodie is hilariously concealing, allowing you to stuff some absolutely enormous tits and ass into it and pass yourself off as a plain Jane until you're ready for the clothes to come off.

Ninja Goods (100 CP)

The other half of a ninja's basic kit, these ninja goods include common tools like shuriken, kunai, rope and ninja wire, explosive tags, and so on. But someone appears to have played a prank on you and switched out all the standard gear for something a seduction specialist would use. All of the shuriken and kunai are coated in aphrodisiac poisons, the wire and ropes always seem to bind their targets into shibari positions, the explosive tags unleash clouds of sleeping gas, and so on. Conveniently you've also been inoculated against all of the poisons and drugs in this collection, so don't worry too much about your weapons being turned against you.

Diplomatic Papers (200 CP)

Ninja don't get too many vacations until they're well into their careers, so it's a good thing that you've got this folder of diplomatic papers giving you an excuse to skip out on your ninja duties. Allegedly this folder contains an assignment to a diplomatic posting, but it just so happens to be at a tropical beach resort or some other highly-desirable vacation spot of your choice; say maybe Kumogakure, or the Land of Steam and its many hot springs resorts? Naturally this posting comes with an unspecified duration, all expenses paid while you're "on the job", and it updates itself to give you a new posting at a new location with every jump you visit.

Kunochi's Best Friend (200 CP)

When your boyfriend is out on assignment and your bull is nowhere to be found, you can always rely on a big fat dildo to help fill the gap, so to speak. This item is a set of exceptionally large and very high-quality sex toys which will either help addict you to black cock even further than you already are or help you try to get over it by weaning you off the real thing. They also either double as weapons, like a club or a tonfa, or they actually have weapons hidden inside of them, like a hidden blade or a stash of ninja wire and so on. The specifics are left up to your imagination.

Hizashi's Plan (400 CP)

Boy, NaruHina sure turned out some pretty powerful heirs for the Hyuuga clan, didn't it? You think maybe somebody planned that all out...? Naaah. But you sure could do something like that if you wanted, thanks to this expansive billboard covered with an intricate web of all the bloodlines and inheritable powers which are known to you along with who has them and intricate details about the possessors in question. Thanks to this chart, which automatically organizes and updates itself with new information whenever you obtain it, it would be trivially easy to plot out which potential pairings would produce the strongest heirs. Although the chart doesn't account for blacking by default, it could be updated to include it if you somehow became aware of the power of an impressive specimen of that race.

Lover's Scarf (400 CP)

It's not really a custom in the elemental nations for a lady to give her fair knight an article of cloth showing her favor before he heads off to battle but the idea behind this custom-made raiment is much the same. It might be a scarf or a ribbon or some other article of clothing, but whatever it is it's home-made by you for your beloved, and there's a strange power in it. So long as your loved one is wearing this cloth or at least keeps it on their person you can always sense their general location and overall wellbeing relative to your own. Even if one of you were whisked as far away as the moon, so long as your beau keeps this item with them you're never truly parted from each other.

Kunoichi Classes (600 CP)

Even in Konoha being a ninja is a male-dominated industry and kunoichi need a little extra instruction that they won't get from the standard classes. For that reason you have a license to teach kunoichi classes to the female students of the ninja academy or any other batch of talented students you might round up in a future jump. Not only do any female students gathered under the banner of these classes learn several times faster than they would in other classes, especially if you're a talented teacher, but they eagerly soak up anything you might teach them even if it's depraved or questionable in nature. You could use this class to spread a love for big black cock to an entire generation of young and impressionable girls... or just give them a proper education and raise them up into first-rate ninja.

Clan Compound (600 CP)

Ah, the very height of ninja nobility: your very own clan compound awaits. This private neighborhood is a mark of great importance among ninja clans of any village, with room enough for a main family and a few branch families totalling maybe a few dozen ninja to live comfortably and securely with more than enough room for training and private affairs. You not only have the compound but also the clan to go with it, either a wing of the main Hyuuga family or some lesser clan like the Yamanaka, with a few dozen ninja in your extended family nominally allied to your cause by familial solidarity, all of whom count as followers and will join you on your chain. Last and perhaps most important, you're just as stupidly-rich as an ordinary noble in your position would be. Since you're the head of your clan any fetishes you have are not only accepted but encouraged by your clan members, who will eagerly help you spread the clan's "culture" far and wide.

Nice Guy

Icha Icha Collection (100 CP)

The finest stash of porn in all the land, Icha Icha is the best professionally-produced smut in the elemental nations and right here you've got signed copies of every single volume. Not only is this stuff great fapping material, it's actually surprisingly good at teaching you how to flirt, almost like the writer had some actual experience hooking up with girls or something. While the early volumes start off vanilla, later issues start delving into more advanced material, from BDSM to blacking and more.

Small Apartment (100 CP)

It may not be a mansion like the Hyuuga have but this small apartment is cozy enough for a single person and still large enough to fit a family of four with ease. It's in a relatively quiet part of town and people tend to give you your privacy for whatever you might get up to. The bills are always paid, the kitchen is always kept stocked with fresh food of your preference, and there's a big stash of Ichiraku's delicious cup ramen in one of the kitchen cupboards if you're into that sort of thing.

Training Ground 34 (200 CP)

One of the many training grounds used by Konoha's genin teams, this location is a wooded clearing next to a lake or small pond. There's nothing particularly special about the terrain besides being secluded and surprisingly private for such a wide open space, but that privacy makes it the perfect spot for training your ninja techniques, throwing a picnic with some friends, or having wild monkey sex. Moreover if you want to be found by someone who could conceivably be in the area, simply doing your business here with them in mind will draw them here by sheer coincidence, letting you have spontaneous clandestine meetings.

The Perfect Date (200 CP)

You got your crush to agree to a first date, but now where do you take her? Well don't worry yourself over that too much, because this item has you covered. Starting with reservations at a restaurant which both of you are sure to enjoy, it also comes with a suitable outfit, flowers and chocolate, and perhaps a nice bottle of high-quality wine for the both of you to enjoy. In short, everything you need to have a lovely evening out with a lover, and these default items will change themselves to match the needs of the occasion. If you've got something more casual in mind you won't need a tux and a five-star restaurant for example.

Forbidden Scroll (400 CP)

A secret scroll you may or may not have stolen from the Hokage's tower, this forbidden scroll contains the secrets of hundreds of years of pervert ninja including stuff that even Jiraiya would want to take notes on. From modern classics like the Sexy Jutsu to summoning contracts for tentacle monsters, just about every possible permutation of lewd jutsu can be found within this voluminous scroll, and while there's nothing in here that a Jutsu Genius couldn't invent on his own with time, taking both this and that perk gives you a massive head start and can make the resulting jutsu even more devastatingly effective in battle or in bed.

Mystic Training Ground (400 CP)

You've come across what could be a new sage region rivaling the Toad-Land of Mount Myōboku and the Ryuichi Cave, and like the both of those areas this place is well-hidden from the rest of the world and can only be found by the hardest of ninja, and has an odd affinity for a particular animal of your choice, being mostly inhabited by abnormally large versions of them. The natural energy circulating through this area is massive, giving you and your partners the energy to perform whatever kind of training you like for days on end and the wisdom to learn many new techniques. You may even find yourself starting to resemble said animal or gaining new abilities based off them if you spend enough time training (or "training") here. If you ever need to relax, train, or hide from any unsavory types, this place is only a hand sign away.

Wedding Rings (600 CP)

These beautiful little relics are much more than they first appear. At first glance you might be tempted to assume that these two wedding rings are merely a pair of especially well-made pieces of jewelry but they are actually ancient relics of the Ninshu religion, hand-made by Hagoromo himself and designed to allow a husband and wife to join together on a spiritual level and share in each others' power. So long as you and a loved one wear these rings your spiritual energies are permanently linked, allowing for things such as wordless communication over any distance, sharing energy and merging techniques into combination attacks, and helping each other to train your spiritual powers and rise up to the same level if one of you is much stronger than the other. You can even transmit thoughts and memories, or enter each others' minds to fight off hostile influences, like genjutsu or an inner demon raging out of control.

Hidden Village (600 CP)

Home sweet home! Your very own ninja village awaits you, either Konoha itself or another equal to it in size and military power. Unlike the clan compound you do not start out in charge of this settlement, but it affords you an incredible wealth of opportunities to gain power and influence by working your way up the ranks. Your village is filled with experienced teachers, shops and blacksmiths selling or making equipment of the highest quality, troves of knowledge, and skilled allies who will aid you in battle if you befriend them. Whether alone or in groups you can perform missions to advance the goals of the village, and by working your way up the ranks you'll put yourself in positions to gain power and influence, meet famous ninja who will teach you their techniques, and become a famous ninja in your own right as your successes bring you fame and glory. Less obvious to the casual observer is a fetish of your choice which is extremely common and deeply-rooted in the village's culture, like recruiting and brainwashing captured enemy ninja as slaves or a powerful thirst for big black cocks which encourages black men to take positions of power.

Companions

Any children that you have with your companions are packaged together with them, turning them into group companions for no extra cost. Children do not receive bonus CP or origins.

Companion Import / Export (Varies)

If you want to import companions into this jump you can do so at a cost of 100 CP for 1 or 2 companions, 200 CP for 4 companions, and 300 CP for a full party of 8 companions. Each companion gains an origin and 600 CP to spend on perks and items. They cannot take any drawbacks which give additional CP nor can they take companions of their own. Alternatively, you may take new companions at a cost of 100 CP each instead. New companions gain an origin and 600 CP with the same restrictions as those on imports and you can purchase a maximum of 8 of them.

Hinata (Free)

Ah, the princess of the Hyuuga clan herself. Prime waifu bait and MILF material for anyone from a Cloud nin to her fellow Leaf nin and maybe even her own family members. Since so much of this jump revolves around Hinata (and other kunoichi) you can have her as a free companion, provided of course you're able to convince her to join you by whatever means, but how hard could that possibly be? Hinata comes with the Leaf Nin origin and 600 CP to spend on perks and items. Naturally she comes with the Byakugan for no extra charge, giving her the effects of the Clanswoman perk for free.

Snow White (100 CP)

With the sheer dominance that the black ninja of Kumogakure can put out when they set their mind to it, it should come as no surprise that most women would never stand a chance. What is somewhat surprising is that they may occasionally set their sights on a man. This exceptionally dainty and beautiful kunoichi of Kirigakure is in fact a ninja of Kiri and not a kunoichi, despite all evidence to the contrary. He's still quite blacked though, on account of being far too pretty for his own good. Decently skilled and quite fast but not unusually strong, he's a jonin-level fighter with an ice element bloodline. Now if only you could get him to fight instead of swinging his exceptionally fine ass at you in an attempt to make you ravage him yet again.

Kagura Kunoichi (300 CP)

Genin normally form teams of three but this group of girls just couldn't be split up quite so easily. A group of five leaf nin genin, these girls have the potential to be the Sannin of the next generation if they can just find a teacher skilled enough to bring out their true potential. As ninja their natural talents run the gamut from martial arts and swordplay to genjutsu and summoning, but they're all very pliable and open to being moulded by an experienced hand, especially in the arts of sex and seduction, where they all have strong interests but no practical experience... yet. These five girls are a group companion and can be imported into a single companion slot in future jumps, splitting perks and items up between themselves.

Drawbacks

A Perfect World (+0 CP)

Naruto wound up being a pretty loopy series by the time it was done, and if you'd rather patch some of the details feel free to do so. You can use this option as a fanfic toggle to have dead MILFS be alive again or genderswap characters like Naruto or Sasuke and so on.

Bleached (+0 CP)

Like it or not black just isn't everyone's favorite color. If you'd rather have this jump focus on some other race you can swap the races assigned to each origin. Cloud Nin might be white men instead of black men for example, or some other race of your choice. You're free to fanwank how this alters ninja from alternate villages.

Academy Drop Out (+100 CP)

Most of this jump assumes you're some kind of ninja, even one as low on the totem pole as an academy student, but if you take this drawback you're even worse off than that. You're effectively a civilian with no real combat training or experience and no ability to use chakra at all. Your other powers and perks will be unaffected but good luck getting any lewd jutsu or ninja magic to work.

Rising Tensions (+100 CP)

The elemental nations have a tenuous peace at the best of times but now something's happened to break even what little peace there was to start with. All cooperation between the villages has broken down and war has broken out between all of the elemental nations. Consequentially anyone from any hidden village aside from your own is much more likely to try to kill you than fuck you.

Gritty Realism (+100/200/300 CP)

By default this jump assumes a certain level of porn logic is in play regarding pregnancies and STDs and so on, namely that they just don't exist. But that's not longer the case now: by taking this drawback you've gained one or more levels of inconvenient realism. For +100 CP you have to deal with all the usual effects of having oversized equipment (even if you aren't actually that impressive, mister Nice Guy), like having a cock so big that it won't fit in your pants or massive breasts giving you major back pain and so on. For an additional +100 CP you also need to worry about medical issues like STDs and/or unwanted pregnancies, and for an extra +100 CP sex itself can actually be dangerous; if you're not careful you might accidentally choke your partner to death on your oversized cock or something of the like.

Be the Bigger Man (+200 CP)

Something about you seems to attract all kinds of trouble from other men. If you're a woman expect to be hit on and aggressively pursued by men who won't take no for an answer, and if you're a man prepare for other men to constantly try to steal any waifus you have. Being a Cloud Nin won't dissuade anyone in the slightest and being a hokage-level ninja or something of the like will just draw more powerful enemies that you have no choice but to take seriously.

Got a Quota To Fill (+200 CP)

Being a ninja is supposed to be a job but your work life is much more of a pain than you would have ever expected it to be. Whether you're an academy student or a hokage your work or school life keeps you so busy that you barely ever have time for anything else, whether it's chasing hot bitches or spending some quality time with your wife or companions or what have you. So much time away from your relationships isn't good for them even when you don't have to worry about some dude cucking you behind your back.

Worthy Opponents (+300 CP)

You didn't really think this blacking thing was going to be a walk in the park, did you? No sir, not for you~! Whichever side you've chosen in the cuck vs bull conflict you're about to face some truly dangerous foes. If you're a Cloud Nin aiming to fuck some bitches you'll find that they're deeply satisfied with their current relationships and have attentive lovers who are both willing and able to put you in the ground to keep their significant others out of your hands. If you're a Leaf Nin or a Nice Guy on the other hand then your Cloud Nin opponents are crafty and devious, using every method at their disposal to break you down and make you their bitch and exploiting even the smallest weaknesses that you leave open.

Small Dicked Man (+300 CP)

You just plain suck. Not only are you not a big dick ninja, you're a genuine micropeen even if you took the Cloud Nin origin. This translates into a general inferiority in almost everything you do; when you're in bed you're a quick shot and a bad lay, in battle you have a glass jaw and garbage chakra reserves, and so on. If you're female instead of male you have the same issues on top of being so unattractive that black men (or really any man) probably won't bother with you at all except as a pity fuck. This will also be driven into your face at every possible opportunity.

Pale White Goddess (+300 CP)

Normally you'd start either long before the end of Naruto's story or at the start of Boruto's plot depending on your location choices, and in either case you'd have some time to prepare before the really crazy shit starts going down. That's no longer the case. Kaguya has returned right now and is preparing to turn the world back into the illusionary paradise it once was. You'll have to fight and beat her at her peak strength almost as soon as your jump begins or else she'll kill and chainfail you. However if you're able to defeat her and then black her you can take her as a companion on your chain.

Go Home

No you can't use Clanswoman and Eyes of the Moon to get the Mangekyou Sharingan, this jump is about Hinata. You can get the Tenseigan though.

Most of this jump assumes an interracial fetish but since jumpers tend to change races and species from jump to jump you can choose to resolve racial text in your favor. Cloud Nin perks will augment whatever your current race is in future jumps for example, you don't need to stay black for the entire chain to keep this jump's benefits.

Still a better jump than reddit could make.
