

Succubi's Supporter

Jump by dragonjek
Version 1.1

Welcome to yet another world that looks superficially similar to the Earth you may be familiar with, but that on closer inspection isn't quite the same. See, this world has managed to achieve world peace—not through any great diplomatic deeds or societal enlightenment on the part of humanity, but through the tireless work of the International Succubus Union. Although the first duty of the ISU is to represent succubi in politics, they have also achieved world peace by manipulating human rulers and organizations via sex.

Hm? Oh, yeah. Succubi exist in this world, by the way. Incubi, too. It used to be that they were like predators, finding humans and having their way with them freely... but the thing is, they've been at this for a very long time, and that's a LOT of opportunity to make half-breeds. As it is, the overwhelming majority of humanity is actually of succubus descent, which is a bad thing for the succubi.

The thing about humans was that their essence was delicious, to the point that it could overwhelm younger succubi—it was the most delicious dish, the most exquisite drug, the finest wine. But that's only pure humans. Part-succubus humans are much less appealing—they're less nutritious, and a connoisseur might even call them disgusting, but the truth is that succubi like sex so much that they still fuck all the time anyways, and quite happily at that.

Most younger succubi have never even experienced a real human at this point, but their bodies yearn for them all the same. And for a succubus old enough to remember pure humans, this desire is even worse, to the point that there's a concerted effort to find any pure-blooded humans who might remain.

You arrive in this world a week before the Sakuba sisters find Tadahiro Masato. You may arrive anywhere in the world that you wish. Have +1000 CP to ease your life in this world.

Race

Note that any race may be taken as a drop-in, but otherwise you'll have history in this world.

Human (Free):

You're a human being. You're probably familiar with this species by now—bipedal primates with only a light coating of hair, with opposable thumbs on their upper limbs. You are an average human—meaning that you've got quite a bit of succubus blood in you. If you want to be a pure-blooded human, you've got to take a perk for that. You can pick any age within the normal human range for free.

Succubus/Incubus (-100 CP):

You're a succubus! Or incubus, if you want. Your kind feast on the sexual essence of humans, absorbing their essence through sexual relations rather than consuming actual food. Not that you can't consume food—indeed, many succubi are forced to due to the lower nutritional value of impure human sexual essence. Draining essence is completely harmless to the humans involved, by the way.

Succubi and incubi have demonic-looking wings and tails, but such features just get in the way in the modern day, what with the power lines all around and people willing to shoot them out of the sky for entering restricted airspaces. As such, they use magic to hide their features. You have no particular magical abilities just for being a succubus, other than hiding your wings and tail; you need to train if you want to do more. Unless killed, you are immortal. You can freely pick your age, although you look like any age between 13 and 30.

Perks

Perks are discounted to their origin by 50%; discounted 100 CP perks are instead free.

General Perks

Only Skin Deep (Free):

Beauty might be only skin deep, but damn if you don't have a lot of it. You're very attractive, from your face to the size of your chest to the shape and size of your genitals. Everything about you looks like a dream come to life, and you exist at the peak of human attractiveness. If you want you can only have this affect parts of you, rather than all of you, such as if you'd like to have a normal appearance but the cock of a god.

Sexually Talented (Free):

Of course, it would be kind of a shame to go to a jump themed around succubi, only for you to be overshadowed by the sexual skills of the natives. That's why when it comes to sex, you can pick up on what to do five times faster. Finding out your partner's weak spots, learning new positions, training your sexual stamina, learning the habits of your partner... in no time at all, you'll be able to refine yourself into the perfect lover for whoever you're sleeping with.

Nudity is Fine for Beautiful People (-100 CP):

The more attractive you are—be it due to physical appearance or social status, such as being a pure-blooded human—the more acceptable other people find you being naked. Oh, this doesn't normalize it—people will still blush and stare and be aroused—but it does make it permissible, even from a legal standpoint, so no one will object if you go naked in the halls of an official organization or walk naked down the street.

Furthermore, because you being naked is acceptable, it must therefore make perfect sense that you performing sexual actions with others must also be acceptable, so doing lewd acts in public (with consenting partners!) is also perfectly fine for both you and whoever you're doing sexy stuff with.

Life and Welfare Expenses Covered (-200 CP):

No matter what job you get, your basic life and welfare expenses will always be covered by your business, paying for your house payments, all your medical expenses, your various insurances, your vehicle, your food, your utilities... basically, you'll have no need to spend any money on the necessities of life, letting you save all your cash for things you enjoy.

But this coverage of life and welfare expenses also covers resurrection magic. If you die while having sex, you will be brought back to life for free and without failing your chain. So succubi can go at it with you as hard as they want without having to worry about you kicking the bucket from overwhelming pleasure.

If you die outside of sex, however, you only get one resurrection every 10 years (or once per jump, whichever comes first). Outside of this jump, you will simply be brought back to life, without the risks of whatever resurrection magic may or may not be present in the current setting.

Hm? What's that? You don't have a job? Well, that won't be a problem; no matter what qualifications you may or may not have, you will always be able to find a business that is willing to hire you if you just put yourself out there and look. It will always be conveniently located wherever you happen to be.

Human Perks

House Husband (-100 CP):

You excel at all manner of domestic tasks, from cleaning to laundry to cooking to just about anything else that needs to be done around the house. In fact, you're so good at them that they get completed in only 1/4th the amount of time they would normally take.

Interspecies Reproduction (-100 CP):

Much like how humans are able to reproduce with succubi, so too are you able to reproduce with other species. The species of your partner poses no difficulties in regards to causing a pregnancy. Furthermore, because many species can only be impregnated at certain times, you may optionally treat yourself or your partner as being fertile or "in heat" regardless of their actual fertility status, allowing you and your sex buddy to have a baby even if they are infertile, are only fertile at certain times of the year, or have certain irregular requirements to become fertile. As long as they're capable of sexual reproduction, you can impregnate them/be impregnated by them.

Getting Lucky... Not That Way! (-200 CP):

Sure, it takes skill and dedication to track genealogies to the point of finding a single pure-blooded human out of the mass of billions of part-succubi. But it takes equally as much luck to be found... at least, when it's something beneficial to you. Whenever people are looking for someone with specific traits that you have, and their intentions would be beneficial to you (from your perspective), then they will experience preternatural luck in finding you, and will realize upon seeing you that you possess whatever traits it is that they're looking for.

Maybe this could even help you get lucky in the way you thought the perk name actually meant?

Showing Off the Goods (-200 CP):

Having a pure human was quite the status boon for the already-popular Sakuba sisters, and they were quite eager to show him off and share him with their fellow succubi. It seems like your lovers are of the same opinion about you; they like to show you to others and brag about your sexual prowess, and love to see you prove your sexual prowess to others by fucking them.

Natural Resistance (-400 CP):

As humanity became more genetically intertwined with succubi, succubus powers and succubus aphrodisiacs started to affect them less and less. Sure, they didn't get any powers from it, but from an evolutionary standpoint having a resistance to the species that once preyed upon you is a delightful benefit. One you now benefit from. So long as you have the genetic material of a species in your biological makeup, you have a resistance to the powers of that race. If you're a dragon and meet a dragon, you'd be effectively immune to all their racial powers; if you're half-succubus and meet a succubus, you'd have a 50% resistance to their demonic abilities; if you have a grafted arm from a mind flayer and meet one, you'd still have a resistance to their mental powers.

Welcome to JUMPER'S Fanclub (-400 CP):

You sure seem to be popular! Just like it didn't take Makoto long for the images of his dick to go viral on Succubus-Twitter, something about you just seems to attract the interest and attention of others. Pictures of you spread widely on the net, people who meet you tend to like you quite swiftly, and it is astonishingly easy for people to develop a crush on you. You could quickly develop a widespread fandom with this, or become an idol.

100% Pure Human (-600 CP):

You aren't a part-succubus anymore, you're a real human. Completely, full-fledged, one hundred percent human. Even if you very clearly aren't a human, you still qualify as being a human whenever it is beneficial to you. People can tell that you're a human upon seeing you, or a depiction of you; in this world, this will definitely attract succubi/incubi, but it may have uses on other worlds too. If you don't look like a human, people will ignore that fact and treat you as a human being anyway.

Being a human, you are naturally attractive to non-humans of sophont-level intellect, and creatures like monster girls will definitely thirst after you as long as you find them attractive in return, even in a setting where the monster girls aren't particularly lewd. You are likely to receive preferential treatment, especially in a world like this one.

Finally, you are absolutely delicious, even to other humans, but especially so to beings that consume sexual energy such as succubi. Your fluids, the taste of your crotch, your scent... fortunately, it isn't delicious in a way that inspires hunger, but lust.

You may toggle any or all of these effects on and off as you so desire.

Succubus/Incubus Perks

'Cubus Body (Free, Exclusive to Succubus/Incubus):

You're a succubus! Or an incubus. Your choice. To all outward appearances, you are indistinguishable from a particularly attractive human; you do, however, have the power to manifest a demonic-looking pair of wings and a tail, although they are inconvenient for day-to-day life and require special clothing. You have the potential to learn magic, as well. While you don't know any to start with apart from that needed to appear demonic, the presence of magic in your body increases your ability to resist succumbing to sexual pleasure, as well as your stamina.

You are now capable of feeding via sex; consuming the sexual fluids of someone else, or them consuming your sexual fluids, both qualify for purposes of producing the sexual energy that you harvest. The more fluids that are produced, the more sexual energy there is. Note that "consuming", in this case, just means that it gets inside the body somehow, not necessarily that it is orally consumed. You are capable of eating normal food, if you so wish, but even the finest dishes of the world's top 3 Michelin Star restaurants are nowhere near as tasty as sexual fluids and sexual energy are to you now. During this jump, impure humans won't taste as good, and pure succubi won't provide you any sexual energy at all; however, both of these limitations disappear once the jump is complete.

Finally, you may toggle your body fluids to be an aphrodisiac that grows more potent with age. They are highly flavorful, and their effects stack with other aphrodisiacs; furthermore, each individual succubus's fluids have a unique chemical makeup, allowing the fluids of multiple succubi to mix into a more intricate flavor with more potent effects. In addition to causing arousal sufficient to bypass the male refractory period, it also refreshes stamina, stimulates arousal, and in men causes the balls to magically produce more cum. This production is strong enough that from a single kiss, a man might be able to cum 10 times before their refractory period kicks in. Bigger doses of fluids will have a stronger effect, and at high enough levels he could cum hundreds of times in a single sex session, or nut so hard in your ass that cum pours out of your mouth.

Succubi and incubi feel more pleasure than humans are capable of (without the use of aphrodisiacs, at least). It is only thanks to their magic that they are capable of functioning with working minds even in the depths of depraved sensations. But it isn't only their "normal" erogenous zones that are sensitive. 'Cubi have a sensitive spot in the throat that functions as a second g-spot, and their tongues are sensitive enough that they could be compared to the clitoris.

Finally, for humans the womb's sole purpose might be to produce children, but to succubi it is also another organ for sex. To start with, pressure against your womb is not painful, but very, very pleasant; additionally, the womb is capable of opening up relatively easily to allow access and pleasant penetration for a partner. Your womb also has the sensation of taste. Incubi are instead capable of safely and pleasurably penetrating the womb of any partner they may have.

Tracking Genealogies (-100 CP):

It's not easy to look through the entire population of humanity to find the scant handful of people who are still pure-blooded humans. It takes time, dedication, and luck... or maybe just this perk. You are supernaturally fortunate when it comes to tracking lineages, and will somehow be able to piece together accurate information to track someone's ancestry back hundreds of generations (as long as some sort of record-keeping exists; this won't help you if you go to a jump that hasn't invented writing yet). This also comes with a lot of skill and knowledge regarding genealogy. You can even track the presence of specific traits in a bloodline, such as finding everyone in a given family history who happens to have had black hair.

Woes of a Mother (-200 CP):

Sure, it should be every parent's goal to have children who are even more successful than they are. But still, any parent wishes to be looked up to by their children, which is kind of hard when they're just too amazing.

Your children, and all your descendants, will always be exceptional. They will be smarter, luckier, stronger, more beautiful, and more sexually impressive than their peers, and will additionally inherit any perks you may have had that would let them excel in these areas. They are destined to have amazing, successful lives, and as long as they devote even a smidgen of effort to it are effectively guaranteed to become wealthy and popular, without losing themselves to fame and fortune.

But no matter how great they become, even if they overshadow you, your descendants will never stop looking up to and admiring you. No matter what you need in life, they will always be willing to provide it.

Only as Old as You Feel (-200 CP):

Shitone might have been more than 400 years old, but she flip-flopped constantly between demanding to be treated as an adult, and demanding to be treated as a kid. Well, you won't have to make those demands, because people will always treat you like the age you want to be. If you want to be treated like a kid, people will let you get away with things that only kids could get away with, or let you benefit from child-exclusive meal deals. If you prefer to be treated as an adult, then even if you appeared to be a child people would still give you all the respect given to a grown-up.

I Only Do What I Want (-400 CP):

It's rare for a succubus of any import to do anything other than what they're interested in, which makes you wonder how rich and successful succubi become rich and successful in the first place. Maybe this perk has an answer for you? Somehow, just fulfilling your hobbies will result in you making money. If you like playing games, you might become an unusually popular streamer. If you like writing, your stories will explode in popularity. If you just want to laze about and read, you might stumble into a job as a bizarrely popular literary critic. No matter what your hobbies are, you will find a way to make money off of it, and you will somehow become very successful in that regard, enough so that you could easily make a living off of it, and even wind up on the lower side of being rich.

World Peace (-400 CP):

You've taken lessons from Lena Brooklyn, President of the International Succubus Union, and know how to use sex as a tool to control others. Once exposed to the pleasure you can bring, people become more pliable and easily manipulated. Ride them long enough, and even the greediest politician could be convinced to make a vote that benefits the majority over themselves.

But this doesn't only apply to sex you have, but also that other people perform on your behalf. You could have an entire unit of succubi out there seducing their way through would-be-dictators' armies, and once you withdraw them, those once-loyal soldiers would do anything to experience that pleasure again.

This is the tool the International Succubus Union used to bring world peace. Don't underestimate the negotiating power of getting someone addicted to supernaturally good sex.

Magic (-600 CP):

You have fully unlocked your potential for magic, and know a wide variety of spells. But this isn't combat magic—rather, the spells are there to make life, and especially sex, easier and more convenient. You can charm other people to increase their arousal and physical attraction towards you. You could reshape objects, such as to create a dildo or make a wall grow an opening to make a spontaneous gloryhole. You can cast contraceptive spells. You have spells to direct people's attention away from something so that people let you have sex in public without interrupting... and you could repurpose those spells to selectively let people pay attention, such as if you wanted to ship a package overseas without attracting undue notice, but still wanted it to be delivered where it needs to go. You're even capable of resurrecting the dead; if they died during sex you can revive them freely, but if they died due to other causes then you can only resurrect any given individual once per decade.

Items

You have a single 50% discount for one item of each price tier, except for 100 CP; instead, you receive a single such item for free. If an item is lost or destroyed, it will be returned to your Warehouse after a week.

Cosplay Wardrobe (-100 CP):

Just having sex is plenty of fun on its own, but sometimes it can be exciting to spice things up in the bedroom. There are a lot of ways to do that, but these cosplay outfits are a quick and easy method. This is a wardrobe that will seamlessly attach itself to any bedroom you sleep in, and contains a seemingly infinite amount of clothing, all themed towards different cosplays, from generic “sexy cheerleader” and “sexy nurse” uniforms, to outfits designed after specific characters. It’s always easy to sort through, and you’ll be able to find your desired outfit after only a few moments of searching.

Commemorative Photos (-100 CP):

For every appreciable sexual milestone you reach in each jump, you receive a photo of yourself to celebrate your accomplishment. For instance, jacking off a thousand dicks would get you a picture, but so would jacking off a hundred, or ten thousand.

Business Cards (-100 CP):

Whenever you reach into your pocket, you’ll be able to draw out a fresh business card. This card will be imprinted with whatever information most suits the situation. If you have multiple jobs, your card will include the contact information for the relevant business; if you’re pretending to be someone else, the card will have information suitable to your persona.

Succubus-Twitter (-200 CP):

Succubus-Twitter is the world’s thirstiest website, and you have access to it now, even if you yourself aren’t a suc/incubus. It’s... well, it’s really just Twitter with more sex. But the important part isn’t the website itself, but rather the succubi and incubi that come with it. By purchasing this item, at the beginning of each jump you can choose to fill the world with the succubi and incubi of Succubi’s Supporter, who will smoothly integrate into the setting’s history. These aren’t followers, and don't come with you on your chain, instead being an adjustment to the nature and backstory of each individual jump.

Man-Sized Box (-200 CP):

This is a large, sturdy box, filled with packing peanuts and large enough for a full-grown human to sit inside it. The packing peanuts are enchanted to keep the person shoved into the box in a form of stasis until the box is opened. Once the lid is closed, a variety of subtle spells come into play to keep other people from being interested in what is inside the box. As a result, this would let you ship a human being via the mail to the other side of the world without resulting in any legal problems. After using this box, a new one will appear in your Cosmic Warehouse after a day.

Convention Center (-400 CP):

This is a large building suitable for hosting a convention. Whenever you desire, you can make this site the host of a convention, of any kind you want. Simply pick out a date and a topic, and people and businesses will show up of their own accord to create a full-fledged, functioning convention out of it. Don't want an entire convention? Just label it as an "event", and you can get a smaller-scale, more focused gathering. You could make anything the topic of the convention, and people will show up to attend it. You could even make the topic yourself, and even if you weren't famous in-universe, the convention attendees would treat you as though you were.

But what's special about this convention is that you can toggle it to be SFW or NSFW, as you desire. Want to wow a bunch of people with your accomplishments? Sure. Want to switch over to entire crowds of people lining up to give you a blowjob? Absolutely possible.

'Cubus Cadre (-400 CP):

This is an elite group of well-trained succubi and incubi from the International Succubus Union, consisting of two hundred of each, here to serve as your followers. Each is highly educated not only in the finest sex techniques, but also in negotiation, diplomacy, international relations, foreign affairs, and a host of other skills that would prove useful in managing world leaders.

They're all expert manipulators, and wholeheartedly devoted to serving your interests, whether that's to convince nations that they need to follow your will, or just to try to keep countries from going to war or making inhumane policies. Each one is considered a diplomat, and is protected by diplomatic immunity.

Mansion (-400 CP):

You have a lovely mansion with plenty of space, even if it's located someplace as cramped for free room as Japan is. Somehow, the mansion is always kept clean and orderly, with everything perfectly sorted in a way that you can intuitively understand the location of what you're looking for. As you invite people to stay in the mansion, the inside of the building will expand while maintaining its outside dimensions, allowing for more people to live inside that should actually be possible.

Companions

Import/Create Companion (-100 CP):

You may import an existing companion or create a new one from scratch; each companion gains 600 CP to spend on origin, perks, and items. If you create a new companion, you can freely decide their appearance, behavior, history, and personality. If you want more than one companion you may purchase this multiple times; however, for 300 CP you may purchase an entire set of 8 companions in one go.

Recruitment (Free):

If you meet someone in this world and want to take them with you on your jumpchain, all you have to do is convince them to go along with you.

Drawbacks

Aphrodisiac Overdose (+100 CP):

Seems like you've had too much of 'cubus saliva... and might have had an allergic reaction to it or something. Your body is producing more sexual fluids than normal—so much so that you are constantly emitting a small amount of it. This won't have a negative effect on your health, nor require you to drink more fluids than normal, but it will be inconvenient to have to clean cum from your clothing all the time, to say nothing of how it will affect your social life.

Can't Keep Going (+100 CP):

Unfortunately, you have a perfectly ordinary degree of sexual stamina, and no degree of aphrodisiacs are able to fix that. You can't produce cum in vast quantities, and can't keep up with a succubus/incubus in sex. If you have one of that race as a partner, they will never be able to be satisfied by sex with you because you'll get worn out too fast.

"All you can see in these is my dick!" (+100 CP):

People just don't give you very much respect. Or rather, all the respect they might have for you as a person, is instead directed at your genitals. If you get your picture taken, expect to have your crotch be the center of the photo. When people talk to you, they'll look at your pants. People tend to act like you're little more than the person who carries your privates around.

Semen-Drunk (+100 CP):

The taste of sexual fluids gets you tipsy, like slamming back a few too many beers at the bar. Eventually, you'll devolve into a completely slovenly drunk. At least you can be assured that you aren't a sad drunk, as you'll be completely focused on fucking. But you might not remember everything in the morning... although you won't have a hangover, so it's not all bad?

An Unfortunate Condition (+100 CP):

Normally, a young succubus ages normally until they reach adulthood, and then their aging ceases. However, there is a certain rare condition wherein a succubus stops aging earlier, resulting in them being perpetually caught in a teenage body regardless of how old they grow. Your appearance is now that of a 13-year-old, even if your mind is that of an adult. People will treat you like you're the age you appear to be, so expect to be excluded from a lot of the good parts of being an adult. Oh, but this doesn't excuse you from the responsibilities of being grown-up. You still have to deal with those.

"Those kids are just too outstanding" (+200 CP):

No matter what you do in life, your accomplishments will always be overshadowed by those close to you. Other people will get rich and successful, and if you have wealth yourself, it will always be greater than yours. If you discover a permanent vaccine against the common cold, someone you know will have cured cancer. Everything you do will be surpassed by other people. No one will ever hold this over your head, but you will always keenly feel the sensation of always being second rate.

Responsibilities (+200 CP):

A lot is riding on you, you know. That's why it's up to you to be the responsible one. Regardless of your wealth, during this jump you are going to be working a full-time job; you'll be required to put in at least 8 hours of work a day, 6 days a week. And that's before taking into account how much overtime work projects may demand of you. You will always be acutely aware of the responsibilities you have towards others, and will feel a powerful urge to live up to them, putting your own pleasure on the backline for the sake of others.

Masochist (+200 CP):

It's pretty simple, really. You're incapable of reaching orgasm unless pain is involved in sex. As time goes on, you'll slowly require more and more pain to get your rocks off, although it will never reach the point of requiring actual injury.

Demon Body Decade (+300 CP):

Demon Body Day is a day that comes along every few decades where a succubus's or incubus's body is drained of all magical power. This happens for them to refresh and purify their magical energies... but that doesn't really matter. What matters is that without magic in their bodies, they have both enhanced senses, and are reduced to a human level of being able to withstand sexual pleasure. That means that 'cubi are extremely sexually vulnerable during this time period.

Well, guess what? Not only are all your powers and items from previous jumps sealed away (as are your companions'), but you don't have any of the magic from this world, either, capturing you in a Demon Body "Day" for the next decade. If you're a human, this reduces you to a normal human (well, a normal human with your Body Mod), but if you're a succubus... well, at least you're going to experience new sexual highs you never before imagined? That's worth something, right? This is worth an extra +100 CP to succubi and incubi.

Finale

Well, you've had another ten years in this world. Hopefully you enjoyed your debauchery? Regardless of if you did or didn't, the time has come to make your next choice. All drawbacks are lifted from you, and any influences that might affect your decision-making, such as drugs or charm effects, are purged. You know, the usual.

Stay in this world:

It isn't so bad here, is it? Your chain ends.

Go back home:

You return to the world from whence you came. Your chain ends.

Continue to next jump:

Time to pick someplace new to go. Your chain continues.

Notes

Technically speaking, the manga never talks about sexual essence, and really just focuses on consuming semen. However, incubi do get a brief appearance, and it doesn't make sense for them to also survive off of eating cum in a het-focused hentai, so I felt it was an appropriate inference to make. If you disagree with that, feel free to ignore it and make succubi/incubi a species of cum-guzzlers.
